THE LOCAL NEWS.

SECOND DEFEAT.—Once more the Indian boys suffer defeat at the hands of the Y. M. C. A. team of Portland. A week ago these two teams met each other in a fiercely contested game resulting in a victory for Portland and again they engaged in a spirited game on Monday afternoon, in the presence of a throng of admiring Chautauquans. This was one of the best games of ball that has ever been played by amateurs in the state. Every man in both teams filled his position ably and played with an earnestness seldom seen. At the close of the 3rd inning the game stood 5 to 3 in favor of the boys from the metropolis and from then on the best endeavors of both teams failed to increase the respective scores. Wrangling and quarrel, which so often manifest themselves on occasions of this kind did not arise to mar the beauty of the game. Each team realized the strength of its opponent and wasted no energy in controversy. The Portland team is composed of good players all around, Downs and French having played with the best players in the state. The Indian boys have several men in their team who with a little more experience can play a much better game. The game closed with the score standing five to three in favor of Portland.

"THE LAST HOPE OF THE NEGRO."—This was the subject of John Temple Graves' address of Atlanta Georgia, on Friday evening at the Chautauqua. In an able manner he advocated the plan of setting the negro race apart by themselves, giving them all advantages of a representative form of government and surrounding them with the best influences of the age, his change he said was necessary because the negro race had failed to successfully compete with the Anglo Saxons in all departments of activity, that there would exist as long as time continues a prejudice against the negro's color and that because of this prejudice the white people would never intermarry with the black race and therefore since many of the negroes had already given their assent it would be best for them as a race to establish a negro colony where the white man's restless ambition and never satisfied greed, dare not intrude.

SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH.—Sunday morning Rev. Oberg preached an effective sermon on "Watchfulness." He emphasized the importance of all Christians being continually on the alert and never off their guard, saying that no one could be too attentive to the great work of leading men into higher walks of life. In the evening President Campbell of Monmouth, spoke to the congregation on "Provocations and Avocations," showing that we all have duties to perform in life but often become careless and disregard them. He was followed by Prof. Hawley, of Willamette university, who eloquently spoke on "Stranded Lives," presenting the thought that lives are never wasted if spent in the interest of the downtrodden and sinful. Prof. Heritage conducted the singing and added much to the service.

OREGON CITY ON THE DIAMOND.—Our home team played a good game last Thursday on the Chautauqua field against the Portland Y. M. C. A. This was the first appearance of the home team this year, but notwithstanding the fact, they showed splendid training and gave Portland's well-drilled team a close game. The score stood 7 to 11 in favor of the visitors. Again on Friday the home team met the same Portland team, but unfortunately, catcher Hayes was injured in the second inning and as no one else could fill his place, the Y. M. C. A. boys won easily.

THE CONNECTICUT COURANT.—This is the name of a newspaper published in the state of Connecticut on the ninth day of July, 1798. It was brought from the East some time ago by I. Prindle, of this city and is now displayed in the postoffice window. Its faded type and uneven edges are evidences of the fact that it is an ancient document. On the front page of half a column's length is an article notifying the Hon. George Washington of his appointment to the position of commander-in-chief of the continental army. This old curio should be preserved, as it gives us an insight into the silent past.

BUSINESS MEETING OF MACCABEES.—Last Friday evening the Maccabees of this city held a business meeting and installed the following officers: Sir Knight Com., M. Bolack; Sir Knight Lieut. Com., E. E. Taylor; Record Keeper, G. H. Hiatt; Chaplain, J. Schwartz; Sergeant, W. M. Moody; Master-at-Arms, F. T. Rogers; 1st M. of G., G. B. Dimick; 2d M. of G., A. E. Tamis; Sentinel, F. S. Baker. After the installation of these officers had taken place, an abundance of baked beans, coffee and bread and butter was spread upon the table, of which the members and their guests heartily partook.

A RUNAWAY.—Monday afternoon Harry Barratt was driving C. Phillips express wagon when one of the horses was stung by a horse fly in front of the Red Front. Both horses began to run towards the railroad track and as they started the driver jumped out. The wagon was well filled with groceries from the store of V. Harris all of which were scattered when the wagon tipped over near Geo. Warner's barn. The horses disentangled themselves from the badly demolished express wagon and went running at full speed down Main street but were finally stopped before doing any further damage.

