ON BOARD THE OREGON. (continued from first page.)

"Flora" and "Beagle" came over and also the officers and crew of the Iowa. The program consisted of orchestra, violin and mandolin music, singing, clancing, club swinging and boxing. At the close the English officers proposed three cheers for the Anglo Saxon alliance and they were given with a will. Then we sang "Auld Lang Syne" and parted. When they sang, I thought of 1776 and 1812 but I didn't mention it. The English sailors are very friendly and say that blood is thicker than water and that we are cousins, at least. I had a chat with one fellow and he said "you fellows aren't Yankees any more and we aren't Lime Juicers, we are all one family now and can lick the whole blooming creation." Altogether, it was like a reunion after a few years estrangment-sort of a kiss and make up affair. The "Temeraje" that was going to blow as up when were here before has left fer hiding place, up the river, and is preparing to come down to the city. She enever came out as long as the war lasted. Her crew are very tender hearted and could not think of destroying the 405 lives on the Oregon, so they retired 'till death, the trouble was settled. Yesterday the Long—At her home five miles west of quarter deck was decorated with flags this city, Mrs. Michael Long. and palms, the side awnings were spread and the quarter deck transformed into a five children. ball room. At 2 p. m. a number of ladies and gentlemen from the city and the officers of the various men of war came aboard and danced 'till six. An It made me homesick to hear the lively waltzing. Many of the Brazilian girls left behind. are very pretty and graceful. The Englishmen will give a ball tomorrow evening and have invited us. The Celtic left on the evening of the 15th to stop the colliers at Puento Arenas, Chili, so fresh meat at ses and as the supply ship rupturing a blood vessel. as gone, now, my Christmes dinner will be canned meat and hard-tack.

News is very scarce here so we don't know how the affair with Spain is progressing. The educated Brazilians are very friendly to the Americans, but some of the lower class threw stones at the marines, who went ashore on duty. The English sailors go ashore every night but Lieutenant Noyers is very careful of our health, so we can't go ashore. The officers are of a different sort of clay I guess, for they go ashore to picnics most every day. Lieutenant Everle says we will see Hong Kong before 'Frisco, and if this is true, I guess you can expect to see me about April 1901.

Noy. 18--We have just got orders to sail for Cape Town and from there to Manila to relieve the Olympia.

Parsn'p Complexion.

It does not require an expert to detect Portland, Oregon. the sufferer from kidney trouble. The hollow cheeks, the sunken eyes, the dark, puffy circles under the eyes, the sallow paranip-colored complexion indicates it.

A physician would ask if you had rheumatism, a dull pain or ache in the back or over the hips, stomach trouble, desire to urinate often, or a burning or scalding in passing it; if after passing there is an unsatisfied feeling as if it must be at once repeated, as if the urine has a brick dust deposit or strong odor.

When these symtoms are present, no time should be lost in removing the cause.

Delay may lead to gravel, catarrh of bladder, inflammation, causing stoppage, and sometimes requiring the drawing of urine with instruments, or may run into Bright's Disease, the most dangerous stage of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great discovery of the eminent kidney and THE DEWEY bladder specialist, is a positive remedy for such diseases. Its reputation is world-wide and it is so easy to get at any drug store that no one need suffer and no one man can nowadays claim intimate acvuaintance with all the best of its products or even all its principal workers. The work of Shakspeare alone has engaged from time to Christians Swarts, deceased. time the almost exclusive study of many ripe scholars. Such a poet as Robert Browning, or a profilic novelist like Dickens, is analyzed and debated in a legion of clubs. The question naturally arises as to how and where a reader become familiar with the spirit and works of those numerous great authors "whom of those numerous great authors "whom not to know would argue oneself unknown."

Never was the difficulty so fully and sat isfactorily met as in Charles Dudley Warner's' Libtary of the World's Best Literature." As a basis for judgment we have here assembled all the best fruits of literature, in every field, that authorship has given to us since the world began. To enable us understand and appreciate the enable us understand and appreciate the spirit of authors we are furnished with interpretative and biographical essays relating to a thousand of the foremost and greatest. These are not mere treatises by pedantic scholars. They are graphic portraitures and estimates by living masters of criticism, each of whom has made a special study of his theme. Here we find enable us understand and appreciate the special study of his theme. Here we find the historian Lecky giving his estimate of the historian Lecky giving his estimate for the claim; thence south 6.65 chains to the north-lecky giving historian lecky giving his estimate for the claim; thence south 6.65 chains to the north-lecky giving his estimate of the historian lecky giving his estimate historian lecky giving historia Gibbon; Leslie Stephen depicts for the reader his old friend Carlyle; Prof. Ray Lankester writes of his own sciencemasters, Darwin and Huxley, Henry James gives a critical monograph on 7.93 chains to the place of beginning, containing 18.77 agrees, more of less. Hawthorne; and so the series runs through all the list—as if artists mighty with the brush were guiding us through a gallery of great paintings—only that 28th day of December, 1898. here the paintings are of men whose works are immortal. In the same manner all the world's chief literatures are sketched and interpreted for us by scholars who have studied and lectured on them as specialties in the highest universities. In every single instance it is more and better than mere interpretation—it is a resurrection of the author.
