FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1897.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF WEATHER.—The United States weather bureau at Portland sends out the following data covering November weather for a period of 26 years. During that time the normal temperature has been 44 degrees. The warmest month was in 1885, when the thermometer averaged 44 degrees, and the coldest month was in 1896 with an average of 39 degrees. The highest temperature was on the 2nd in 1890, when the thermometer registered 73 degrees, while the coldest day for the past 26 years occurred on the 29th, in 1896, when the mercury dropped to 11 degrees Fahrenheit. The average date on which killing frosts occurred was on the 26th. During these 25 years the average rainfall for the month has been 5.71 inches. The average number of days on which more than 0.1 of an inch of rain fell were 15. The greatest monthly rainfall was in 1975, when the precipitation reached 15.77 inches. The least rain fall occurred in 1890, when the precipitation was only .50 inches. The greatest amount of rainfall in any 24 consecutive hours was 3.62 inches on the 26th and 27th in 1883, while the greatest amount of snowfall in a like period of time was one inch on the 16th in 1906. The average number of clear days were 6, partly cloudy, 9, and cloudy 15. The prevailing winds were from the south. The highest velocity attained by the wind was 49 miles per hour from the southeast on the 13th in 1896, when the suspension bridge across the Willamette river in this city was damaged, necessitating several hundred dollars worth of repairs. As last November was the worst month in the 26 years since the weather has been under the "control" of the weather bureau, judging by the rule of contraries by which all weather prognosticators work, next month will probably be the best one experienced in this decade.

SURVEYING PARTY RETURNED.—H. H. Johnson, who spent four months' surveying government lands in the central part of Idaho, about 100 miles north of Boise City, returned to Oregon City last Thursday, accompanied by Steve Hungeate and John Vaughan, the remainder of his crew, James Church, W. J. Dauchy, George and Louis Locey, George Shipley, Charles Horstman and E. C. Holt having reached home on the Sunday preceding. Hal Rands, who was also a member of the party, went to Ithica, New York, where he is taking a course in civil engineering at Cornell university. Mr. Johnson says the weather was delightful, only two or three stormy days occurring during the entire time they were away. Most of their work was on the divide between the Salmon and Payette rivers, a mountainous region covered with timber containing but little undergrowth, making the surveying comparatively easy. The party secured an abundance of fish and birds and a few deer. The only reason they did not dine on venison whenever they wanted to was the fact that they had no rifle and bagged all their game with a shot gun. All the party look the picture of health and say they passed a most pleasant as well as profitable outing.

THE EQUALIZATION BOARD.—The county board of equalization completed its work and adjourned Saturday and the assessor is now busily engaged in writing up his books to correspond to the changes made. Many changes were made in the valuations throughout the county, while in this city a horizontal reduction of 20 per cent was ordered on all property abutting on Main street. The Oregon Iron and Steel Company of Oswego, whose assessment had been placed at $257,175 was reduced $67,000, leaving its assessment at $184,000 or about the same as last year. Also a horizontal reduction of 25 per cent was made on the Oregon Iron and Steel Company's first addition to Oswego and Oswego Heights. Bank stock held in Oregon City was cut from 75 per cent of its face as it appeared on the assessor's books to 60 per cent of its valuation.

AN INFORMAL DINNER.—Dr. W. E. Carl gave an informal dinner at the Willamette club on the Weinhard block Tuesday evening, in honor of his old-time friend and classmate, Dr. Wm. Grim, of San Francisco. Drs. Tucker and Wood, of Portland, with the members of Willamette club of Oregon City, composed the rest of the party. After dinner cigars and cards, interspersed with conversation and stories filled in a very pleasant evening. Dr. Grim is visiting in Oregon with the intention of locating in our state and will probably decide upon Portland.

Cosmopolitan University.