THE CHAUTAUQUA CONCERT.—Saturday evening the Chautauquans enjoyed a musical concert. It was conducted by Prof. Heritage in his usual able manner and judging from the hearty applause given to each participant, the whole affair deserves no little praise. The program was as follows: Solo, Prof. Heritage; song, chorus; violin solo, Miss B. Own, of Salem; music, orchestra; song chorus; solo, Miss Anna D. Atwood, Salem; Duet, Prof. Heritage and Mrs. Shawhan; solo, Miss Glen, of McMinnville; solo, Mrs. Shawhan; violin solo, Miss Nicklin, of Salem; selection, orchestra.

CHEMUNDA BAND.—This band is composed of 23 pieces, only 13 of which are on the Chautauqua grounds. Mr. J. George a graduate of the Indian school in New York state is the leader and a man of considerable musical talent. He has had charge of the band for two years. The boys will give an exhibition of their work on Saturday morning, at which several cornet solos will be rendered by M. Shongo and all who enjoy good music should be present on this occasion.

CONGREGATIONAL CONCERT.—The concert given last Sunday evening at the Congregational church by the famous Millar-Batson troop was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind ever held in Oregon City. The selections sung were the choicest of sacred melodies and when rendered by these splendid voices took the large audience by storm. Miss Batson has great power as a singer and is well worth hearing.

WHEAT DESTROYER.—Famous as Oregon is for her remarkable wheat production, she has still to solve the problem of how to destroy a dangerous green pinworm which has lately been discovered to be eating at the roots of the wheat. This worm not only robs the wheat of its grain, but also saps the life from the green plant, turning it bright yellow. Several localities in this county are already suffering from the pest.

TEACHERS ELECTED.—Last week the following teachers were elected to take charge of the Willamette Falls school for the ensuing year: Principal, Willard Hyatt; assistant principal, Miss Ella S. Boehne. This school progressed rapidly last winter under Prof. Strange. With these two instructors at its head, the work can't but be satisfactory.

What Dr. A. E. Salter Says.

BUFFALO, N. Y.,—GENTS.—From my personal knowledge, gained in observing the effect of your Shiloh's Cure in cases of advanced Consumption, I am prepared to say that it is the most remarkable Remedy that has ever been brought to my attention. It has certainly saved many from Consumption. Sold by Charman & Co., druggists, Oregon City.

"I have used Chamberlain's cough remedy in my family for years and always with good results," says Mr. W. H. Cooper of El Rio, Cal. "For small children we find it especially effective." For sale by Geo. A. Harding

The first distinct mention of soap now extant is by Pliny, who speaks of it as an invention of the Gauls; but be that as it may, the use of soap for washing purposes is of great antiquity. In the ruins of Pompeii a complete soap manufactory was found, and the utensils and some soap were in a tolerable state of preservation. The Gallic soap of eighteen centuries ago was prepared from fat and wood ashes, particularly the ashes from beech wood, which wood was very common in France as well as in England. Soap is spoken of by writers from the second century, but the Saracens were the first people to bring it into general use as an external cleansing medium. The use of soap is thus described: "When examined chemically, the skin is found to be composed of a substance analogous to dried white of egg; in a word, albumen. Now, albumen is soluble in the alkalies, and when soap is used for washing the skin the excess of alkali combines with the oily fluid with which the skin is naturally bedewed, removes it in the form of an emulsion, and with a portion of the dirt. Another portion of the alkali softens and dissolves the superficial stratum of the skin, and when this is rubbed off the rest of the dirt disappears. So that every washing of the skin with soap removes the old face of the skin and leaves a new one, and was the process repeated to excess the latter would become attenuated."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Famous Paris Garret.

There are few persons interested in things literary who being in Paris within the last 10 or 15 years have failed to hear of the garret of M. de Goncourt. M. de Goncourt himself would perhaps have preferred people to say the garret of "the brothers Goncourt," although, as is well known, the institution was originated and flourished only after the death of the younger brother. The "garret" specifically was a charming room, half hall, half library, on the third floor of the little Louis XVI hotel at Auteuil which M. Edmond de Goncourt occupied during the whole latter part of his life; generically it was the meeting together of kindred spirits, of disciples and admirers and friends of the old maitre, the germ of the academy which it was Edmond de Goncourt's dream to establish in opposition to the academy of the 40 immortals, and the nursery, as it were, where talents were grown to ripeness for the honor of admission to that same especial academy—Aline Gorren in Scribner's

