THE LOCAL NEWS.

SOCIAL A GRAND SUCCESS.—Patriotism and loyalty still lives in the hearts of Oregon City people. This fact was satisfactorily demonstrated on last Thursday evening in St. John's yard, when under the beautiful illumination of 100 lanterns, a large assembly of young and old gathered to contribute their mite to the soldier boys at Manila. The ever faithful women of the Relief Corps, prepared a delicious abundance of ice cream and cake and in recognition of their sacrifice and devotion to the boys in blue, the people gladly partook of their tempting viands. The tables were all prettily arranged and when surrounded with their genial attendants and loyal customers, they gave to the whole scene no little attractiveness. The band gladly showed their devotion to the cause, by rendering in an able manner, a number of patriotic selections which drew the people and contributed a new charm to the delightful occasion. After all expenses had been paid some $25 were cleared which will be safely forwarded to our brave Manila boys.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—Mrs. Harry Sloper and two little children were driving down 11th street Monday morning and when opposite the Congregational church the horse became frightened at the Electric car, and backed down the steep embankment. When the animal began to show fear of the car Mrs. Sloper, with good management and unusual presence of mind lifted the two children in her arms and sprang from the vehicle just as it went crashing over the bluff. The horse striking on his head died from the effects of the fall and the buggy was slightly damaged. Mrs. Sloper and the two children escaped without an injury but had remained in the vehicle a moment longer they would surely have met with an appalling death. This is a very dangerous place in the road and as it is located so near the car, a high railing must be built sufficiently strong to resist any pressure brought to bear upon it, and this should be done immediately before a serious accident occurs.

HIS 15TH BIRTHDAY.—The anniversary of Chas. Blum's 15th birthday having arrived on Friday last, a number of his friends assembled at his home on Molalla avenue, to celebrate the occasion by an appropriate social time, and to say that the guests were royally entertained would hardly do justice to the delightful time enjoyed. Mrs. Blum had spared no pains in her endeavor to make the evening a pleasant one, and the happy guests realizing the honor bestowed upon them, entered with little hesitation into the good time. The evening was far too brief to accommodate their spirit for fun, and all regretted when the lateness of the hour brought their games and pleasant festivities to a close. These were the guests: Misses Mand Noble, Jennie Read, Echo Samson, Lulu Hankins, Kate Mark, Bertha Emma Allison; Messrs. J. Goodfellow, H. Draper, H. Shauer, A. Holmes, R. Canino, G. Case, S. Tooleman and Mr. and Mrs. C. Blum.

THE METHODIST SOCIAL.—Although a smaller number attended than usual, many being away at the coast and mountains, those who were present declared that a most pleasant time was had. Ice cream never sold more readily, or was more universally praised, than that which the painstaking Methodist ladies prepared for the occasion. Social games and conversation followed the repast and everybody left repaid many times for their attendance. Two more socials will be given soon for the benefit of the choir of the church and everybody who is interested in good music should be present.

A REUNION OF THE COOKS.—20 years have rolled away, since this prominent family assembled to eat a farewell family glance at the happy days of early childhood, and as it is extremely gratifying, when many years have intervened, to renew, in pleasant recollection to the joys of youth, 23 members of the Cook family united in a reunion, at Gladstone park, on Sunday last, and with the laughter and merriment of by-gone days every where in evidence, they pleasantly spent the day. Those of the family present were: Sarah E. Howlett, and ten children, of Jackson county; A. W. Cook and five children, Damascus; J. J. Cook and one child, Oregon City; A. C. Cook, wife and two children, Portland; Geo. Howlett, wife and two children, Portland; and six children of the late Mrs. F. W. Foster, Clackamas.

A MAD MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.—A colored man, whose name is unknown who travels from place to place begging for his livelihood, was lodged in the city jail yesterday while under the influence of liquor. In the afternoon while still in an intoxicated state was found by Police Burns in his cell bleeding freely from an ugly cut on his wrist which wound it is supposed was received from a razor as the result of a crazy attempt to commit suicide. He was taken to Dr. Pain who dressed the wound and on the following day the officers sent him out of town.

HOP PICKERS SEASON.—For the next few weeks pickers will be busy in the hop fields. The streets are already lined with covered wagons filled with hop picker's stonies, bound for yards up the river. It is estimated that Monday morning 900 pickers passed through this city on four different steamers, and before the week is over as many more will probably swell that number. If the weather remains clear, hands will receive from 35 to 40 cents a box and the hops will weigh from 12 to 13 pounds per box.

A BETTER SIDEWALK NEEDED.—The people of Ely have long needed a sidewalk up Molalla avenue. For several years they have walked on a few fragments of sidewalk, so scanty and far between that they serve more as a hindrance than a benefit. As this is a route traveled daily by people coming from and going to Ely, the proper authorities should provide a better walk for the their accommodation and this should be done before the winter rains set in and the mud becomes ankle deep.

