REGULAR SESSION.

Special Correspondence From the Legislature at Salem.

Monday Jan. 16.

After the recess taken by the legislature both houses got down to work at 2 p. m. today.

The state printer being still behind with his work the senate held a short session and adjourned till Tuesday, after adjournment however, the senators spent the afternoon in committee work, and advancing their work in various ways.

House put in full time; a number of new bills were introduced and some read the second time.

Senator Mulkey, of Polk, has a bill on assessment and taxation which has a number of good points of which we note.

First, The payment of taxes semi-annually. Second, A premium of three per cent on payment of taxes within 20 days from maturity, two per cent in 30 days and making them delinquent in 60 days. It also provides that the taxes shall be paid to the county treasurer and that the sheriff shall collect all delinquent taxes.

Senate bill No 4, by Brownell—Provides for the loaning of the irreducible school fund at six per cent.

Senate bill No 11, by Fulton—Providing for an additional circuit judge for the fifth judicial district.

Relating to the assessment of property and the collection of taxes.

Senate bill No 19, by Brownell—To provide for the appointment by the governor of two commissioners of the supreme court, to relieve said court from the overburdened condition of its calendar.

Tuesday.

This has been largely a day of routine work in both houses such as second reading of bills, adoption of resolutions, and quite a number of new bills.

A number of bills bearing on assessment and taxation have been introduced, which if passed, will make radical changes in the present laws, a number of bills bearing on road laws will be up for consideration.

It is quite likely that two or more bills will be introduced for the purpose of re-districting the state as to senatorial and representative districts.

Representative Kruse, has introduced a bill in the house with the following main provisions: That there be appropriated $4,500 to construct a fishway over the falls of the Willamette river at Oregon City. Said fishway shall be constructed in the bed of the river on the west side of the main fall, by making excavations in the solid rock when the water is low, so that the slope will be more gradual and when the water is higher the excavations will form a series of pools connecting the lower with the upper water, all constructed and arranged in such a manner that salmon can ascend from below to above the falls by passing from pool to pool.

Fordney, the populist member of the house from Wallowa county, this morning introduced a bill for the protection of angle worms and other fish bait in his county, but the bill was promptly killed by a successful motion to postpone indefinitely. Fordney was not even given an opportunity to expatiate upon its merits, or have it referred to Representative Young, the professional protector from Clatsop county.

Wednesday.

Today has been very quiet in both branches of the legislature the time has been taken up in reading bills and referring to the proper committees. While a few new bills have been brought forward in each house, in the senate the last bill introduced is No. 158 and in the house it reaches 247 or a total of 405 bills. Some of these are short and of a local nature and concern only the location for which they are intended. However there is always a happy thought in connection with the number of bills introduced, a large proportion of them will never become laws.

Senator Porter has bill No. 36 requiring sheriffs to collect certain fees in civil cases, and pay the same to the county treasury, also No. 47 relating to the service of summons, and No. 53 relating to the making of deeds by the sheriff.

Senator Porter has in preparation a number of important measures which will come up in a few days.

Our senators are both doing good hard work, and will get some good measures through during the session.

Personals.

Hon. W. S. U'Ren came up Tuesday, arriving at 3 o'clock on the delayed train.

J. E. Hedges was a passenger for the Capitol and had an all-day experience on the train, which broke her engine and got in four hours late.

Schuebel, in the interest of the amended city charter, who is enjoying incidentally a day or two watching legislative work.

A delegation from the fisherman's union, consisting of Frank Brown and Si Crumbley came up to look after measures looking to the interests of the loaf-fishes and also to the interests of the fishermen.

His Honor, Mayor C. D. Labourette came up on the local Wednesday on business for a day, and was noted shaking hands with the Solons at the state house.

James Root, of Clackamas, is a visitor at the state legislature this week.

UNITED STATES SENATOR SIMON.

The Washington Post Gives the Senator a Flattering Notice.

Senator Simon, of Oregon, is the smallest man in the senate. As he stood in the marble room the other day, says the Washington Post, surrounded by a group of enthusiastic Oregonians, towered above him until he looked like a hazel nut in the bottom of a quart measure. His diminutive size is all the more noticeable when it is remembered that the statesmen who have represented Oregon in the past have all been of large stature. Senator Dolph was over six feet tall, ex Senator Mitchell is well built, and Congressman Ellis is as tall and as straight as a pine.