Her Health Restored

THE misery of sleeplessness can only be realized by those who have experienced it. Nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, neuralgia and that miserable feeling of unrest, can surely be cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. So certain is Dr. Miles of this fact that all druggists are authorized to refund price paid for the first bottle tried, providing it does not benefit. Mrs. Henry Bruns, wife of the well known blacksmith at Grand Junction, Iowa, says: "I was troubled with sleeplessness, nervousness, headache and irregular menstruation; suffering untold misery for years. I used various advertised remedies for female complaints besides being under the care of local physicians, without help. I noticed in Dr. Miles' advertisement the testimonial of a lady cured of ailments similar to mine, and I shall never cease to thank that lady. Her testimonial induced me to use Dr. Miles' Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills, which restored me to health. I cannot say enough for Dr. Miles' Remedies." Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address, DR. ## OLD CATERER ON TERRAPIN.

When It Is Ready, the Satisfaction Is In "Eating It All Yourself."

James Prosser, a famous colored caterer of this city, dead long ago, furnished the following formula for preparing and serving terrapin, which was published in a gastronomic journal at the time when he was on earth:

"You can't enjoy terrapin unless the day is nipping. Temperature and terrapin go hand in hand. Now, as to your terrapin. Bless you, there is all the difference in the world in them. The more northerly is the terrapin found the better. You eat a Florida terrapin—you needn't despise it, for terrapin is terrapin everywhere—but you get a Chesapeake one or a Delaware bay one, or, better still, a Long Island one, and there is just the difference between $10 a dozen and $35. Warm water kinder washes the delicate flavor out of them. Don't you let Mr. Bergh know it, but your terrapin must be boiled alive. Have a good big pot, with a hot fire under it, so that he shan't languish and when it has got on a full head of steam pop him in. What I am going to give is a recipe for a single one. If you are awfully rich and go in for a gross of terrapin, just use your multiplication table. Just as soon as he caves in watch him and try his flippers. When they part when you pry them with your finger nail, he is good. Open him nicely with a knife. Bilin of him dislocates the snuffbox. There ain't overmuch of it, more's the pity. The most is in the joints of the legs and side lockers, but if you want to commit murder just you smash his gill, and then your terrapin is gone forever. Watch closely for eggs and handle them gingerly. Now, bay-in got him or her all into shape, put the meat aside. Take three fresh eggs—you must have them fresh. Bile 'em hard and mash 'em smooth. Add to that a tablespoonful of sifted flour, three tablespoonfuls of cream, salt and pepper (red pepper to a terrapin is just depravity) and two wineglasses of sherry wine. Wine as costs $2.50 a bottle ain't a bit too good. There never was a gotega in all Portugal that wouldn't think itself honored to have itself mixed up with a terrapin. Now you want quite a quarter of a pound of the very best fresh butter and put that in a porcelain covered pan and melt it first—mustn't be browned. When it's come to be oily, put in your terrapin, yolks of egg, wine and all. Let it simmer gently. Bilin up two or three times does the business. What you are after is to make it blend. There ain't nothin that must be too pointed in terrapin stew. It wants to be a quiet thing, a suave thing, just pervaded with a most beautiful and natural terrapin aroma. You must serve it to the people that eats it on a hot plate, but the real thing is to have it on a chafin dish, and though a man ought not to be selfish there is a kind of divine satisfaction in eatin it all yourself."—Philadelphia Times.

A Polite Judge.

Mr. Justice Maule once went on circuit with Judge Coleridge in a part of England where the high sheriff was a shy and modest man and very much alarmed at having to entertain his cynical lordship. Coming home in his coach with the two judges, he thought it his duty to make conversation for them. He observed that he hoped there would be better weather, as the moon had changed. "And are you such a fool, Mr. Jones, as to imagine that the moon has any effect on the weather?" said Maule.

"Really, Brother Maule," said Coleridge, who was politeness itself, "you are very hard upon your friend. For my part I think the moon has a considerable effect upon it."

"Then," said Maule, "you are as great a fool as Jones is."

After which conversation in the sheriff's carriage languished.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experience of Mr. W. M. Bush, clerk of Hotel Dorrance, Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been almost a constant suffer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duties at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would fortify myself against the attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale by Geo. A. Harding.
