THE GOLD OF THE INCAS.

It is more than possible that the next great gold discoveries to follow that of Clondyke will be in Peru, that country whose riches in gold tempted the Spaniards to cross an unknown ocean and wage a war of conquest the like of which history furnishes few instances. That Peru at one time had great gold mines is proven by the immense quantities of this metal that the natives possessed at the time of the Spanish conquest, they being able to fill a large room full to the ceiling with gold ornaments and implements as the price to Pizarro for the liberty of their inca, Atahualpa, and who was put to death because the room was not filled the second time with the shining metal. There is every proof to show that when the Peruvians found that it was for their gold that led the Spaniards to oppress and enslave them that they covered up and hid all the mines they could, and so effectively did they do this that there is little doubt but what many of the richest were never re-discovered by the Spaniards.

For the last two hundred years there has been but little gold mining carried on in Peru for the Spaniards became too indolent to longer force the natives to delve in the mines and there has been scarcely any prospecting done for new mines, for outside of the more settled portions of the country the yet unconquered natives together with bands of bandits who infested the country made such work extremely dangerous. But in recent years these wild tribes have been subdued and law and order established to such a degree that it is comparatively safe to travel over the country. Now that it is possible for Americans and other foreigners to get into this country to prospect there is little doubt but what we shall soon hear of some rich discoveries being made. In the mountainous parts where the gold bearing formation exists the climate is salubrious and miners would have none of the hardships to endure that have to be undergone in the Clondyke region.

Reports from Alaska are not at all encouraging to those who expect to go to Clondyke this fall. In addition to the rigors of winter which sets in early in that inhospitable region, the Canadian government has added unexpected obstacles to the Clondyke tourists by stationing the mounted police at the pass and turning back all who are not well supplied with provisions. The list of blockaded prospectors at Dyea is further added to by the exorbitant duties which the Canadians levy on all outfits, and which leaves many men of limited means not enough money to proceed on their journey. To add to the miners troubles the Indian packers have raised their rates to 27 cents per pound and now have more freight piled up at Dyea than they can get across the mountains in a year. The best thing a man can do is to stay out of Alaska until spring.

One more populist official has gone wrong and what makes the case the more distressing is the fact that this patriot in the late campaign in this county, which resulted in enabling him to get his hand into the public crib, was one of the loudest to condemn republican rascality, alleging that were it not for the hoard of bootleggers and thieves within the republican party that he too would be a republican. By way of further showing his abhorrence of the evil hands into which the republican party had fallen, and to add to the attractiveness of the bait which he and his fellow populists held out to wavering republicans, he stated that he was yet a republican of the Lincoln and Garfield type and would go back into the old party's ranks again were the leaders as pure and incorruptible as they were in the days of these noble men. Shades of Washington! Will the passing of our populist officials close the list of truthful, honest office holders in this land of liberty?

The time was when our populist friends had much to say about the dishonesty of republican officials, but now since this pure and incorruptible party has come into power in different counties in this state as well as in several other states, and have had such a bitter and trying experience with defaulters, embezzlers and bootleggers within their own party, they have come to be very guarded and timid in their denunciation of republican transgressors—it requiring about all their time to apologize for their own thieves.

Within the last two weeks wheat has again advanced in price while silver has as steadily declined in price—a conclusive proof that the cost of production fixes the value of all commodities, Mr. Bryan to the contrary.

Mr. Charles A. Conant, of the New York Journal of Commerce, contributes to the American Monthly Review of Reviews for August an admirable exposition of the new tariff law. His article is intended to tell the business man what he may expect from the operation of the new schedules. So much of the newspaper discussion of the Dingley bill has been warped by partisanship that the ordinary citizen is at a loss to know the real animus of the measure or its probable bearings on individual and general interest. Mr. Conant writes with moderation and candor; his article is calculated to enlighten the public on a topic that requires first of all impartiality in treatment.

Death of Professor McClure.

S. Edgar McClure, professor of chemistry in the State university at Eugene and a member of the Mazamas' society that made the ascent of Mt. Rainer Tuesday, July 28, lost his footing while trying to find the pony trail down the mountain, which the party had lost in the darkness, and fell 300 feet, killing him instantly. When his body struck it bounded some 30 feet, nearly passing over the ledge, where it would have gone down the Cowitz glacier an indefinite distance and probably never have been found. His body was recovered the next morning, taken to Tacoma and later sent to Eugene for burial.

