Among the Churches.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The spacious auditorium of the Baptist church was crowded to its utmost capacity Friday evening to accommodate the members and friends who had gathered to witness the Christmas exercises. The church was handsomely decorated with evergreens, ferns and pictures, while on the rostrum a cove had been built and covered with cotton, giving a wintery cast to the entire scene. The exercises consisted of a number of well rendered recitations and choruses and a solo by Lena Nemyre, which were all heartily applauded. The program closed with a "snow flake" scene by twelve little girls and one little boy, all attired in white. In the midst of this scene Santa Claus, in the person of E. A. Smith, appeared and distributed the presents to the children. The entertainment was a brilliant success and reflects great credit upon Mrs. T. M. Gault and her worthy assistants.

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Sabbath school of the Presbyterian church gave its Christmas entertainment on Friday evening. A large tree stood on one corner of the rostrum laden with the gifts for the scholars. The literary part of the program consisted of recitations, songs, drills, etc. A very pretty representation of the coming of the new year and the departure of the old was given. The primary class, consisting of about twenty-five, closed the program with a march and recitations. The church was filled with parents and friends.

The Christmas service in St. Paul's on Christmas morning was well attended. Dr. Williams' theme was the "Light Which Lighteth Every Man That Cometh Into the World," compared with which the most luminous philosopher that ever lived is only as a tallow candle to the sun in his meridian.

The guild of St. Paul's parish presented the minister's wife with a beautiful set of solid silver spoons; and the minister himself was equally surprised in being the recipient of a richly embroidered crimson stole, emblem of martyr zeal and love, presented by friends who are communicants in Trinity church, San Francisco.

I suffered for years from sleeplessness and nervous heart trouble. Would feel weary and used up in the morning, had no ambition and my work seemed a burden. A friend recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I purchased a bottle under protest as I had tried so many remedies unsuccessfully. I thought it no use. But it gave me restful sleep, a good appetite and restored me to energetic health. It is a grand good medicine, and I will gladly write anyone inquiring, full particulars of my satisfactory experience."
