C. G. Hantley, Druggist. but making our progress some slower. I am feeling fine as usual and most of the boys are the same. We have had the finest kind of weather all the way so far and little fear is entertained of our seeing much rough weather at this season of the year.

Tomorrow at 2:30 we will be one week's travel from Frisco. I am just getting something of an idea of the magnitude of the sea. Almost a week since we lost sight of the home shore, and I have not seen a single sail since, and veiling. I did see a shark yesterday. Gulls and and petrels follow the boat most of the time. Flying fish are quite numerous

The "Senator" is not a large boat and consequently does not travel very steady, prepared to answer yes. I can send you but I have grown accustomed to her shells for I have made quite a collection rolling and don't mind it. I caught a of lovely shells, both from our own coast, severe cold just before leaving Frisco the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones and suffered almost as much from it as from the West India Islands. QUEER IDEAS OF FUN.

SAVAGES WHO LAUGH ONLY WHEN SOME ONE IS HURT.

The Writhings of a Victim Under Torture Send Them Into a Frenzy of Merriment-Fearful Punishments That Evoke Vells of Glee.

The laugh, which is now so closely associated with good humor and kindly feeling, originally implied nothing of the sort. It expressed almost the reverse. It was the crow of triumph over a fallen

Such is its nature still among savages and barbarous peoples, and its unexpected manifestations are occasionally very startling. Dancing on the body of a prostrate enemy is to them hilarious business. The writhing of a victim un-der torture is the funniest thing imaginable. A new device for torment is a clever jest. The inflicting of a ghastly wound as some poor wretch runs the gantlet makes them yell with glee. The things that shock or horrify or disgust the civilized man are about the only things worth laughing at from a savage's point of view.

With the exception, therefore, of rough practical jokes, which may possibly wrinkle his stolid features with a momentary grin, the barbarian has no appreciation of civilized humor. He can't see where the fun comes in if no-

This was curiously illustrated not long ago when a considerable number of Chinamen went to a New York theater to see a burlesque performance. When the American part of the audience laughed, the delegation from Chinatown sat with faces absolutely blank, but the moment any hint of brutality, tragedy or tears appeared on the stage their heavy features lighted and were wreathed in smiles. It was a strange thing to witness, but it was all in perfect keeping with the cruel instincts of their

Even the knowledge that he is himself to be the next victim does not spoil the fun of a cruel spectacle for a bar-barian thoroughbred. Here is an in-

A number of Siamese who had been engaged in a bloody revolt were captured red handed and sentenced to military execution. A platoon of soldiers was drawn up with loaded muskets, before whom the doomed men were led out in squads of five or six to be shot, while those who were waiting their turn stood by, under guard, looking on.

When the first volley was fired, the victims, torn by the storm of bullets, leaped into the air with violent contortions and fell dead. And this to the poor wretches who were about to go through the same experience seemed so fine a show and so excruciatingly funny that they were fairly convulsed with laughter.

Such is the humor of savages, and such doubtless were the beginnings of mirth the world over. Strange as it ette hall, Sunday morning service, 11 highly civilized. We no longer laugh first week of each month, when meeting at really tragic occurrences, it is true, for other and more humane emotions are too strongly excited.

But if we chance to see a ridiculous mishap which does not quite rise to the dignity of tragedy-an accident by which some one is greatly inconveniencinjured-the remnant of the savage breaks loose in us, and we laugh till the Geo. R. Califf, secretary. tears come.

Why else are we amused when we see a well dressed man thrown sprawling in the mud or deluged with dirty water from an upper window or driven up a tree by a cross dog or an ugly bull? Why else do we so keenly enjoy the agony of a man who has accidentally pounded his finger nail, instead of the tack he was driving into the carpet, or laugh at the unfortunate who blindly steps on a stray barrel hoop which flips up and slaps him in the face? Instances might be multiplied without limit.

It is noticeable that children often laugh at things which do not amuse adults, but, on the contrary, shock and pain them. That is because the child's finer sensibilities are as yet imperfectly developed. He is still near the savage state. There is a very prevalent sentiment to the contrary, but this is the

In proportion as men become truly civilized, however, their sense of humor becomes refined, and they revolt at any suggestion of brutality. Yet it is worthy currence of which would shock us greatly. - Boston Post.

L fug as a Disease.

"The liar is a much abused person," said a well known local physician to a reporter last week. . The liar is not always to blame, and if you have any friends who are addicted to false representation of things advise them to consult their doctors. There is hope for at the truth and lie on all occasions, even at Willamette Hall. though the truth might better suit their purpose. This has come to be thought Thursdays in each month at Red Months of only as a species of dementia that is ofttimes successfully treated.
