PERSONAL NOTES.

Mrs. W. W. Weed of Canby was in Oregon City last Friday.

Rev. Gilman Parker made a business trip to Baker City Monday.

Miss Sue Allen, of Salem, is visiting Mrs. Ellen F. Martin for a few days.

John Baker, the well-known Molalla road wood contractor, was in the city Tuesday.

Mrs. J. W. Morrill, of Salem is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Brooks in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Oliver, of Portland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley last Sunday.

Deputy County Clerk E. E. Martin and wife spent Sunday in Canby with Mrs. Martin's parents.

Frank A. Turner, of Salem, deputy county clerk for Marion county, was in the city on business Saturday.

E. T. White, a prominent farmer of Damascus, was in Oregon City Wednesday and says crop prospects are all good.

Mr. Wright Howes and Miss Olivia Mann of Portland visited with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Kellogg in Canemah Sunday.

John E. Murphy, the Salem drain tile manufacturer, was in Oregon City the first of the week looking after business in his line.

E. J. Garrow left last week for Sissons, California, where he has been employed for the last two years as superintendent of a large sawmill.

Webster Holmes, one of the rising young attorneys of the capital city, was in the city transacting business in the circuit court Saturday.

Thomas Kay, general manager of the Kay woolen mills at Salem, was in the city Monday giving expert testimony in the woolen mill damage suit.

Albert Grilley, acting secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and John Roberts, both of Salem, were in the city this week to see some of our native beauties.

Mrs. M. A. Stratton, of Portland was in Oregon City Wednesday and Thursday looking after business matters and visiting among her many friends.

Henry Kleinsmith, postmaster at Clarke, and the owner of a large farm at that place as well as of a feed mill, was in Oregon City Tuesday.

Mrs. I. V. Trullinger and Miss Della Glover of Union Mills were in the city the first part of the week, the guests of their sister, Mrs. H. S. Gibson.

Mrs. H. M. Westvelt of Portland, a sister of Mrs. W. R. Reddick, has moved to Oregon City and is living in the Harding cottage, corner Main and Thirteenth streets.

James Wells and R. S. Jenkins left last Monday for Skamania, Washington, where they will develop a gold mine they located last summer that promises rich returns.

K. L. Sabin, a prominent lawyer of Portland and secretary of the Oregon Merchant's Protective association, was in Oregon City Thursday on business before the circuit court.

Mrs. A. Fuller, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Harding, for some time, left for her home in California, Tuesday evening accompanied by her two children.

Ex-County Assessor John Bradley, who has been out at his farm in Boring precinct for several weeks, came in Saturday to visit his family and enjoy a brief respite from his granger labors.

R. G. Pierce returned Thursday evening from the Lillooet mining district in British Columbia, 300 miles from Vancouver up the Fraser river. Mr. Pierce went to settle up his brother's estate.

Marion Johnson, of Clackamas, accompanied by his son Frank, left Monday for Nestucca, where they have a flock of 500 sheep requiring their attention. They expect to be absent until August.

George Hamilton, of the Red Front store, in company with Wm. Lynn, will leave in a short time for Southern Oregon to try a new gold saving machine, warranted to save all the fine gold in placer mining.

James Evans, a farmer and fruit raiser of Canby, was in Oregon City Wednesday. Mr. Evans has a fine peach orchard and says the prospects for a large yield of this luscious fruit are most excellent.

O. H. Cone of Butteville was in Oregon City Tuesday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dye. Mr. Cone is one of the early pioneers of Oregon, it being 50 years ago tomorrow, Saturday, since he left his Iowa home to make a new one in the wilds of the northwest. Notwithstanding his advanced age Mr. Cone is enjoying good health and is far more active than many men of younger years.

Jon. Kuersten, of Oregon City, formerly connected with the soap factory in Salem and now representing a similar industry of the falls city on the road, was a Salem visitor yesterday afternoon.—Statesman.

Capt. J. W. Exon, the well-known commission merchant of Dayton, was in Oregon City Wednesday, to receive a consignment of hay from California which he had ordered to supply his Oregon City customers.