On the 8th day of October more than 10,000 students were on the rolls as members of the first freshman class of the Cosmopolitan university. The confusion into which the plans regarding the Cosmopolitan's educational work were thrown by the retirement of President Andrews, in order to meet the urgent wishes of friends at Brown University, has been met by the acceptance of the presidency by Dr. Eliphalet N. Potter. President Potter has been at the head of two great colleges for nearly twenty-five years, and brings to work exceptional talents as an organizer and man of broad culture and common-sense ideas. He is already at Irvington engaged in organizing his staff of professors. The work of the university has been grouped under fifteen heads, covering the various branches of knowledge. Each of these will be in charge of a professor.

As soon as the task of selection is completed, the students will be assigned their work and the largest freshman class in history of the universities of the world will begin its studies. The extraordinary dimensions of the class thus formed has opened the eyes of the public to the importance of the gap in educational facilities which the Cosmopolitan has undertaken to fill. Knowing that the appropriation made by the Cosmopolitan is a limited one and that the entries are far beyond the most sanguine expectations, embarrassing the work by their proportions, many professors and other prominent men have already made the offer of advice and assistance without pay.

A Stockman's Paper.

The South Omaha Daily Drovers Journal, (with Weekly, Semi-Weekly and Tri-Weekly editions), published at the Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Neb., should find its way into the hands of every Stockman, Farmer, Feeder, Shipper, Fancy Stock Breeder, Ranchman, Grain Dealer and Shipper in the West. It is well and carefully edited by men who make it their business to study the market and write it up in an intelligent and absolutely impartial manner. No other paper in the West gives as complete market reports nor as many sales as The Drovers Journal, and no other market paper publishes matter of a miscellaneous character that is so well suited to the needs of those in whose interest it is published; and The Drovers Journal is the only paper in South Omaha that furnishes all the important telegraphic news "while it is news," six days in the week. The Drovers Journal has a larger circulation than any other live stock newspaper and market reporter in the West, and it is the very best advertising medium where it is desired to reach farmers, stock-raisers, breeders and dealers. The subscription price of the Daily Drovers Journal is $4.00; Tri-Weekly $2.50, and the Semi-Weekly $2.00 and the Weekly $1.50 per year, and you can get a free sample copy by addressing The Drovers Journal Company, Denna Allberry, Treasurer and Manager, Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Nebraska.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alternative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just what they need. Price fifty cents per bottle at Charman's & Co., druggist, Charman Bros. block.

An Achievement of the Century.

Our attention has lately been called to the merits of the great Warner Library now passing through the press. The Review of Reviews very appropriately speaks of it as "Distilling the World's Wisdom." From the maze of writings of all times and ages, the able writers employed upon this great work have condensed in thirty volumes the cream of the world's thoughts. By a happy combination of writer and subject, poetry and art, philosophy and history, science and religion, fact and fiction, biography and romance have each been given a prominence commensurate with their importance in a compendium of literature.

Of this library, Public Opinion in an extended editorial notice well says: "Conceived upon such broad lines, prepared and written by the most competent of living hands, and embracing as it does the literatures of all climes and times, it is not difficult to understand that such a library must represent an enormous investment. We are told and can readily believe that the entire cost of this colossal work will be above a quarter of a million dollars. That such a work should ever be undertaken, and should now be placed upon the market at a price which easily brings it within the reach of the general book-loving public, must we believe, make Mr. Warner's library rank as one of the triumphs of American enterprise."

All classes of students will find in this a treasure from the world's best minds. It is destined to have an immense sale. If you wish to know more about this work and the special terms of distribution to club members address, The Agency, Harper's Weekly Club, 209 Seventh street, Portland, Or.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Aspiring Websters.

The Parkplace Literary Society met last Saturday evening and organized for the coming winter. The officers elected were: James Matheson, president; Carl Brown, vice-president; Clark Williams secretary; Fred Harzaevs, treasurer, Louis Hall, editor of the society paper, and Louis and George Rall, sergeants at arms. It was decided to hold the meetings behind close doors, only the members and those who secure passes from the members, being admitted, as it was thought better results could be obtained in that way. Meetings will be held on Friday evening of each week.
