Three months ago ten society girls of Evanston, Ill., formed a club pledging themselves to not marry for five years. The bait took very well, for three of them are already engaged, and the rest hope to be soon.

Whooping cough is the most distressing malady; but its duration can be cut short by the use of One Minute Cough Cure, which is also the best known remedy for croup and all lung and bronchial troubles. Geo. A. Harding.

Old General Cassius M. Clay seems to have married not only a girl-child, but also two brothers-in-law, a lover of the girl, and a long-standing neighborhood feud. The old fighter has met more than his match at last.

Beautiful scenes, familiar faces and laughable cartoons flow from his hand like magic, is what is said of G. C. Bushnell the cartoonist, who is to be at the Congregational church on Friday evening the 11th inst.

A thrill of terror is experienced when a brassy cough of croup sounds through the house at night. But the terror soon changes to relief after One Minute Cough Cure has been administered. Safe and harmless for children. Geo. A. Harding.

In narrating an accidental death, an exchange says "the deceased was married and leaves a widow." Except for this plain statement, readers might have supposed that the man was single and left a widow, or that he took his wife along with him.

There is one disgusted man, at least, in Portland. The other day the weather bureau announced fair, clear weather, so he took along his umbrella, mackintosh and rubbers, and it turned out to be a clear, fine day after all. The weather observers are great jokers.

After years of unold suffering from piles, B. W. Pursell, of Knitnersville, Pa., was cured by using a single box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

The United States has nearly a score of war vessels off and around the southern coast of Florida, besides the Maine in Havana harbor, and is therefore evidently prepared to a certain extent for hostilities. War is not yet probable, but it would only take a little friction to bring it on, and a naval brush need surprise no one.

The following will be Dr. Butler's subjects of discourses at the congregational church next Sabbath, at 10:30 a. m. "Life, Development and Triumph," at 7:30 p. m. the talks on "The Second Coming of Christ" will be continued. There will be a good musical program at each service, at the evening service Mrs. Sadie White will sing a solo, in addition to the regular program. The public is invited.

A recent visitor to Seattle states that the Klondike craze has struck the town a severe blow and the tenderfeet are being skinned right pretty. A charge of 40 cents for a cup of coffee and a sinker is the common price. Vacant lots, alleyways and stairways leading to unused buildings are commanding enormous rents for the purpose of carrying on a business in the Klondike trade. In fact a large business, dealing in supplies is carried on openly in the streets, and to get hotel accommodations they must be engaged several days ahead. A steamer every other day to the Eldorado carries her full capacity of freight and passengers. These are incidents of the craze.

Headache stopped in 20 minutes by Dr. Miles' PAIN PILLS. "One cent a dose."

According to an Ohio paper, this is how a high school girl parsed the sentence, "He kissed me." "He," she began, with a fond lingering over the word that brought crimson to her cheeks, "is a pronoun, third person, singular number, masculine gender, a gentleman and pretty well fixed; universally considered a good catch! 'Kissed' is a verb, transitive, too much so, regular every evening, indicative mood, indicating affection; first and third person, plural number, and governed by circumstances. Me—Oh! well everybody knows me." And she sat down.

The new wholesale house of H. K. Golden & Co. on Main street will be open for inspection by the public tomorrow (Saturday) at 2 p. m. The building has been elegantly furnished throughout and is patterned after the metropolitan resorts of the large cities. This house will carry a complete stock of the best brands of imported beverages, and expect to do a large wholesale business.

B. S. Pague, of the United States weather bureau, delivered a lecture before the high school in this city last Monday. The speaker stated that the bureau had in its employ 600 men, all of these being appointed for life. All the intricacies connected with weather forecasting were explained in a very clear and concise manner. This is the first of a series which Mr. Pague will deliver.

Chinese Partition Sooner or Later.

The situation on the Chinese coast that has followed Germany's seizure of Kiaochau has continued to hold the foremost place in the attention of the world. Nobody knows what will happen eventually, but it is not likely that the great game of Chinese partition is to begin at once. In due time however, the Chinese empire bids fair to go to pieces. We have been accustomed in times past to think of the Chinese as several hundred millions of perfectly homogeneous people. As a matter of fact, although they belong to the great yellow division of the human race, the diversities of type in the different parts of China are greater than the diversities among white men of Europe, and there is less connection and by far less sympathy among them than among the discordant population elements that make up the present-day conglomerate that we know as the Austro-Hungarian empire. There is an immense range of dialects in China, and it often happens that the people of one neighborhood cannot talk with those who live in another four or five miles away. There is no such thing in China as a pervasive national feeling or an imperial patriotism. The various provincial governments are not under firm control by the central government, and such military and naval forces as exist are provincial rather than imperial. The Chinese of different provinces and sections hate each other worse than they hate the foreigners of other races. When the moment arrives for a partition of China upon a plan that would not injure European peace, the thing can be carried out as easily as was the German landing and conquest at Kiao-Chau—From "The Progress of the World," in American Monthly Review of Reviews for February.

"Saved Her Life."

MRS. JOHN WALLEY, of Jefferson, Wis., than whom none is more highly esteemed or widely known, writes: "In 1890 I had a severe attack of LaGrippe and at the end of four months, in spite of all physicians, friends and good nursing could do, my lungs heart and nervous system were so completely wrecked, my life was despaired of, my friends giving me up. I could only sleep by the use of opiates. My lungs and heart pained me terribly and my cough was most aggravating. I could not lie in one position but a short time and not on my left side at all. My husband brought me Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure and I began taking them. When I had taken a half bottle of each I was much better and continuing persistently I took about a dozen bottles and was completely restored to health to the surprise of all."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.
