

PATRONIZE OUR HOME INDUSTRIES

The prosperous community is the one that within itself, most supplies its own people in their various needs, and by selling much and buying little, keeps its money from going abroad,

Our farmers and manufacturers would each have a better market for their products, if our people would encourage our local manufacturers by giving preference to their products over those imported from other places. Were such the practice, it would not be long until Clackamas county would be one of the greatest industrial centers on this Coast.

JOLTING OVER BAD ROADS.

The Majority of Farmers Show No Interest in Road Improvement.

With the same patience that the early settler waited for the railroad to be built, must the advocates of good roads wait for any decided action to be taken for the betterment of our public highways, says the Whitewater (Wis.) Journal.

For the last five years our roads have been the topic of the press, but we fail to see the good effect that this should have had on the minds of an intelligent people, and, strange as it may seem, the farmers are the very last ones with which this matter finds any favor. While our city cousins have long since protested against the slow, uncomfortable horse car and compelled the companies to build expensive electric lines with palace cars, we are contented to jolt along in cumbersome vehicles over nearly as bad roads as those our grandfathers traveled in early pioneer days, and farmers who read from time to time of the large sums of money spent by the government in making public improvements would vote against an equal amount being expended on our highways.

For a proof of this fact just see with what reluctance most farmers work on the road, even when well paid for their labor; better paid than they often are for the work which they do on the farm, and yet a greater proof is the fact that in many of the towns in this county they still cling to the old way of working out road taxes by allowing a man so much for his team, plow or shovel and giving him ten hours' story telling.

At a rough estimate there is between $10,000 and $15,000 expended annually on the roads in this county. If part of this large sum of money was invested in machinery used in making roads, and then have the work done by a body of men working under a county overseer who had proved his ability as a road builder and civil engineer by passing a satisfactory civil service examination, we could get more and better work done. Such a man could be obtained for a moderate salary, and the work done would be more uniform and satisfactory than that done by pet overseers who are appointed regardless of ability, but because of some political pull at town meetings.

Of course there are exceptions to the general class of farmers who are working and talking to the best of their ability for good roads. It is to be hoped that success will in the end crown their efforts.

Farmers Took the Lead.

It was the farmers who originated the state aid law of New Jersey and who carried it into execution, with its vastly beneficial result, not only in the state, but as an example to many other states. It was also the farmers who built the excellent Canandaigua roads in New York at their own cost.
