CONTEST IN OHIO

Senator Hanna's Chances are Very Uncertain.

Attempted Burglary at Vancouver—Durrant's Last Hope—A Long Sentence.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—The political future of Senator Hanna is certainly tonight in a closely poised balance. Some of the dissenting republicans are not likely to ever be reconciled to Senator Hanna. They have burned the bridges behind them and openly admit it. Representative Joyce, of Guernsey, who voted with "the combine" on the organization of the house, stated today that he would vote for Senator Hanna. The Hanna men say they expect the votes of Scott of Fuller, and Rutan of Carroll, who were instructed for Hanna and voted for "the combine" on organization.

On the other hand "the combine" managers say that Scott and Rutan will remain with them to the finish, and that they expect to get Snyder of Green and Redkey of Highland, who voted for Boxwell for speaker.

Late tonight the Hanna managers lost the two doubtful members that they had gained today, so there is now no material change from that of yesterday, when the house stood 56 to 53 against Hanna. This would give the senator only 70 votes on joint ballot, or three less than enough to elect. If Senator Hanna has not a majority a week hence, it is doubtful whether any opponent will have it, and the general prediction is for a deadlock. In the event that the balloting Tuesday does not show a majority for any one, the general assembly will proceed the next day to balloting in joint assembly, and continue to do so until there is an election. The balloting a week hence may not do any more than compel the contestants to show their names on roll-call, and after that the same fight may be continued for an indefinite period.

Bold Burglars at Vancouver.
VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 4.—At an early hour this morning a succession of pistol shots were heard in the vicinity of West B and Third streets. Upon investigation, it was discovered that a bold attempt had been made by two unknown men to burglarize the vault in the postoffice. They were frustrated, however, by the arrival on the scene of Night Watchman John McGuire and City Marshal Gus Burgy, who pursued the would-be robbers from the postoffice to the Columbia river, a distance of four blocks, a hot running fire being kept up all the way between the officers and the fugitives. The would-be burglars escaped by jumping into a small boat, which was lying at the foot of B street, near the ferry landing, and paddling out into the Columbia river with a board, there being no oars in their boat. Burgy and McGuire having emptied their revolvers before reaching the river, and having no extra cartridges, considered it useless to pursue the men further, though they could have secured another boat, provided with oars, in a few seconds, with which they assert they could easily have overhauled the outlaws, had they made the attempt.

The attempted robbery occurred at about 3:30 o'clock, and but for the timely arrival of the marshal and watchman, would have been successful, as one attempt to blow out the combination of the vault door had been made without success, as the thieves were frightened away.

Making Desperate Efforts.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Late this afternoon the attorneys for Durrant visited Governor Budd at the home of his niece in this city and presented a petition praying for executive interference in the Durrant case. The petition states that Durrant is a vital witness in the slander suit brought by his mother against Horace Smyth, a Juror in the murder trial, who, it is alleged, circulated stories regarding Durrant's family relations. General Dickinson will tomorrow make another attempt to obtain a writ of habeas corpus from the United States court.

Sentenced to 80 Years.
CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Julius Liunte was given a sentence of 80 years today by Judge Bakers. He was tried on four indictments for burglary, although 21 had been once brought against him. On the trial of the third indictment he broke down on the stand and he pleaded guilty. Under the habitual criminal act he received 20 years for each indictment, or 80 years in all.

Another Penitentiary.
HARRISBURG, Dec. 21.—Mr. H. R. Lewis, Secretary Klondike Relief Committee, Portland, Or.—Dear Sir: Yours of recent date, asking for donations of supplies, money, etc., was duly received. We are not prepared to do much, and are disposed to do less. We look upon such schemes as advertising dodges, of interest only to the place concerned. As to starvation at Klondike, we have no knowledge. That there will be and ought to be suffering we know. Those who went there last summer had ample warning, and knew the conditions fully before going in. I do not think we should waste any sympathy on people who went to Klondike with less than a year's supply of everything. As to relief, I think worse things than starvation could befall a d—n fool. For instance, he might survive and come back; and, if we "relieve" him this winter, his tribe would increase to a hundred thousand next winter, and clamor for more relief. We will take care of our own poor (if on account of our "board of emigration" they do not swamp us with numbers and needs), but we decline to contribute either sympathy or substance to Klondikers, South Sea Islanders, Hotentots, or what not. We are not heartless, merely sensible.

In conclusion, when you want contributions for the widows and orphans of the improvident ones, who crowned a useless life by starving to death, we are with you. Yours truly,

JAMES McDONALD,
Mayor of Harrisburg.

CRIMINAL SHOT DEAD.

Harry Hessey, the Woodburn Robber, Killed at The Dalles.

Harry Hessey, who robbed the store at Woodburn ten days ago and who was arrested and put in jail in this city but subsequently escaped, mention of which was made in this paper last week, was shot and instantly killed at The Dalles last Friday while resisting arrest by Nightwatchman Julius Wiley and Deputy Sheriff Spencer. A dispatch from The Dalles dated last Friday gives the following account of the affair:

At the coroner's inquest this evening, the facts were developed that Hessey and one Frank Williams fell in together at Troutdale and tramped it to The Dalles, reaching here yesterday morning. From the conversation of his companion, Williams became convinced he was the man who escaped Sunday night from the Clackamas county jail, and last night Williams informed Officer Wiley of his suspicions, and asked if a reward was offered. A telegram was sent to the Clackamas county sheriff, and the description returned tallied with Williams' companion.