Prof. McClure gave a lecture during Chautauqua on the acetylene light on Thursday afternoon, July 15, at the Round table, which he demonstrated with apparatus. He was an enthusiastic class worker and Oregon City feels his loss keenly. He was a great favorite among the students at the State university and universally esteemed for his many sterling qualities. His death comes as a personal bereavement to hundreds of persons throughout the state.

The Mazamas held a meeting at Paradise park and passed fitting resolutions regarding the death of their deceased member, after which brief and impressive funeral services were conducted by Rev. Earl Wilbur of Portland, who was one of the party.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just what they need. Price fifty cents per bottle at Charman's & Co., druggist, Charman Bros. block.

To Prevent Forest Fires.

In order to prevent the destruction of the timber upon the public domain and especially upon the forest reserves, congress has lately passed very stringent laws regarding setting of fires upon public lands. Below is given the law in full as furnished the ENTERPRISE by Capt. S. B. Ormsby, supervisor of forest reserves for Oregon, and those who have occasion to build fires upon government land will do well to heed its requirements and thus save themselves from serious consequences, for it is Capt. Ormsby's intention to rigorously enforce its provisions.

AN ACT TO PREVENT FOREST FIRES ON THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That any person who shall wilfully or maliciously set on fire, any timber, underbrush, or grass upon the public domain, or shall carelessly or negligently leave or suffer fire to burn unattended near any timber or other inflammable material, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof in any district court of the United States having jurisdiction of the same, shall be fined in a sum not more than five thousand dollars or be imprisoned for a term of not more than two years, or both.

Sec. 2. That any person who shall build a camp fire, or other fire, in or near any forest, timber, or other inflammable material upon the public domain, shall, before breaking camp or leaving said fire, totally extinguish the same. Any person failing to do so shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof in any district court of the United States having jurisdiction of the same, shall be fined in a sum not more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned for a term of not more than one year, or both.

Sec. 3. That in all cases arising under this act the fines collected shall be paid into the public-school fund of the county in which the lands where the offense was committed are situate.

Approved, February 24, 1897.

YAQUINA BAY.

Its New Attractions—Deep Sea Fishing D. Lightful Summer Resort.

Greatly reduced rates are now in effect from Albany, Corvallis and all Southern Pacific points to Yaquina bay and Newport. It may be added that, in addition to its many natural advantages as a summer seaside resort, the Seaside Educational Association will open on August 2 at Newport, in the new auditorium built especially for this purpose, and continue in session for five weeks, thus affording to students, teachers and others a rare opportunity for combining study with pleasure. For full information as to its courses, etc., apply to Mr. S. G. Irvin, president of the association, Newport, Oregon.

The large and commodious tug "Resolute" is again in service on Yaquina bay and will take fishing and other parties to sea and return. The fare for the round trip is only 50 cents.

The Second Regiment band and orchestra has been engaged for the season, and will give daily concerts on the beach and furnish music for the evening hops. Every possible convenience has been arranged for the comfort of guests and the rates at the hotels are very reasonable.

For further information apply to any agent of the Southern Pacific Co., or Oregon Central & Eastern R. R. Co., or address

For Young Men and Young Women

There is nothing that will arouse the ire of a young man or woman so quick as to have inferior laundry work put off on them. They may dress ever so well, but if their shirt front or shirt waist is mussed their neat appearance is spoiled. The Troy laundry makes a specialty of ladies' and gentlemen's fine work. There can be no better work than is done at the Troy. Leave your orders at Farnsworth's arber shop.

WEEKLY The MONTHLY

Outlook

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY

13 Astor Place New York

THE OUTLOOK will be in 1897, as it has been during each of its twenty-seven years, a History of Our Own Times. In its various editorial departments THE OUTLOOK gives a compact review of the world's progress; it follows with care all the important philanthropic and industrial movements of the day; has a complete department of religious news; devotes much space to the interests of the home; reviews current literature; furnishes cheerful table-talk about men and things; and, in short, aims to give fresh information, original observation, and reasonable entertainment.

Beginning with the fifty-fifth volume, the paper will assume the regular magazine size, which will add greatly to its convenience and attractiveness. THE OUTLOOK is published every Saturday—fifty-two issues a year. The first issue in each month in an Illustrated Magazine Number, containing about twice as many pages as the ordinary issues, together with a large number of pictures.

The price of THE OUTLOOK is three dollars a year in advance, or less than a cent a day.

Send for a specimen copy and illustrated prospectus to THE OUTLOOK, 13 Astor Place, New York City.