BACK FROM A PLEASANT OUTING.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Steel, Mrs. J. W. Meldrum, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. R. Miller, Miss Hoyt, of Portland, Miss Eva Meldrum, Thompson and Charles Meldrum composed a party of campers who returned last Saturday from a pleasant three-weeks visit near Mt. Hood and in the vicinity of Salmon river. The time was quietly spent with books and fishing tackle ever at hand and all feel greatly benefitted by the trip.

MERRIMENT.—A merry time was had a few days ago by a gay company of young people, who appeared at the home of Miss Elsie Walling, near Oswego, in response to her invitation. A better time could not have been enjoyed. The beautiful lawn was brilliantly lighted with lanterns and the evening quickly passed in dance and song. In the midst of which a very enjoyable luncheon was served under the spreading boughs of the trees.

ALIVE AND WELL.—It is rumored around that F. E. Casto, who is now in Manila ready and willing to sacrifice all for principle and right has taken sick and died. This we are pleased to say is a mistake as a letter has been recently received from Mr. Casto in which he states that his health is good and his willingness to fight undiminished.

Building Notes.
Chas. Ely's house, in Ely, has been considerably improved with a fresh coat of paint.

J. Murrow, the painter, has lately purchased one of Chas. Ely's lots in Ely and will begin soon to build a five-room cottage on the latest plan.

Work on Singer's hill road is progressing. A wall from 5 to 25 feet high has been finished and Supervisor Lyons is now doing some heavy blasting along the bluff. Contractor Laurence is laying a new walk by the hill, from the railroad to the street and in a very few days all will be completed.

Wm. Hall, of Ely, has begun the erection of a neat little cottage on Molalla avenue, which when completed will compare favorably with our many modern residences.

W. Curry, in sympathy with the building spirit of the times, is erecting an addition to his residence and has made some needed repairs.

Visitors From Space.

Whatever be their origin, it would seem that these solid bodies (meteors) are hurrying through space at velocities which may be anything between 10 and 40 miles a second. If they come near enough to this earth to be attracted by it, their course is changed, and presently they enter our atmosphere. The result is a sudden check to their speed, owing to the intense resistance and friction engendered by contact with the air particles.

What happens may be likened to the sudden application of the wooden brake block to the rapidly moving wheel of an express train. Heat is generated in exchange for motion, and the trail of sparks from the checked wheel is represented in the checked meteorite by a luminous trail. We commonly call it a shooting star, and if its mass be small it is possibly altogether dissipated in heat and gas, or it may ultimately find its way to our earth as dust. Such "meteoric dust" has been found on the eternal snow of mountains, where dust of the ordinary type would be impossible. If, on the other hand, the mass of matter be large, its surface only will be affected by the sudden heat generated, and it may fall to the ground entire or possibly explode and be scattered in fragments over a wide area.—Chambers' Journal.

The Blue Hole of Kentucky.

One of the places in our neighborhood which is shrouded alike by saint and sinner is the old spring near our town, in Logan county, known as the Blue hole. Though legendary, the story I shall relate of this spring is true, for it has been corroborated by the former generation, by the older men of the present century. According to this story, when the Shaker village at South Union was first established by a few venturesome though hardy pioneers, a member of the sect was dispatched on horseback to put the money in a safe in the county capital.

When the treasure bearer reached the spring, he rode his horse in to give it water, but rider and animal were swallowed up, never to rise again. It is said that the Shaker's friends used as much as 500 feet of rope in an attempt to recover the body and coin, but never struck bottom. I myself have heard old men say they have tried to find the bottom of the spring by using hundreds of feet of cord and a lead sinker, but without success.—Auburn (Ky.) News.

Gratitude In Women.

Are feelings of gratitude absent in women? That clever gentleman who does the Private Diary in The Cornhill Magazine is not quite satisfied upon the subject. This is his way of putting it: "As gratitude depends upon imagination, it may well be that women, having less imagination than men, are less grateful. The doctor told me 'intermittent heart' is a not uncommon female ailment." To sugar the pill, however, the diarist says: "In defense of the maligned sex I should like to record a case of gratitude in a woman that left me a little mournful. I had sent Charlotte a book for her birthday last autumn, and at breakfast today she said: 'Oh, thank you for that delightful book you sent me!' 'Oh,' I said, 'what was it?' 'Dear me,' said Charlotte, 'I have quite forgotten.'"

A Novelty In Bells.

Herr Appuhn of Hanaa has invented a bell of a new shape, which is said to have a very deep tone and to be powerful as considerably heavier bells of the form at present in vogue. The shape is peculiar, being hemispherical, while the metal is uniform in thickness except near the "sound bow" (or the thickened tip which the clapper strikes). From the edge to some little distance above the sound bow the metal is very thick, and then alters suddenly to the uniform thickness which it has for the rest of the bell.—Invention.

