Deckhands Strike. The deckhands on the O. R. & N. Co.'s boats plying on the Willamette and Columbia rivers and all other boats in the combine declared a strike during the week, and all union men quit work. The object of the strikers was to secure a raise of wages of $5 per month, their former salary being $35. The steamer officials maintained that no trouble would be experienced in getting plenty of new hands to go on at $35 per month and the boats are now running in most cases with full complements of men, who are content to work for the established wages.

Money for Farmers. When it comes to buying harness, saddles, whips or robes the prices and work to be had at Willey's harness shop cannot be duplicated in Portland. Repairing done in good shape and promptly. Full line of shoes carried and sold at bed rock prices. Shoe repairing attended to. Willey's loungers and farmers hand made shoes have no superior. Call at his shop on Seventh street near the depot and see how big a dollars worth you can get.

Married. COWING-SMITH—At the residence of the groom's parents on Sixth street, Wednesday evening, August 25, 1897, Mr. Tom E. Cowing, Jr., and Miss Amy J. Smith, of Silverton, Rev. A. J. Montgomery officiating. The wedding was a very quiet one, only immediate relatives being present. The bride is the handsome youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Smith, of Silverton, and was prettily attired in white organdie. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cowing, and manager of the Western Union Telegraph office in this city, and held in high esteem for his many sterling qualities. The house was handsomely decorated for the occasion. After the ceremony the company sat down to a bountiful wedding dinner. The newly wedded couple will make their home with the groom's parents for the present.

HORNIG-KABOUREK—In this city on Saturday, August 21, 1897, in the office of the officiating justice, C. Schuebel, Miss Mary Ann Kabourek to Peter Hornig. The bride is the accomplished daughter of old and highly respected pioneer residents of Macksburg and the groom is an energetic young man of Sunset addition, where he has a nice house fitted up for his bride.

Resolutions. Resolutions of respect in behalf of brother Charles Chase, a member of Harding grange, P. of H., No. 122, who died August 1, 1897. Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to remove from our midst by death brother Chas. Chase, therefore, be it Resolved, That in his death Harding grange, P. of H., No. 122, has lost a respected member, the family an affectionate son and brother, and the community a respected citizen. Resolved, That the grange tender its sincere and fraternal sympathy to the bereaved family. Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for 30 days, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, to the North Pacific Farmer of Portland and the press of the county for publication; and that a page in the records of the grange be set apart with these resolutions inscribed thereon.

Resolutions of Condolence. Whereas, Through the immutable laws of an Allwise Providence, Bro. E. E. Williams and his wife, Elizabeth Williams, have suffered the loss of their infant son, whose taking away calls for the deepest regret, therefore be it Resolved, That Willamette Falls Camp, No. 148, Woodmen of the World, extend to the sorrowing parents their most sincere sympathy and condolence. L. L. PICKENS, C. M. BACON, H. A. PITTSINGER, Committee.

Whereas, Through the immutable laws of an Allwise Providence Bro. W. A. Hewitt and his wife have suffered the loss of their child, whose taking away calls for the deepest regret, therefore be it Resolved, That Willamette Falls camp No. 148 Woodmen of the World extend to the sorrowing parents their most sincere sympathy and condolence. Gone Where the Woodbine Twined. George Whitney and Frank Catapan, who came to Oregon City a few months ago and engaged in the harness business under the style of the Oregon Harness Company, have folded their tents and silently stole away. Their business evidently did not pay and in order to escape paying the bills contracted throughout the city, they carted off most of their stock sometime Tuesday night and gave a bill of sale to Ed Walker for the remainder, of which they owed for labor in the shop. Walker disposed of the stuff to C. A. Willey, who hauled it over to his place of business Thursday morning. Whitney and family took the 10:30 car Wednesday night for Portland.

Something to Know. It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to health, vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Charman & Co's drug store.

For Sale Cheap. A good gentle buggy mare 10 years old perfectly sound weighs 1000 lb. Enquire Postmaster, Milwaukee Ore. Wall Paper. Best stock of wall paper in Oregon City latest designs and prices to suit the times at R. L. Holman's, Seventh street, near Main.

A RECOLLECTION. It was indeed a perfect day. I never recall the weather, But autumn calm and bloom of May Been mingled there together. Then melody made sweet the hours, Each sentence was a ballad, The rocks were jewels, weeds were flowers, When Mary dressed the salad. No verbal scene whose blandishment Will welcome beset us Can have the fascination lent By that small sprig of lettuce, And vainly trust musicians tell From stage or festal wagon For tones like those with which the oil Came lettering from the fagon. Strange how these merchant chemists mar Each once alluringavor! How tasteless is the vinegar! How dull the pepper's flavor! Ofttimes when sterner moods are planned Those memories come pressing— That salad day, the sunshine and The girl who made the dressing. —Washington Star.