E. Dodge, of Liberal was in town Saturday to take out machinery for a new shingle mill he is erecting at that place. He has quite a quantity of cedar on hand and can float any quantity of it down the Molalla to his mill.

Bishop B. R. Jones of Chicago, was in the city the first of the week, the guest of Rev. C. A. Willey. He left Tuesday afternoon for Sunnyside to attend the state conference of the Free Methodist denomination now in session there.

Rev. J. T. Huff, of Oysterville, Washington, who was pastor of the Baptist church in Oregon City from 1875 to 1880, was in the city last week. Rev. Huff made many friends during his pastorate here who were glad to greet him again.

Ed. Maple left last Thursday for Lebanon to attend the district Epworth League convention. He returned Monday and reports a good convention and is well pleased with the treatment accorded the delegates by the people of Lebanon.

Hon. E. W. Chapman, of Brooks, was in the city Friday and Saturday a witness before the circuit court. Mr. Chapman was a member of the late legislature and was one of the men who tried to organize the house and is very severe in his denunciation of the hold-outs.

Uncle Billy Barlow, of Barlow, was in the city Monday. Mr. Barlow says the acreage of fall wheat is smaller than usual this season but the outlook for a large yield excellent. The hop and fruit crop also promise well and that the farmers are on the highway to prosperity.

Jas. Shaw, manager of the Dallas woolen mill was in Oregon City to give testimony as an expert in the damage suit against the Oregon City woolen mills. Mr. Shaw says that his mill is doing a good business and that they have received flattering commendations as to the quality of goods sent out.

Mrs. Sarah Paquet accompanied by her daughter Florence, and son Victor, will arrive home tomorrow (Saturday) from California. Mrs. Paquet spent the winter in Phoenix, Arizona, but for the last six weeks she has been in California. Miss Florence, for whose health the trip was undertaken has made some gains but not so much as was hoped for.

Mrs. Mary Edmunds, of Clark county, Washington, arrived in Oregon City Wednesday to make an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. W. Carey Johnson and to avail herself of medical treatment, having been ill for some months past. Mrs. Edmunds, nee Miss DeVore, was a former resident of this city and one of our most successful school teachers.

Richard Scott of Milwaukee was in Oregon City Thursday. In regard to the report that he is a candidate for grand master at the next session of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows against Ex-Mayor Claude Gatch, of Salem, Mr. Scott states that he has had no idea of seeking this high honor, especially in view of the fact that Mr. Gatch is entitled to it by the custom of the order, besides Mr. Gatch is a personal friend of his and he should heartily support him for the office.

Charles E. Porter returned Sunday from the John Day country in Eastern Oregon. Mr. Porter has been engaged in the flouring mill business at Prairie City, which he recently sold and is now interested in the telephone business, as general manager of the lines in Baker City, his mission here being the purchase of phones for the extension of lines into the mining districts. Mr. Porter reports times good, money plentiful and the outlook for the future very bright in his section of the country.

J. W. Stewart, formerly in the mercantile business here but now located in Chicago, was in Oregon City during the week. Mr. Stewart is the Western agent for a large Philadelphia manufacturing concern and his business calls him all over the Middle and Western states. He says that business is not only improving but that the outlook for the future is bright and that he anticipates an unusually good fall trade. Business in Idaho and Montana is very brisk, caused principally by the mining industries there.

Judge Galloway is an enthusiastic disciple of Isaac Walton and on a recent morning, after purchasing several pounds of salmon eggs, a gross or so of flies and any quantity of plain hooks and other paraphernalia used in capturing the wary trout, enough in fact to stock a country store, departed, in company with his wife, for Clear creek, having promised his friends, and they are legion, a mess of the speckled beauties for breakfast next day. When they reached the stream the Judge lugged his basket of bait to a nice shady spot, got his rod and line in readiness and found to his surprise he had left his hooks at home. Bent pins and other boyish devices used with success in his boyhood days were unavailing, although the stream was literally full of fish. The Judge says the road was very long and rough coming home.
