The way to build up Oregon City is to give Oregon City People your Patronage.

At last the Oregon recruits have sailed for Manila after being kept at San Francisco for nearly six months.

The empress dowager of China is no figure head in that country. She shows capacity for affairs that would do credit to the western world.

POPULISM is on the wane in the state of Washington and if the republicans keep up the fight they are bound to win. The reports are very encouraging.

PORTLAND'S exports have increased nearly 400 per cent over '97 and Puget Sound has done nearly as well, while San Francisco has stood still for several years.

The government will transport a 1000 tons of Christmas presents from San Francisco to the troops at Manila free. Many a heart will be made glad by this effort of the government.

GRAHAM GLASS, Jr. is prominently talked of for Senator Simon's seat in the State senate. The seat will be filled at a special election and the committee will make the nomination.

The National democracy's stand for the gold standard will bring to that party more followers than the free silver side will have, but there will be no party advocating free silver in 1900.

The sentiment that we should hold the Philippines is growing every day. If this country and especially this coast is to take any considerable part in the Asiatic trade, these islands are necessary. The good sense of this administration will see that we do hold them.

MULTNOMAH county had a law enacted at this session of the legislature making three commissions in the county for the transaction of county business. It is claimed by friends of the county judge that it was simply trying to get him out of the board in doing county business.

The Marion county election frauds are going to be ventilated and some of the seven men indicted have more than one charge to face. It is hoped that the facts will be brought out and the guilty parties made to suffer, no matter to what party they belong.

GOVERNOR-ELECT GEER has the sincere sympathy of the entire state in the loss of his beloved wife. No man has a stronger hold on the people than the governor-elect, and they sympathize with him in his trouble. Mrs. Geer was a very estimable lady and her friends were only numbered by the people that knew her.

The law by which the rejected volunteers are to receive pay for the time they were waiting before being rejected is a good one, and will receive the endorsement of all parties. These parties offered their services and were rejected for some minor defect and that they should be paid for the time spent before being rejected is only just.

"Money and sick supplies needed" is the cablegram received from the Portland nurse, Dr. Frances E. Woods, at Manila. This shows that conditions are not good at that place and action at once is needed. That action will be taken at once in Oregon goes without saying.

The fish law just passed is the most stringent one ever in force in the state. It closes the Clackamas river entirely and a thousand feet from its mouth on the Willamette. Fishermen and cannerymen have to pay a license to engage in the business and this money goes toward the propagation of salmon. The fish commissioner has control of the entire matter as well as the state hatcheries and he is appointed by the governor. All parties engaged in the business think the law is the best yet enacted.

The repeal of the railroad commission and the State board of equalization with emergency clauses abolishes these boards at once and saves the state $50,000 a year. At the regular session, a board of equalization composed of the governor, secretary of state and treasurer, will undoubtedly be formed as it should be. State equalization is a necessity and can be performed by these officers with a small outlay. The principal outlay was the transcript of the county rolls sent to the state board and this was an utterly useless expense as a summary would do as well.

In the death of Hon. John Kruse Clackamas county and the state loses one of her best citizens. Men of his character are rare. Every trust committed to his hands was carried out in its highest and strictest sense. He was called on to fill many responsible positions and always with credit to himself and fidelity to all concerned. The world is better that such men have lived and taken part in its affairs. His life was an inspiration to all who were called to associate with him. Every man that knew John Kruse will say that the world has lost a good man. His place will be long vacant among his friends and neighbors.

The senate refused to pay the hold-up legislature of 1897 but the house insisted that all the members of that legislature should receive their pay whether they were the ones that took the oath and honestly tried to organize, or those who helped to hold that body up. It took a conference committee to settle this and some other difference between the two houses. The committees taking the ground that the best way to prevent their claims from being constantly brought before the legislature was to pay them and get the matter out of sight. The report of the committee was adopted but not without a vigorous protest from the senate. It came up in such shape that a record vote could not be taken although a large part of the senators wanted to get on record against paying the claims of this notorious legislature.

Love that Alters.

"Love is not love that alters when it alteration finds. That is one of the sublimest lines in all literature. It is the final definition of love by the world's greatest reader of the human mind.—Shakespeare. Nearly all women who truly love, love in this sublime way. Men seldom do.

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for many thousands of women. He has devised a perfect and scientific remedy for women's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for all weaknesses, diseases, disorders, displacements, irregularities, and debilitating drains peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it, and no honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute that he may make a little larger profit.

"I was afflicted with kidney trouble and I have always had a torpid liver," writes Mrs. E. Crosswhite, of Dallas, Frisco, Co., Texas. "When I commenced your medicine I was not able to stand on my feet. I used one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and five vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets.' I am now well. I had not walked in four months when I commenced the treatment; but in ten days I was able to walk everywhere."

Valuable Ware.

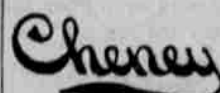

At the Sevres sale, in London, a few years ago, a service of old Sevres ware was sold for $5,000. The genuineness of this set was proved by certificates issued to the owners by the French government, writes F. Vizetelly in Godey's A. But by far the most valuable service turned out at the Sevres pottery (in 1778) was made for the Czarina Catherine II of Russia and consisted of 745 pieces, which cost $65,630.

The Sevres ware, old or modern, is usually light in color and daintily decorated with flowers or figure subjects tastefully arranged. The porcelain itself, although of good texture, is inferior to that of the English potteries. Decorated pieces generally bear pictorial panels on white ground, surrounded by frames of gilt scrollwork. These, as well as the tableware, are quite in keeping with the national character. Although the Sevres works are still in operation, they are kept busy in copying ancient Chinese and Japanese models instead of increasing their reputation in the manufacture of the wares which made them famous.

New Off the Fly.

"I was once speaking at a temperance meeting in Green Bay," says ex-Governor Peck of Milwaukee, "and in the course of my remarks I looked about for some water. A mug had been placed beside me, and how it could have happened at a temperance convention I do not know, but it was a beer mug filled with water. Well, it was a warm day and where there is convention food spread out on a warm day there are likely to be flies.

"There were flies, and one had lighted trustfully on the surface of the water in that mug. I saw him as I lifted it, and I did the most natural and humane thing I could think of—blow him off the water. Well, they closed for five minutes. And to this day I suppose you can't persuade a Green Bay man that anybody from Milwaukee can drink a glass of water, even at the temperance convention, without the blowing of the foam."
