IT'S LIKE THIS?

If you've been able to save up a little money out of your earnings it is very discouraging to be compelled to use that little for the purpose of furnishing your house—you'd almost prefer going without the furniture, but you needn't do that. You can buy the furniture, carpets, stoves, crockery, etc., of us on credit. We won't charge you a penny more for them than you'd have to pay cash in any other store. Let your little pile of money stay right where it is. Get every thing you need of us—pay for it a little at a time weekly or monthly. No security asked.

BELLOMY & BUSCH

OUR KLONDIKE LETTER.

Difficulties of the Way—Avarice and Greed of the Elder's Crew.

The following letter was received from George Hamilton this week, written at Dyea just before the Oregon City party started to scale Chelcoot Pass: After a pleasant trip up the channel we arrived off Dyea Saturday, August 7, anchoring about 3 miles from the latter and 1 1/2 miles from the beach. The officers took a turn around the boat then they commenced to unload freight on a rocky hillside that would not have held one-tenth of the goods. This plan was soon abandoned and the freight was set off on rough, rocky, east sidehill two miles below where there was plenty of room. The officers and crew made themselves scarce but the passengers took hold with a will and the freight went out spinning from 1:30 to 10 p. m. and was arranged in piles of first initial alphabetically and sorted out afterward. Three of us commenced work again at 5 o'clock next morning and at 7:30 asked the mate if we were not entitled to a better breakfast than sturgeon fare. It was referred to the captain and that worthy declared that "sturgeon victuals were good enough" and thereupon ordered sturgeon hash served to all on board, and then there went up a howl from the cabin passengers who had been working like slaves discharging freight. Another hard day unloading and then comes the transfer to Dyea in boats costing $10 a ton.

Collins met an acquaintance who is making a stake transferring freight. We secured a boat from him and took our first load to head of navigation and across ferry about three miles beyond Dyea. The current is swift, one man in the boat to steer and the others used lines on shore. Our transfer charges are $13 for about 2600 pounds.

The weather is fine, we are in good spirits and expect our wheel to help us materially in our trip over the terrible Chilkoot pass.

Mrs. John Confer received a letter from her husband Monday from Skaguay dated August 9, in which he said he was well and had enjoyed the trip that far greatly. His party was to start over the White pass the next day. They were in good health and spirits and felt confident of making the trip successfully.

Teachers' Association

The August meeting of the Clackamas County Teachers' Association will be held at the Barclay school building in Oregon City, Saturday, August 28. - "Duties of Teachers, from the Standpoint of Directors"..... Led by Dr. W. E. Carll.
- Song....."Blest be The Tie That Binds"

A special invitation is extended to directors and patrons of schools to attend this meeting and take part in the discussions.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. D. Greeve, merchant of Chilhowie, Va. certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles; For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at Charman & Co.'s drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Books Cheap.

Everything required in the school room, books, slates, tablets, sponges, ink, pens, pencils, etc. at Daniel Williams, corner Seventh and Center streets. Full stock of nuts, candies, notions etc., fresh and of good quality. Sold at reasonable prices.

September Weather.

While the month of August has been a record breaker in the matter of long continued and excessively warm weather, no phenomenally hot or cold weather is anticipated for September, as the following data, covering a period of 25 years, which have been compiled from the Weather Bureau records at Portland, Oregon, will show

The normal temperature for the month of September for the past 25 years has been 61 deg. The warmest month on record during that time was that of 1888 with an average of 66 deg. The coldest month was that of 1895, the average temperature of which was 54 deg. The highest temperature was on the 11th inst. 1896, at which time the mercury registered 93 deg. The lowest was on the 21st inst., 1895, when the thermometer recorded 36 deg. The average rainfall for the month has been 1.75 inches. The average number of days with .01 of an inch or more, has been 8. The least monthly rainfall was 0 inches in 1873. The greatest amount of rainfall recorded in any 24 consecutive hours was 2.92 inches on the 10th inst., 1882. The average number of clear days during the month, 12; partly cloudy days, 10; cloudy days, 8. The prevailing winds have been from the northwest. The highest velocity of the wind was 35 miles per hour from the southwest on September 22, 1892.

