THE WAY PRESIDENTS ARE MADE.—Many of the great men that have been known to this country have come up from the ranks of the common people and most of them owed their start to the self-sacrifice made by a mother, whose confidence in her boy was as unbounded as was her willingness to undergo all manner of hardships that he might have the advantages he so sorely needed. A most pathetic incident has come to the notice of the ENTERPRISE of the effort a little farmer boy of Clackamas county is making to attain an education and of the labor and trials his mother is undergoing to help her boy. This boy, as was reported by the lady, at whose house in this city the boy and mother called, was about 11 or 12 years of age had advanced so far in his studies at school that he required more books, and not having the money to purchase them, it was quit school or devise some way to get the needed books. It was then that his mother came to his help. Though they live on a bit of land six miles out in the country which yields them but a scanty income, she determined that the books should be had, and having a small flock of chickens, nine of them were caught and having no team to haul them, the mother took six and the boy three and they set off for Oregon City to carry their load to market, over the six miles of muddy roads, for the incident took place some weeks ago while the roads were yet muddy. Arriving in the city the chickens were peddled off at the private houses for cash, for the merchants were only paying in trade for poultry, and with the money the coveted books were purchased, and mother and son, tired, but full of hope, set off for their little home with the assurance that once more the boy could undertake his work of gaining an education. That this little fellow, should nothing befall him, will yet make something of himself is easy to predict and his name may yet be among those whom Americans will be proud to honor as one worthy of the highest gift of the nation.

FINE STOCK.—Solomon Glick, a progressive young farmer of Clark, has found that it costs no more to raise and care for fine stock than it does for scrubs and is getting the finest stock obtainable for his farm. Last week he received from Ohio a pair of pigs of the celebrated Ohio Improved Chester breed which cost him $40. He already had a pair of these hogs which he received last fall from the same place costing him over $60. The Chester is a large, rapidly growing hog of a white color and requires comparatively little feeding to attain a large size at an early age and are a great improvement over the hogs raised by many of the farmers throughout the state. If we had more progressive farmers like Mr. Glick there would be greater prosperity and fewer mortgage farms in the country.

AMERICA'S VOLUNTEERS.—Ballington Booth's volunteers, the American part of the Salvation army, were in Oregon City Monday. The company consists of a lieutenant and a regimental brass band of ten pieces. The musicians wear a gray uniform with gray felt hat and the lieutenant wears dark blue. They are making a tour of the principal towns of the state to introduce their work and will be followed later by a detachment of organizers, who will organize camps of Volunteers in the different cities.

RIVER HOODLUMS.—Complaint is made that the fishermen engaged in fishing in the Willamette abreast of the town have of late been making a decided nuisance of themselves. In the early evening when they go out to lay their nets they indulge in all manner of coarse and obscene language, that is spoken in such a loud voice that they are plainly heard in all the residences along the river front. As there are many people promenading along the river front and on the suspension bridge, these evening displays of billingsgate by the fishermen is very annoying, especially to the ladies. Again on returning to town in the early morning hours these hoodlums wake up all residents of the river front with their yelling and loud singing. It will be just as well for these fishermen to respect the rights of other people and to go quietly about their work for unless they do, steps will be taken to see that they obey the law and conduct themselves as self-respecting men should.

GOKE WHERE THE WOODEN TWINKLE.
 —F. D. Bruce, an erst while lawyer, real estate and all-around confidence man who had a brief business career in this city closing it with a two-year term in the Oregon penitentiary, has lately been operating in Butte, Montana, from which place he recently left, for pastures new, by the light of the moon. A Butte paper recently received by Postmaster Green devotes a column to the misdoings of this scoundrel who should be locked up on general principles. According to this paper Bruce has lately completed a two-year term in the Idaho penitentiary and left a record behind him in Butte that will give him another term behind the walls if the authorities succeed in gathering him in.

A MCKINLEY HEN.—Frank Baker, of the West Side, has a hen that seems to be thoroughly imbued with the fact that prosperity is returning to this land of ours and is doing what she can to hasten its coming. She not only lays every day but since McKinley's election her eggs have increased very perceptibly in size. Mr. Baker left one at this office the other day that measured 8 7/16 inches one way and 7 1/16 inches the other and weighed just five ounces. The calamity howler who would demand more in the line of hen prosperity than this good hen is doing deserves to live on ham straight without an egg to grace his plate.

Oregon City Talent Recognized.
 Col. Robert A. Miller has accepted an invitation to deliver an address before the annual meeting of the "Native Sons and Daughters of Oregon" at Brownsville on the 11th of June. Colonel Miller is a native Oregonian in the truest sense of the word, having been born in Lane county, raised in Jackson county, educated in Marion county, initiated into business in Multnomah county and is now an honored resident of Clackamas county. He is eminently qualified to do himself proud on this occasion.

Hon. George C. Brownell will deliver the oration at Silverton on Memorial day, in accordance with the request of the people of that town. Mr. Brownell is one of the most gifted orators in the state and his address on this occasion will be in accord with the sentiment of the day.

Mr. A. S. Dresser will respond to the invitation from General Rusk Post, No. 59, G. A. R., of Hubbard, to deliver the Memorial address at that place on Monday, the 31st inst. Mr. Dresser is a logical and interesting speaker and will talk along the lines of the cost of building a country like ours, the effect of the war, the great work of the Grand Army and duties of American citizens generally.

 For sale by C. G. Huntley, druggist

Four Famous Characters in Fiction.
 Charles Dana Gibson has made a great hit with his Dickens illustrations in The Ladies' Home Journal. In the June number we have a rare opportunity of seeing what a great illustrator can do in one picture with four famous characters in fiction. Mr. Gibson presents Mr. and Mrs. Micawber, David Copperfield and Traddles. The long, quaint curls of Mrs. Micawber, and the characteristic of her gloved hands as she "lays the case" before David Copperfield, have been admirably caught by the artist. Mr. Micawber, self-poised and satisfied, wears a calm judicial expression as he balances his glass in his hand.

The statement made many years ago that "man cannot live by bread alone" is as true as it ever was—he must have a nice juicy steak or a roast of meat to go with it. Richard Petzold is always ready to furnish his customers with the best of fresh and smoked meats at either his Main or Seventh street market.

You run no risk. All druggists guarantee Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic to do all that the manufacturers claim for it. Warranted no cure, no pay. There are many imitations. To get the genuine ask for Grove's. For sale by C. G. Huntley.