The Art of Talking Back.

"I hardly know how to answer you," said she when the widower proposed. "I would not let that worry me," said he soothingly. "That is something a woman learns perfectly soon after marriage."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Chamberlain and the "Puritan Maid."

A Baltimore woman, in The Sun of that city, tells this story of Joseph Chamberlain when he was in Washington in 1887:

"He was a big, burly man, caring so little for his appearance that at one of the most fashionable dinners of the season his cravat got turned to slant under his ear and his shirt stud became unfastened, and he sat calmly oblivious to either incident. His brains and charm in conversation won him friends wherever he went. One day he called on a lady who happened to be giving a girls' luncheon. She went out at once to see him, and laughingly said if he did not mind being the only man present she would be delighted if he would come in the dining room and take the vacant place of one of her young friends who had not come.

"He was not afraid to face a lot of 'American beauties,' so he accepted gladly, and the vacant place happened to be next that of Miss Endicott, daughter of Secretary of War William C. Endicott of Massachusetts, a dove-like, slender girl, one of the greatest belles of the day. The outcome of this was the marriage of the English statesman and the 'Puritan maid,' as she was often called, his neighbor at an entertainment to which he had only been bidden by that fate which shapes our ends, rough be them as we will."

The Hindoo Dead.

The Hindoos consider their dead as sacred and do not allow them to be handled by alien hands, the nearest male relative—son, father or brother—preparing the body for burial, and if there be none of these relatives a son is adopted by the family for the purpose.

Something Smaller.

Professor—If you are at all interested in geological specimens, madam, will you not accept some of these beautiful specimens of quartz?

Mrs. Mushroom—They are almost too large for me to carry. Have you any pintals?—Pearson's Weekly.

After She Graduated.

"I was hardly out of school when I married," said a handsome young Brooklyn woman to an acquaintance. "I had been studying hard, I was full of ambition. I wanted to be accomplished. I wanted to be a musician, a linguist and a society woman all at once. Then I fell in love and became a wife and mother."

"My mistake was that I tried to accomplish too much and didn't take care of my health and I broke down. I might have been saved world's of suffering if I had been more careful and used a little common sense. I hated to tell my mother how miserable I felt before I married. I thought she would just pooh! pooh! at me. I think mothers understand more about such troubles now-days than they used to. I would never allow a daughter of mine to marry, being no stronger than I was then.

"My husband was so kind and considerate I didn't want to be complaining all the time. He insisted on the doctor coming to see me—a real good, old doctor too. He gave me medicine for my digestion and my headache, and something to help my heart action. I somehow could not bear to tell him what the real trouble was. I knew he would insist on an examination and I dreaded it so.

"My married sister told me I ought to write to Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, but I felt so guilty to do that without telling my husband. But she wrote for me and received a kind, sensible letter, telling me how to give myself simple treatment at home. This helped me, and then she got me three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I began to take it. Pretty soon my husband said 'something is doing you good sure. You're ever so much stronger and brighter.' Then I had to tell him everything.

"First he frowned a little and shook his head, then he just laughed and said 'well the proof of the pudding is in the eating! If this little woman is made well and strong by anybody's 'Prescription' no matter what his name is, God bless him, whether he lives in Buffalo or right next door.' And I am made perfectly strong and well by this treatment, as I never had been before in my life."

This is a true experience. It is one of thousands which show that a physician like Dr. Pierce, who has devoted a lifetime of special practice to treating ailments peculiar to women, can prescribe for them by mail just as effectively as if the patient was in his office, and a thousand times more effectively than the average doctor whose attention is merely given to general practice. Dr. Pierce has been thirty years chief consulting physician to the 'Ladies' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. His prescriptions are accepted all over the world as the great standard remedies for the diseases which they are designed to cure; and as an author of medical books he stands among the most eminent authorities.

The above is not a fairy story. It is not the story of one person. It is the story of thousands of women. It is a composite picture in which one can trace behind face, lined with suffering, channeled by tears. It is a story as true as the parable of the Prodigal Son, which was not the story of one young man but the story of the type which repeats itself generation after generation and is as common to Europe as to Asia, to Africa as to America.

IS IT YOUR STORY?

Your story either in whole or in part? There's hope for you. There's help for you. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has cured so many cases where life was a daily struggle, where the weary body staggered on to the grave, that it can be recommended with the utmost assurance in every case of female disorders. Ulceration and inflammation, irregularities, displacements, and uterine disorders in general, all yield quickly to the action of this real and reliable remedy. As the disease is healed the symptoms pass away: pain in the side, difficult breath, floating specks before the eyes, nausea, weariness and melancholy. The appetite returns, the blood is vitalized, and life which was heretofore a mere existence becomes a hearty, happy condition.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.