In the Justice Court.

The case of Scott Bros. vs. Wm. Robinson and E. N. Wells was tried in Justice Schuebel's court Monday. The suit was to recover $16.56 for goods sold the defendants during the Chautauqua assembly, under the firm name of Robinson & Wells. Mr. Robinson disclaimed any connection with the firm and refused to be responsible for the bill. The cause was taken under advisement by the justice until Wednesday when he held that the partnership existed and that Robinson was equally liable with Wells for the amount sued for.

James Fay, a hobo, accused of committing sodomy on Walter Prudence, was given a hearing in Justice Schuebel's court Wednesday afternoon and bound over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $300, in default of which he languishes in jail. Walter Prudence, the complaining witness, was also held in the sum of $150 so as to be on hand when the grand jury meets. He will also spend the intervening time in jail. The state was represented by L. L. Porter and the defendant by Joseph Rice.

There is to be another entertainment down at Clackamas Saturday, with Justice Otto Genglebach as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Sarah Tillman has had her husband, Silas Tillman, arrested for pulling out her hair, beating her and otherwise mistreating her and the trial will take place Saturday at 10 a. m. G. B. Dinick will uphold the dignity of the state and act as special peacemaker should occasion require.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea.

In 1892 when I served my country as a private in company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERGER, Allentown, Pa. Sold by G. A. HARDING.

The Oregon Mining Journal.

The ENTERPRISE has received the midsummer, special edition of the Oregon Mining Journal, published at Grants Pass, by the Oregon Mining Journal Publishing Co. Among its many interesting features is a brief history of the mining district of Southern Oregon, giving the principal points of historical interest since its first discovery by Drake, to the present time. A description of the leading towns in the mining district follows, giving their situation, climate, products, resources, etc. The resources of the region are discussed at some length, and the industries of its people are enumerated.

An article on the geology of this portion of the state is contributed by C. B. Watson. A detailed account of the development and present condition of the mining industry, in the counties in the southern part of the state, is the leading article of the number and describes the different methods pursued in the several mines, giving illustrations and location, output, etc., of the principal diggings. Two short articles on Crater Lake and the Josephine caves are among the most interesting features of the number. The law applicable to mines, mining, and water rights is given in full in this issue, making the special edition of the Mining Journal, to all who have any intention of taking up a mining claim, of special interest.

The number is embellished with numerous engravings and is a splendidly gotten up magazine of 78 pages. It will be sent to any address for 25 cents. To a person contemplating mining in Southern Oregon this journal will be found of much assistance in the information it gives.

A Welcome Visitor.

The August number of The Gentleman Farmer magazine, published by the Brother Jonathan Publishing Company of Chicago, is a work of art. Its illustrations, over eighty in number, embracing everything from the fancies of childhood to the portraits of foreign kings and queens, are among the finest ever issued in magazine form. Among the leading illustrated articles are "A Heinous Crime," "The Fall of Greece," "Birds in their Relation to Agriculture," "Friends of the House," "A Girl from the West," "Agricultural Colleges of the United States," "The Face that Kills"—a story of city life,—and "The Harrisons, Past and Present," including excellent pictures of Mayor Harrison and family. The editorial and the children's departments are models of journalism. As the result of a rapidly increasing circulation, the subscription price has been reduced to One Dollar a year. The Gentleman Farmer magazine is the handsomest farm publication in America; it should be in every farm house in the land.

An Oregon Artist.

Prof. W. E. Rollins, who had charge of the art department at the recent Chautauqua assembly at Gladstone Park has painted a number of very fine pictures of Oregon and Washington scenery, which he has sent to New York, Boston and other Eastern points and which are received there with great favor, selling readily at high prices. Prof. Rollins' skill as an artist, together with the magnificent scenery displayed in Oregon and Washington, work together securing a first-class reputation for him, his work being fully up to that of the best scenic artists of the East. The Chautauqua assembly was fortunate in securing Prof. Rollins this year, as he is among the best of the artists the assembly has yet had.
