

PATRONIZE OUR HOME INDUSTRIES

The prosperous community is the one that within itself, most supplies its own people in their various needs, and by selling much and buying little, keeps its money from going abroad,

Our farmers and manufacturers would each have a better market for their products, if our people would encourage our local manufacturers by giving preference to their products over those imported from other places. Were such the practice, it would not be long until Clackamas county would be one of the greatest industrial centers on this Coast.

Edison's First Invention.
In early life Edison secured a position as a night operator at a little way station near by. There was practically nothing to be done during the night, as no trains ever stopped at the little siding, but it was necessary to keep an operator on duty there in case of emergency.

Edison soon chafed under this inactivity. Night after night he watched through the weary hours until daylight without having sent or received a single message except the perfunctory signal—the letter "B"—which all operators were required to send over the wire every half hour as a proof that they were on duty and at their posts. Finally the future "wizard" began some electrical experiments to while away the time. Within a few days he had arranged a switchboard contrivance on the clock which every 30 minutes released an automatic attachment that telegraphed the signal "B" and the number of the station over the railway wire.

After that life was too easy for the young operator. He would go on duty early in the evening, and after having several conversations over the wire with the train dispatcher would turn on the switch and go to sleep on a cot in the rear of the office. Throughout the night the clock would report the station "on duty" regularly every half hour.

This device worked like a charm. No one knows how long it might have remained in use were it not for the fact that in an evil moment the young inventor took another operator into his confidence. The latter attempted to construct an automatic machine and failed. It succeeded, however, in tangling matters so badly that an investigation was set on foot, which resulted in retiring young Edison to private life for several years.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Sneezing.
When traveling in the south of Ireland some years ago, I was not a little surprised to hear every one in a room shout, "God bless you," when any person sneezed, and the "God bless you" was repeated for every sneeze. I have since learned that this salutation has an origin going back to the sixth century, when the black plague fell upon Rome. Its victims showed the first symptoms by sneezing. When the African king of Menomopata sneezed, all those near his person sent up a great shout, all within hearing take it up, so that the sneeze may be said to go echoing through the kingdom. One would think the subjects would soon get hoarse if their sovereign chanced to have an old fashioned New England hay fever. When the king of Senaar sneezed, his courtiers turn their backs on him and give a loud clap on their right thigh. There is a great deal of character in the manner of sneezing, and though even George Washington could not be dignified when he felt a sneeze coming on and was in doubts whether it would come to a head or not it must be confessed that a good sneeze is more pleasurable than otherwise.—New York Ledger.
