MEMORIAL DAY.

Arrangements for its observance are completed.

What more fitting tribute of respect can be shown the dead, than for our citizens to meet, and amid solemn and impressive ceremonies, march to the silent city and lay the floral tribute of loving hearts on the graves of our lamented dead. It must be a busy world indeed to him who cannot for one short day in all the year, lay aside the implements of toil or the cares of business and spend a short time in sacred remembrance of those dear one whose clay rests beneath the sod in the silent city of the dead. Decoration day will outlive the gray-haired veterans who now, by common consent conduct its beautiful ceremonies—it will die only when love of country dies, and the fabric of the republic crumbles. To scatter flowers upon their graves and care for their loved ones, is all that we can do for the men who have done so much more than that for us. When we shall cease to do that out of the warm gratitude of our hearts, the republic will not deserve to exist as a nation.

The details for the observance of Memorial day in this city have all been arranged. Members of Meade Post and of the Relief Corps will visit Parkplace school this (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock and at 1 p. m. the two schools in this city, making appropriate short talks to the pupils at each place. Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock Father Hillebrand will preach the Memorial sermon in Shively's opera house.

Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock the children of the public schools will be given a reception at Willamette hall, which will include a number of short talks by prominent G. A. R. men.

At 10:30 the procession will be formed under the direction of grand marshal Captain Fielding S. Kelly and aids, and proceed to the cemetery, where Capt. S. B. Ormsby, post department commander, will deliver the oration of the day and Judge Wm. Galloway an address on the "unknown dead."

All our business men should close their stores Monday, at least during the exercises and as far as possible decorate their places of business, out of respect to the living as well as to the honored dead.

The cemetery has been nicely fixed up by the city council, which has stimulated private lot owners to beautify their lots also. Our cemetery is now something to be proud of and never was in such good condition before.

Below are appended the official orders promulgated by Post Commander L. M. Moore and Grand Marshal F. S. Kelly:

Headquarters Meade Post, No. 2, Department of Oregon, G. A. R., May 23, 1897.

For the information and guidance of the public during the services to be observed on Monday, May 31, the following will be the order in part:

All schools that desire to take part in the exercises at Willamette hall will with flowers be ready to march at such time as to reach the hall by 9:30 a. m. sharp. The grand marshal and aids will furnish escort to the schools. The exercises at the hall will consist of short addresses, after which the schools will be dismissed. The public is requested to send flowers to the hall for decorating at the cemetery. The column will form on Main street, the right resting on Fifth and will move promptly at 10:30 a. m. marching to the head of Main street, thence counter march back to Tenth, thence to the cemetery. It is requested that all places of business and residences along line of march be decorated with flags or bunting.

M. L. MOORE, Post Commander.

The Marketing Point OF CLACKAMAS COUNTY

The factory towns of the East are noted for affording the best market to the neighboring farmers and gardeners in proportion to the population of any of the towns in that section. The reason for this is that the people of these towns have a fixed income upon which they can always depend, and, as a consequence, they are liberal buyers, paying cash for all their purchases.

OREGON CITY.

Is Coming to be One of the Best Marketing Towns in the State

This is proven every day by the number of farmers, who are to be seen on its streets selling their produce, who, until just the last few years, sought the markets of other towns. The system of macadamized roads that is being built into all parts of Clackamas county, will enable all the people of this county to share in the profitable market that Oregon City affords. If, as it is sure to do, the demands of Oregon City increase in the next five years as it has in the past five years, this city will rank next to Portland as a market place for
