FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1896.

WARRANTS MAY BE ISSUED.—Attorney General Ideman has filed an opinion with the secretary of state to the effect that the latter may issue warrants for the payment of clerks and employees of the state house. These have drawn no wages during the year, owing to the legislature failing to make an appropriation.

MOWING WITH A MOTOR.—One of the latest applications of the self-moving motor is to the lawn mower. The new machine, as described in the Scientific American, rests on three rollers, which serve both for carrying the engine, the cutters and the driver, and for smoothing and leveling the surface of the lawn. A four-horse-power gasoline engine is employed, and all the movements of the machine are controlled by means of two hand-wheels placed in front of the driver's seat.

ADVERTISING TALK.—The New Orleans Times-Democrat says that just inside of the leading drug stores of the city there is a blackboard, which is used very effectively for advertising purposes, the "ads" thereon being got up in very catchy manner. For instance, the other day the following was written on it to catch the eye of young lady customers: "Have you a sweetheart? If so, buy him a bottle of our pure Florida water." A young man who dropped in to get a glass of soda water saw it. Next day he was passing by with his girl, and as they were going in to get some soda water, he told her to read the sign. He spoke before he looked, for to his dismay the inscription on the blackboard was: "Have you a baby? If so, use sterilized milk."

AN INSTITUTION OF MAGNITUDE.—One of the substantial business institutions of Oregon City is the plant of the Portland Flouring Mill's company, in which is employed 25 men at fair wages. The mill in this city manufactures 650 barrels of flour daily, which is made from about 3000 bushels of wheat. Since June 1, 1897 this mill has reduced to flour 415,000 bushels of wheat, 120,000 bushels of county. A man never brings a wagon which was produced in Clackamas load of good merchantable wheat to Oregon City that does not return with the dollars in his pocket. The flour from here is shipped to Portland and from there goes mainly to England but the feed manufactured goes principally to San Francisco where, strange to say—strange because California is a large wheat producing state—it commands a good price. The mill is being operated at its full capacity and a ready market is found for the entire output.

MANY WANT APPOINTMENT.—County court met last Wednesday, and as usual at the regular January term, the appointment of road supervisors and judges and clerks of election for the ensuing year was begun. The county has many road districts and several men in each who would like to be supervisor, consequently a large number of men from all parts of the county have been in town for the past two or three days, each one looking out for his own or the chances for some friend to be appointed. Under the present law the county makes these appointments when they should in reality be made by the people of the various districts, and then if the appointee was not satisfactory there would be no one to blame except those persons in the respective districts. In fact we believe every public servant should be elected by the people whom he is to serve instead of being appointed by a court or tribunal which is not in a position to understand the situation in each locality, besides if road supervisors were directly amenable to the people in their respective road districts the service would no doubt in most cases be much improved, and if elected by the people and the service was not good it would be in the hands of those same people to make a change the next election. As it is now, the people have very little say in the matter. The policy of appointing public servants generally is wrong and unsatisfactory and the law permitting the same ought to be changed.

THERE WAS ONE.—"Is there a man in this audience," fiercely exclaimed the famous Kansas female orator, Mrs. Lease, "that has done anything to lighten the burden that rests upon his wife's shoulders; is there a man here," she continued, folding her arms and looking over the audience with superb scorn, "that has ever got up in the morning, leaving his tired, worn out wife to enjoy slumber, gone quickly down stairs, built the fire, cooked his own breakfast, sewed the buttons on his children's clothes, darned the family stockings, scoured the pots, filled the lamps and all the rest if necessary, day after day uncomplainingly? If there is any such man in this audience let him stand up!" And in the rear of the hall, a poor, thin, mild looking man in spectacles arose in obedience to the summons. He was the husband of the eloquent speaker. It was the first time in his life that he ever had a chance to assert himself.

NOT CROWDED WITH WORK.—The Enterprise office is not "crowded with work," yet the office force is kept busy furnishing the readers with the news. This office could, however do some of the work refused by some of the "over-crowded" offices in town so that no work need be sent away from Oregon City. While the Enterprise is not "crowded with work" the editor does manage to keep his board bill paid and the printers receive their salary every Saturday night, and this is done without having "pulled Mr. Simon's leg," either. Whenever the Enterprise cannot meet its bills promptly the present management will retire. In the meantime an especial effort will be made to give the people of Clackamas county a paper containing the news and advocating principles of its own, without wearing the collar of any boss, clique or combination. If it believes a thing to be right it will say so regardless of the consequences. An editor that has no individual opinions of his own, or if he has, has not the stamina to express them, should be put in short dresses and placed in a kindergarten until manhood matures. The panderer has no place in shaping public sentiment and his utterances are of no effect.

Seriously Injured.

William Tetrow, residing at Clackamas Heights, fell from the electric line trestle between Oregon City and Clackamas river last Monday evening, a distance of about 25 feet, sustaining serious injury to his spine. He boarded a passing car and on being told by the conductor that it was going to Oregon City he jumped off without apparently realizing he was over a trestle, resulting as above stated.

Died In New England.

Frank E. Donaldson, received the sad intelligence Saturday of the death of his uncle, Franklin C. Morrill, at his home in Manchester, New England. Deceased was a retired merchant and occupied rooms in the heart of the city and had been dead a number of days when found. His partner, George A. Richardson, another retired merchant, failing to see Mr. Morrill went to his room and being unable to gain admittance reported the matter to the police, who forced the door and found the dead body of Mr. Morrill on a sofa, where he had apparently lain down to rest. He had been a sufferer from heart disease for a number of years and had expired without a struggle. Mr. Morrill was in Oregon City a year ago last summer and was expecting to spend next summer here. He was greatly pleased with Oregon and never tired of talking of the beauty and grandeur of grand old Hood.

He had amassed a fortune in the mercantile business, the only heirs being Frank E. and Miss Eunice Donaldson, of this city and Mrs. Carrie Brown, of Alamosa, Colorado. The estate will be admitted to probate on the 18th of this month and Mr. Donaldson will probably leave for the East in time to be present when the estate is probated.

Bladder Troubles.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

SAMPLES SENT FREE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. It is comforting to know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root fulfills every wish in quickly curing bladder and urinary troubles. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need medicine you should have the best. Professor Gray Returns.

Professor Gray has returned from San Francisco, where he went to confer with delegates from the different Chautauqua associations of the Pacific coast. At the meeting of delegates it was decided to hold the assembly here beginning July 12 and closing on the 23rd. Four associations were represented, two in California and two in Oregon, and the question of eminent speakers was discussed although no definite arrangements were made. The delegation have a number of prominent lecturers in mind but the question of compensation has somewhat deferred negotiations.

In all probability arrangements will be made for a state baseball tournament to take place during the assembly here, and to this end a few of the leading Chautauquans are putting forth a special effort.

In Olden Times.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system. The Marketing Point

OF CLACKAMAS COUNTY

The factory towns of the East are noted for affording the best market to the neighboring farmers and gardeners in proportion to the population of any of the towns in that section. The reason for this is that the people of these towns have a fixed income upon which they can always depend, and, as a consequence, they are liberal buyers, paying cash for all their purchases.

As the Great Manufacturing Center of the Pacific Coast

.. OREGON CITY..

Is Coming to be One of the Best Marketing Town in the State

This is proven every day by the number of farmers, who are to be seen on its streets selling their produce, who, until just the last few years, sought the markets of other towns. The system of macadamized roads that is being built into all parts of Clackamas county, will enable all the people of this county to share in the profitable market that Oregon City affords. If, as it is sure to do, the demands of Oregon City increase in the next five years as it has in the past five years, this city will rank next to Portland as a market place for
