CORN HARVESTERS.

Homemade Machine That Will Cut About Five Acres Per Day.

Notwithstanding the fact that there are now on the market corn harvesters many reasons find himself at harvesting time without one of these patented machines. If he has much corn to cut, he may welcome the following concerning a homemade cutter from an Iowa corre-spondent of Farm, Field and Fireside. He writes:

We made one out of material on the place, and it does as good work as one that costs $20. Make a pair of runners out of 2 by 6 scantling or anything that will make a good water sled. The runners must be about 6 inches high at least—higher if your corn is tall and straight. Out them about six feet long. Now nail three 4 foot strips across the top—fence boards will do. Do not make it any narrower than four feet. Next cover this with boards, making a tight floor. Place the front crosspiece at least two feet from front of runners. Bore holes in front end of runners to hitch

Team must be hitched at least five feet from knife. Use a chain or smooth wire to fasten singletree to runners. Singletrees must be short ones. If you have a driver, it will have to be a man who can hold the lines out of the way of the operator, or a boy can ride. Now for the knives. Take two stack cutter knives; have them thin and sharp-not too thin, or they will turn on the edge. Make a hole in the center of the first crosspiece near the front edge. Bolt your knives firmly to this; then fasten the other ends to the runners. Give the knives slant enough to cut well. Be sure the knives fit closely at the intersection. Or if you wish to have a knife of one piece you can do so, but give it slant enough. See that the intersection will not always cut.

Place a seat to the right side of your platform near the front, so that you can reach the corn easily. Place a guard or brace for your feet. If you slip off in front, you are a goner sure. To keep your horse from backing into it while turning do not turn short; take a land. Drive a short rod in each runner in front of the knives, bore boles in a piece of timber and place it on these rods in front of the knives. When your horse backs on to this, he is safe. Place two removable standards on the left side to keep fodder from falling off. Take a to suit you, don't give up. You will have to get used to it. The operator reaches out and holds the corn against the knife, and as it cuts throws it back. When full, draw your standard, pull your rope and dump your load, or you can hold it in one arm till full; then get off and set up. Be very careful with I have everything to win and nothing the machines. They are very dangerous to lose." to operate if you are careless.

Homemade Corn Tie.

Take old elm barrel staves, cut them into four or five inch lengths and split them 11/4 inch wide. With a circular saw cut them diagonally near each end one-half or three-quarters of an inch. These fasteners can be made very fast, as no guide is needed. To use them put a quantity of them in a half bushel basket, a ball of binding twine and a knife. Wind the end of the twine once around the fastener in the notch, pass around the shock and draw it as hard as necessary. Wind the twine once around through the notch and cut it off. It is hand, as the twine will make it tender quicker than he can select the stalks for a band. Then if the corn is drawn in the barn for husking unwind one end, draw up the twine, and the shock is again snug and tight and can be husked without unbinding if desired. These pieces trifle at any shop, but any one having a foot power saw can make enough in two hours for ten acres of corn. When the stalks are fed, it is very easy to save the tres for another year. When to Sow Crimson Clover.

According to rules laid down by an agricultural writer in The American Cultivator, crimson clover ought to be sown broadcast at the rate of 12 to 15 pounds per acre in the north from July 15 to Oct. 15, in the northern tier of southern states until Oct. 15 and in the extreme south until the end of November. It grows during the fall and spring months and can be seeded among growing corn after the last working or on clean stubble, in tomato fields, among grapes, tobacco, etc., and will take root without being raked in or covered with soil. If the ground is moist, it spreads very rapidly. Probably the best way of seeding is to prepare the ground as for any other crop and lightly harrow in and roll the soil.

Corn For Fodder.

The Illinois experiment station some years ago made numerous experiments to determine the comparative merits of thick and thin planting of corn, and the conclusion reached was that the thicker the planting within reasonable limits the greater the amount of fodder, but that there was very little difference in the value of both combined. If the object is to get a liberal supply of fodder without much reference to ears, thick planting is advised.

NOW FOR RESULTS

An intense interest was created in this vicinity by the announcement in last week's issue, that a free package of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pitls would be given away to any person who would call and ask for it at C.G. Huntley's drug store.

This interest was shown by the unexpectedly numerous calls made at the above store. Many of the callers, who are suffers from kidney complaints, expressed their astonishment at the offer to make no charge for the samples. Heretofore, the practice of medicine proprietors is to require pay in advance, and let the afflicted take the chance of cure. The proprietors of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills are reversing this practice, preferring to exercise the golden rule of 'doing to others as they would be done

They believe, because it has been demonstrated in every instance, that if those affected with kidney troubles once try of the knives is at least two or more these pills, they will be convinced of inches from front and of platform, or it their merit, and get well by their use.

For this reason they made arrangements with Mr. Huntley, to freely distribute as many sample boxes as should be called for the commons.

Some of those calling for packages, have expressed themselves as follows:-"The science of medicine has certainly advanced when the proprietors of a remedy can stake so much upon a free and universal test of its merits," "The honest and straightforward manrope about ten feet long, fasten ends on left side and lay it over platform.

hope it will prove helpful." "Dr. Hobbs announcement that he has made a great discovery which will cure THE OUTBREAK OF THE CIVIL WAR. and build up the kidneys; and his offer to prove it free of charge is a novel proposition, and gives me great hope of relief." "This is certainly a fair proposition.

Many will be curious to know what are the results of the test of these pills A New York farmer, writing to Rural now going on in the neighborhood. It is a New Yorker, tells of a device for bind- little too soon to look for results, probing corn in shocks which he has found ably another week will make them to be much quicker and better than to known. If those getting the samples use stalks. He says: have faithfully followed the directions, they will be encouraged to perseyere in their use.

It is gratifying to learn that wherever similar distributions have taken place. there has followed a large sale of the remedy, and many letters of gratitude have been written by those who have regained lost health.

Every person who knows or suspects that his kidneys or urinary passages are affected: every person who has any of the following symptoms, should make a test paper of the world.

The Marketing Point____

OF CLACKAMAS COUNTY

The factory towns of the East are noted for affording the best market to the neighboring farmers and gardeners in proportion to the population of any of the towns in that section. The reason for this is that the people of these towns have a fixed income upon which they can always depend, and, as a consequence, they are liberal buyers, paying cash for all their purchases.

This is proven every day by the number of farmers, who are to be seen on its streets selling their produce, who, until just the last few years, sought the markets of other towns. The system of macadamized roads that is being built into all parts of Clackamas county, will enable all the people of this county to share in the profitable market that Oregon City affords.
