THE ENTERPRISE CORRESPONDENTS SWEEP THE FIELD.

Hazella News.

Hazella, Nov. 22.—A very delightful party was given last Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Shipley at their residence in honor of Mr. and Mrs. S. Eaton, who left the following day for Eastern Oregon, where they will reside in the future. We are all sorry to see them go, as they are much liked and highly respected citizens. The evening was spent in social chat, games and music. Refreshments were served at a late hour, followed by more games and music, when Mr. and Mrs. Eaton after bidding their many friends good bye, took their departure, followed by the other guests, who went home feeling that they had enjoyed themselves immensely. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. S. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Loecey, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller, Mrs. M. K. Shipley, Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. Haines and infant son, Elizabeth Haines, Mrs. Thompson, Elmer Shipley, Eugene Worthington, Randolph Shipley, Masters Earl Carroll, Verne Shipley, and Carl Eaton, and little Laura and Mabel Shipley.

Mrs. Elser who is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pitts, expects to leave next week for Seattle where she will join her husband, as they intend to reside there this winter.

Mr. Dobbins and family of Southern Oregon have moved into the home recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. S. Eaton.

School is progressing smoothly with Mrs. Thompson of Frog Pond at the helm.

We are all very sorry to have grandpa O. Eaton leave our midst, as he is much beloved and respected by all. He will make his home in the future with his daughter, Mrs. Thompson of Portland.

Mrs. Wright of Sherwood, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Hayes, has returned home.

A. W. Shipley bought one of G. Loecey's fine cows last week and feels quite proud of his new possession.

Miss Addie Whitten returned home last Wednesday from Oswego where she has been working.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Evans and family of Canby are visiting at the home of Mr. C. Childs.

M. K. Shipley is quite sick with rheumatism.

Frankie Childs has been quite sick with sore throat, being unable to attend school, but is better now.

Maple Lane News.

MAPLE LANE, Nov. 22.—The basket social was a decided success although the night was so rainy, the proceeds being $6.45. A short program was carried out which was enjoyed by all present, and was composed as follows: Organ solo by Miss Anna Mantz, Chinese song by Miss Elsie Brayton, select reading by E. M. Ward, and silent charades which were represented by articles arranged on the table and hung on the wall, as for instance "The high and low tide" was two curtains hung up, one tied near the top and one near the bottom. The baskets were sold at auction by E. M. Ward.

Mr. Hargreaves, the sewing machine agent was out among us Monday.

On Tuesday, R. W. Porter of Canemah was out to see John Darling on business.

Mrs. N. W. Richards was in Oregon City Sunday to see her daughter, Mrs. Flo Jennings, who was quite sick.

N. W. Richards, who has been having quite a severe attack of rheumatism, is able to be around again.

A number of the farmers in this locality are very much interested in the labor exchange and it is expected that a meeting will be arranged in the near future for the purpose of having the principles of the association thoroughly explained.

Myo Brayton is on the boat again.

Otis Shelly was in Oregon City a few days last week helping L. Mantz on his wood saw.

P. S. Fitteroff is dangerously ill at James Snelley's. He came on business last Wednesday evening and was taken very sick and became unconscious, in which condition he still remains, though sinking, and very little hope is entertained for his recovery. Dr. Faine was summoned and pronounced a congestion of the brain and heart failure.

Borings Breezes.

BORING, Nov. 22.—Webfoot is true to its name still, and "Oregon mist" has been much in evidence here for some time past.

Orville W. Boring, who is attending school at University Park, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boring.

Several of our citizens have been fishing lately, but report poor "luck."

Burns & Son are still at work on Mr. Vetsch's barn, but have been retarded, on account of the wet weather.

Frank Hickey made a flying trip to Oregon City last week.

G. S. Welch, Frank Hickey, and Clark Rich started for Salmon river today to spend a few days fishing and hunting.

J. A. Richey has re-constructed his house, which, being in a fine location, adds greatly to its appearance.

School closed last Friday, after a four months session. This is the third term Miss Byers has taught here.

Surprises seem to be the order of the community. Last Saturday evening a number of our young folks met at the residence of W. H. Boring, to welcome their son Orville, who was visiting his parents, and also to bid Miss Byers farewell, as she leaves next week to return to her home at Stone.

The evening was pleasantly spent in social games and amusements. A delicious lunch was served which, of course, was greatly enjoyed by all. All report a very pleasant time. Those present were: Misses Estella and Lucena Richey, Rosa Vetsch, Ada Welsh, Ida Utiger, Anna Hederman, and Helen Byers, Messers; Albert Spaulinger, Peter and Andrew Vetsch, Willie Richey, Frank Hickey, Edward Utiger and Orville Boring.

Redland Notes.

REDLAND, Nov. 23.—It looks as if it would never stop raining in this country. Quite a snow fell here last Friday, something like three inches.

There has been a very large acreage of fall wheat sown this year and all of it looks excellent.

The school taught by Charles Rutherford in district No. 75, is increasing as the bad weather continues. Charles has his school in excellent running order.

A. B. Herman, who is teaching in district No. 21 is advancing the scholars very fast. Much credit is due him for his efforts to make the school a perfect success. Miss Elise Williams, the teacher at Strickland school has a fine lot of scholars and they know how to appreciate a kind teacher by the way they learn.

Protracted meetings commenced in the M. E. Church Sunday evening. Rev. Morehouse and others are doing the work. Wm. Bonney has purchased a first class saw-mill and moved it on Geo. Armstrong's place. He has only a small engine to operate it this season but next he will secure a larger one.