This afternoon, Officer Wiley, Coroner Butts and William Spencer started for the east end of town, where Hessey and Williams were camped. Just beyond the Wasco warehouse the officers came upon the men, and, after some short parlaying, Wiley ordered Hessey to throw up his hands. Hessey immediately drew his revolver and leveled it at Coroner Butts, but before he could discharge the weapon, Wiley and Spencer both shot, and the outlaw dropped to the ground dead, with a bullet hole near each temple. In his pockets were found a mask and other articles of disguise. He was also wanted for robbery in Woodburn. No blame can be attached to the officers, as every act of Hessey showed him to be desperate, and that he meant to sell his liberty dearly. A reward of $40 had been offered for his capture.

Letter Selling His Wheat.
CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Joseph Leiter is said to have closed contracts for the greater part, if not all, of his 8,000,000 bushels of cash wheat. Negotiations have been under way for several days, and are about closed. The buyers are L. Dreyfus & Co., of New York, the French exporters, and Gill & Fisher, of Baltimore. Nothing is known about the terms, but they are supposed to be satisfactory to Leiter.

Found Dead in Bed.
THE DALLES, Or., Jan. 4.—John Morman, a well-known sheepman of this section, was found dead in his bed this afternoon at 6 o'clock in a room over a saloon. Morman had been drinking quite heavily for several days, and was up all of last night, going to bed this morning about 5 o'clock. As he did not put in an appearance during the day, one of his friends went to his room and found him lying in bed partially dressed, having been dead, to all appearances, several hours. It is supposed he died of heart failure, as there is no evidence to suggest any other theory. Morman possessed some property, having quite a band of sheep. Some years ago he ran a saloon in Arlington. He still owns some buildings there. An inquest will be held tomorrow morning.

Largest Incorporation Fee.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 4.—The secretary of state has licensed the incorporation of the American Steel & Wire Company, of Chicago. The capitalization is $87,000,000, the incorporating fee for which was $87,500, the largest ever paid in any similar proceeding.

HOME INDUSTRIES

Clackamas County and Oregon City a Center of Wealth.

What the New Year's Edition of the Oregonian Has to Say About Our Business Institutions.

The total value of Clackamas county manufactures for the year 1897 is about $4,500,000. This is largely made up of paper and pulp, woolen goods and flour manufactured in Oregon City. Our market is the whole of the United States, including Alaska, British Columbia, Australia, China, South Africa and Europe. About $1,500,000 is paid for raw materials in the course of a year, perhaps one-third of this sum being disbursed to Clackamas county people. One thousand people find regular employment in the mills of this county, to whom about $500,000 a year is paid in wages. The capital invested in Clackamas county manufactures is about $3,000,000. These estimates do not take into consideration the big iron manufacturing plant at Oswego, which was not operated to any considerable extent last year, nor the production of electric current for lighting, heating and mechanical power, which is one of the most important industries here.

Flour made in Oregon City goes mostly to Liverpool and other European ports though a considerable part finds a market in China and South Africa and some is consumed at home. The Willamette valley usually supplies the wheat ground here, but sometimes drafts are made on Eastern Oregon. The cassimere, flannels, blankets, robes, mackinaws and socks of Oregon City are sent throughout the United States. Its soaps are marketed on the Pacific coast. The big factory uses Willamette valley and Southern Oregon wool to a great extent, but the larger part of its supply comes from east of the Cascade mountains. The newspaper, wrapping papers, paper bags and wood pulp produced here find a market in Australia and the Pacific slope, including British Columbia on the north and reaching inland to include Montana and Utah. The spruce, fir, hemlock and cottonwood used by the pulp and paper mills come from both banks of the Lower Columbia river. Boots and shoes manufactured here are marketed in the Pacific Northwest. The iron works, the sawmill and the sash and door factory in Oregon City do a flourishing local business. The ice factory markets its product in Oregon City and in Portland.

Outside of Oregon City there are a score of small sawmills in the county, the output from which is disposed of chiefly in the local market. There are eight grist mills and three or four feed mills in operation outside of that city, which supply the local demand and ship to Portland. A number of smaller manufacturing institutions turn out brick, pottery, carded wools, leather and rugs, implement handles, baskets, beehives, butter, preserved meats, dried fruits, pumps, etc., a considerable volume in the aggregate, and important to the extent that they make the community self-supporting. Many of these products find their way into the Portland market, and even further.

About 90 per cent of the power used in manufacturing in that county is water-power, the falls of the Willamette supplying nearly all of it, though only about one-fourth of the water-power capacity of the falls is now utilized. The people are disposed to buy home manufactures rather than imported goods, so far as the former meet their demands. The year 1897 does not show a very marked increase in the volume of manufactured products of Clackamas county, though the latter six months have been characterized by greater activity than has prevailed for several years and closes with all factories running to their fullest capacity, which has been materially increased by improvements of the last few months.

The surprise for All.
Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with La Grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in the store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottle at Charman & Co.'s drug store.
