FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1897.

FOR THE YUKON TRADE.—C. G. Sowers expects to use his hop dryer to evaporate potatoes for the Yukon trade. Mr. Sowers had eight acres of hops on the Her place east of Oregon City, which were a total loss on account of the wet weather and he commenced drying fruit and vegetables for his neighbor on the halves, turning out the dried product in bales of 25 pounds each, neatly covered with house lining. In order that nothing should be wasted, the parings are made into cider and the cores fed to the hogs. In order to use the hop house for drying fruit the only change necessary was to remove the cloth on the top hop floor. The sliced fruit is laid upon that floor about three inches deep, and the fire underneath are started a little sulphur being used to bleach, just as in drying hops. Each flooring is divided into five sections, and only one section at a time is renewed, so the drying process is continuous, except as the sections are changed. A "flooring," consisting of about 150 bushels of green fruit, is dried in 10 hours. After the run of apples and pears, prunes will be taken in hand and after that potatoes, these last will be destined especially for the Yukon trade.

TO RESTORE HIS REASON.—Justice C. Schuebel went to Salem Monday to consult with Supt. Paine and Dr. Williamson, of the asylum staff, relative to the condition of his brother-in-law, Robert Beattie, who was sent to the asylum a few weeks since. Mr. Beattie's brain trouble was caused by a hurt received on his head by the explosion of a shot gun in his hands several years ago and physicians think his insanity is caused by an abnormal growth on the inside of his skull, which causes an unusual pressure on the brain, the removal of which it is hoped will restore his reason. And next Monday the asylum physicians, assisted by Dr. Carr, of this city, and Dr. Joseph, of Portland, will trephine Mr. Beattie's skull, with the expectation that the operation will restore his reason. Should it fail the doctors state there is no possibility of the young man ever regaining his reason.

FARMING FOR PROFIT.—J. R. Morton, of Damascus, a farmer who uses his brain as well as his muscle in the management of his farm, was in the city today. Mr. Morton has built a large shed near his barn, under which he stacked his grain so soon as it was dry enough after being cut and when the recent rain came he did not have to worry about losing his crop but went to work putting in his fall grain and is now well along with his season's work. When his grain was threshed last week the straw was stacked under this shed for his stock during the winter. If more farmers would follow Mr. Morton's example there would be less soil or refuse wheat brought to market. Some farmers who do make a pretense of stacking their grain, put up what is known as an "Oregon" stack, one that runs all the water into the stack and none on the outside.

A NEW STEAMBOAT LINE.—The steamer Lorelei will be put on the run between Oregon City and Portland Sept. 23, leaving the 8th street dock at Oregon City at 9:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. and leave Portland at the foot of Yamhill street at 7 a. m. and 2 p. m. The fare for the round trip will be 25 cents. This boat will be in charge of Capt. A. E. Dodge, and Al Brown as driver. Messrs. Dodge and Brown are both well known steamboat men and courteous treatment may be expected from them. While at present the Lorelei will make but two trips a day, the Captain contemplates increasing the number of runs in the near future, should the travel warrant it.

THE BUTTE CREEK FAIR.—The ninth annual fair of the Butte Creek Fair Association will be held at the grounds near Marquam on September 23, 24, and 25. This is strictly an agricultural fair, no horseracing or any of those side attractions that are usually considered of a more or less questionable character being permitted, but the display of the fruits and grasses of the county is very complete, while the exhibition of blooded and fat stock and poultry equals in quality the state fair exhibit. This is a Clackamas county institution gotten up for the producers of the county and should receive the hearty support of all our citizens.

LARGE APPLER.—Adolf Aschoff, of Marmot, brought to this office last Friday two apples of the Balthheimer variety that measured 14 and 14½ inches in circumference and weighed 18 and 19 ounces respectively. These apples were not the largest grown by Mr. Aschoff, but simply an average size, the entire product of two or three trees of this variety weighed from 25 to 28 ounces each. There is no better place on the north-west coast than the Marmot neighborhood for raising fruit and no better posted man in the country on fruit raising than Mr. Aschoff.

LOST AN EYE.—George Doll, an employee of the Willamette paper mills, was hit in the left eye Tuesday by a sliver of iron from a rivet head on which he was working. He was taken to Portland and the eye removed, having been entirely destroyed by the wound. Doll has been exceedingly unfortunate during the last two years, having had a foot crushed, three ribs broken and an eye nearly torn out once before.