Viola News.

VIOLA, Nov. 22.—Revival meetings are going on at Viola, conducted by Rev. Mr. Morehouse, assisted by Mr. Lewis. The weather is very unfavorable.

Mr. Lewis filled Mr. Morehouse's appointment at Garfield Saturday night.

Meetings will begin at the Redland M. E. church at the close of the Viola meetings.

Mr. Buck has moved on to E. L. Morgan's place at Redland, and Ed. Barrett, the former tenant, has rented the Benson place near Oregon City.

The last items from Viola stated that Mr. Watkins was building a new house. It is Mr. Walker that is building the house.

Mr. Funk and Mr. Hicinbotham have each had the misfortune to have a cow choked to death on apples.

Mr. Gerber has been quite sick but is getting better.

Miss Ethel Jones of Garfield has been visiting Miss Hicinbotham for a few days.

Eagle Creek Notes.

EAGLE CREEK, Nov. 22.—The weather for the last three weeks has been very rainy. It snowed most of the day Friday but the snow was all gone by Sunday noon.

The Bailey sawmill is running again, John Forrester and George Epperson having rented it.

Some of the farmers of this section have not finished digging potatoes yet.

Henry Githens has sold 20 acres of his land to Milt Marshal.

In Memoriam.

In memory of Mrs. Edith DuBois, beloved wife of James DuBois of Springfield:

Hark! We hear the angels calling
From that bright and happy shore
And we wait in breathless silence
Till we hear who now must go.

Effie DuBois, we hear them whisper,
"Here on earth is not your home;
Come! For you there is a mansion
Over on bright Jordan's shore."

How the happy smile of heaven
Shone around her pain worn brow
As she answered, "I am ready;
I must bid you all good bye."

Father, you will miss your daughter
In the long and weary hours
But you know that Effie's sleeping
In her home beyond the sky.

Sisters, brothers you will miss her;
Where in life's bright hours you roamed
Now seems lonely and forsaken;
Earth will seem no more like home.

She is clothed in spotless raiment,
And she sings a glad new song;
Effie now is free from sorrow
And her trials on earth are done.

Oh her presence gave you comfort
When your spirits were oppressed,
And you found her true affection
Brought you happiness and rest.

Harp of gold and crowns of glory,
More than earthly honors can tell,
Wait you in that heavenly city;
God, you know, does all things well.

Then patiently wait, and calmly,
Till your life work here is done,
And with those you love still fondly
You may rest; the crown is won.

From Far-Away New Zealand.

In recent years we have heard much of New Zealand, glowing accounts having been given of its climate, productions and political and industrial conditions. Our populist papers have especially been loud in their praises of the political and industrial system of this far-off island, and of the prosperous and contented condition of the laboring classes, and the following letter from Mr. Moore, who was a former well known resident of this city, and who left for New Zealand six years ago; will give our people an idea of the true facts relating to affairs in this populist Nirvana:

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Oct. 18, 1907.

W. C. JOHNSON, Dear Sir: This country is so heavily in debt to England that it is impossible for a farmer or stock raiser to ever make any progress, although it is a splendid grass country; rents and rates are double what they are in the United States. Cattle and horses can be raised cheaper, but the every day living and creature comforts of the human family cost double as much as at home. Flour costs just twice as much, dried prunes 7 and 8 pence per pound to 14 and 16 cents in the United States; dried pears and apples, 8 and 9 pence per pound to 16 and 18 cents in the United States. As far as I have observed, farmers here only make a scanty living.

The liquor traffic is the great curse of this colony. I have known men to drink themselves drunk, and give it freely to others when all they could afford their children was dry bread, and that in limited quantity. I have seen many instances of men and women lying helplessly drunk on the streets, disgusting sights. The street corners of the city of Auckland, especially on Saturday nights, look black, and reek with the excretions of inebriates, and many a time I had to take an extra stride to avoid the nuisance. The prohibition and kindred organizations are fighting the evil, but the powers that be set bad examples.

The new governor, Lord Ranfurley, who came here lately from the northern country is reported to have brought 600 cases of wines, etc., with him and Prime Minister Sisson is also in favor of free license.

I have been able to meet current expenses by prospecting and digging ramie gum. It is found only in one district here, from six inches to six feet deep and in lumps from a hazel nut to nuggets 20 pounds in weight. It is very exciting, even fascinating work. Only a short time ago I struck a good lead, tapped a mound, filled my sack, or peck, and worked all day without feeling hunger; went home to my tent with a big load and a bigger appetite, then I had a good rough meal with my spade for a plate and an empty meat can for a tea pot.

Forest fires ignited by volcanic action have centuries ago denuded this country of its giant gum trees, but the gum having settled into the ground during the wet season, still remains little impaired, worth from 12 1/2 to 60 cents per pound, used in England and United States for varnishes. Picture frames and ornaments are also made from it as it takes a fine polish.

This country, naturally rich in mineral and agricultural resources, ought to be prosperous and happy but here again the curse of imperial rule, under the tri-colored flag of England, manifests itself as of old; luxurious affluence on one hand and abject poverty on the other.

Thus here I am with this experience, waiting for the next ship to take me back to the good land where rolls the Oregon; the land of freedom, where labor finds its just reward; where I may again mingle with the friends of my early manhood.

R. G. MOORE.