THE RETIRED BURGLAR.

A Meeting With a Gentle Hearted Woman Backed by a Ferocious Dog. "At the foot of the stairs in the front hall of a farmhouse one night," said the retired burglar, "I stumbled over something soft that turned out to be a feather bed. If I had had a grain of sense at all, I should have suspected something from that, but I didn't. It looked as though it had been just tumbled down stairs and left there to be carried off in the morning, and I let it go at that and stepped into it and over it to the first step of the stairs and on up. "Stepping up on the fourth step, I kicked against a string stretched across the stairs and broke it. That made me suspicious, but I never connected the feather bed at the foot of the stairs with it. I looked up. I expected it to be connected with something there. And it was, and it was coming down the stairs at me and filling up the whole stairway. It was a big feather bed. Even then I didn't see that the one coming down had anything to do with the one down on the floor, and at the same time I couldn't understand why anybody should roll anything like a feather bed down on anybody—bulky, to be sure, but so light that it was an easy thing to stop. "I put up my hands to stop this one, but might just as well have tried to stop a mountain. It was soft and squashy on the outside, but it weighed a ton. It just bowled me right over backward, and I fell on the other feather bed at the foot of the stairs. Then I began to understand what that one was for. It was to save the bones of the man that was tumbled over by the avalanche bed. "I lay there nearly smothered by the bed on top and working out from under it gradually. "I hope you are not hurt?" I heard somebody say from over the railing along the hall up stairs, and I said, "No, ma'am," because it was a female voice, and I am always polite to the ladies, and would you mind telling me what's inside the one that came down?" "Oh," she said, "it's the summer range, with the flatirons inside. Can you lift it off, or shall I let the dog come down and help you?" "And with that I heard a dog scratching up stairs. I supposed it started him up to hear himself spoken of, and I judged from the sound of his claws on the carpet that he must have been about the size of a tiger and of about the same kind of disposition. "No," I says, "I can get clear of it." And I did and stood up in the hall. "You won't carry off the other one, will you?" she said. "And hearing the dog still scratching up stairs, I said, 'No, I won't.' And I didn't. The lady appeared to be gentle hearted enough, but I knew you couldn't trust the dog."—New York Sun.

Energy From Volcanic Heat. The energy stored in the coal beds has rightly been referred back to the sun, and it is no doubt to the same source that we should ultimately attribute the heat developed at great depths below the surface of the earth. While it is believed that no practical attempts to utilize this subterranean heat have yet been carried into effect, there appears to be no good reason why the attempt should not be made, especially in volcanic regions, where quite high temperatures should be revealed at moderate depths. In a Colorado mining town an interesting combination was recently observed which a little ingenuity might have converted into a considerable source of power. Within 20 feet of each other were two springs, one of a temperature of nearly 200 degrees F, and the other not over 60, the flow of each being very uniform and the temperature quite constant. The theoretical efficiency might readily be determined from the well known law of thermodynamics, and the use of one stream to vaporize and the other to condense some volatile liquid, such as ammonia or bisulphide of carbon, might enable a fair percentage of the energy to be utilized which is now running to waste.—Cassier's Magazine.

She Had a Reason. "I don't believe Sallie can know that rich old Brown or she'd never marry him in spite of all his money." "Why not?" "He has such a violent temper." "Oh, that's all right. That's why she has been giving so much time to gymnasiast work lately."—Chicago Post.

DEBILITY CURED

To those who suffer pain the joy of relief is indescribable. Debility or nervous prostration causes all the inconveniences of pain, though not its sharpness. It is a later stage of disease. Pains and debility are symptoms of a deranged condition of the kidneys. Both will disappear when the kidneys are made to act right, not before. Diseased or inactive kidneys can be cured. I have used five boxes of your Sparagus Kidney Pills and they have strengthened me wonderfully. The last doctor told me my kidneys were in a partially paralyzed condition which was the cause of my nervous debility not being cured. I advise everybody having any nervous or kidney trouble to use Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills. JOHN G. WEISS, Springdale, Pa.

The Marketing Point OF CLACKAMAS COUNTY

The factory towns of the East are noted for affording the best market to the neighboring farmers and gardeners in proportion to the population of any of the towns in that section. The reason for this is that the people of these towns have a fixed income upon which they can always depend, and, as a consequence, they are liberal buyers, paying cash for all their purchases.

As the Great Manufacturing Center of the Pacific Coast

OREGON CITY

Is Coming to be One of the Best Marketing Towns in the State

This is proven every day by the number of farmers, who are to be seen on its streets selling their produce, who, until just the last few years, sought the markets of other towns. The system of macadamized roads that is being built into all parts of Clackamas county, will enable all the people of this county to share in the profitable market that Oregon City affords. If, as it is sure to do, the demands of Oregon City increase in the next five years as it has in the past five years, this city will rank next to Portland as a market place for