When he was a year old Senator Simon took an ocean voyage. He traveled with his father and mother from Germany to the United States, and reached Oregon when he was a child of six years. Figuratively, but not literally he has grown up with the west; but that his brain is very large in proportion to his body is shown by the high position he has achieved as a lawyer and the prominent part he plays as a political leader. He has been a delegate to the national convention which nominated Harrison at Minneapolis. Having been elected senator, his cup of ambition is full, for he can never be president of the United States.

The Hanna Subsidy Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The senate committees on commerce held an important hearing today on Senator Hanna's bill for the encouragement of commerce by granting subsidies to American shipping. Ex-Senator Edmunds made the first statement of the day, explaining the bill at length, and the reasons for its introduction. He said the subsidies proposed were so small that capitalists could not afford to enter upon an enterprise simply for the sake of earning the subsidy, but could only do so largely on account of other considerations. He urged the importance of having our commercial vessels in case of an European war.

J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern railway, strongly advocated the bill, and dwelt specially on our Oriental trade. While loth to go into new enterprises, if it were passed he would start a new line across the Pacific to afford an outlet for Western grain and other products now barred from export by small shipping facilities.

SENATORIAL ELECTIONS

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The senate and assembly in their respective chambers today voted for United States senator. In the assembly Chauncey M. Depew (rep.) received 84 votes and Edward Murphy (dem.) 69. In the senate Depew received 27 and Murphy 23.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 17.—The vote for senator in the house was as follows: Quay, 85, Jenks, 70, Stone, 9, Dalzell, 13, scattering 22. Quay lacks 16 votes of election.

The result of the ballot for United States Senator today in the senate was as follows: Quay 27, Jenks 12, Dalzell, 3, Cowan 1, Huff 1, Charles E. Smith 1, G. W. Stone 1.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 17.—Francis Marion Cockerell was today re-elected to a fifth term in the United States senate.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 17.—The vote on United States senator day resulted as follows: Allen (fusion) 68, Howard 28, Webster, 10, Thompson, 7, Field, 4, Davidson 1, Lambertson 3, Valentine 3, Hineshaw, Little, Cornish, Haines, Martin, and Van Duyen 1 each, Rees, Majors, Adams and Foss 2 each. All are Republicans except Allen. Allen received the solid fusion vote.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 17.—Today's vote for senator in the senate resulted as follows: Humes 5, Foster 6, Wilson 4, Lewis 19.

In the house the vote for senator resulted as follows: Wilson 21, Foster 20, Humes 17, Ankeny, 8, J H Lewis 8, J B Allen 1.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—Albert J. Beveridge, republican, was today elected United States Senator by the general assembly in separate sessions. A formal joint ballot will be held tomorrow.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Each branch of the legislature balloted for United States senator today, and senator Henry Cabot Lodge, the republican nominee, received heavy majorities in both houses.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 17.—Eugene Hale was re-elected senator by concurrent vote of the two branches of the legislature this afternoon, and tomorrow at noon a joint convention will formally confirm the election. The coming term will be Mr. Hale's fourth term in the senate. Many republicans were not present, and quite a large number refrained from voting, as an expression of their disapproval of Mr. Hale's course on expansion and in regard to the peace treaty. Several explained that they voted for Mr. Hale only because he was the party nominee.

CARSON, Nev., Jan. 17.—The principal event of the day in the senatorial contest was the mass meeting tonight, at which Frank G. Newlands discussed his candidacy, the audience including the entire legislative force of both houses.

Many predict a deadlock as a result of the candidacy of Mason and Clark, each of whom claim the democratic vote. The real test of strength between Stewart and Newlands will be over the appointment of a committee to decide the contested legislative seats. An attempt was made this afternoon to select the committee, but both the Stewart and Newlands factions favored delay.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 17.—The situation in the legislature continues complicated. The house, although in the sixth day's session, is still working on contests, and there is so telling when the senatorial vote may be had.

HELENA, Jan. 17.—Today's senatorial ballot resulted as follows: Conrad 34, Clark 24, Toole 8. The other democratic and silver-republican votes are scattered.

DOVER, Del., Jan. 18.—The legislature in joint session took two ballots for United States senator. There was no election. Addicks (union rep.), and George G. Ray (dem.), each have 15, the others scattering. Necessary to choice, 25.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 18.—The two houses of the legislature in joint session ratified the election of Burrows as senator.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 18.—The senatorial situation remains unchanged, the house still being in dead-lock over contested seats.

Of Interest to Many Settlers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Senator McBride today reported favorably from the committee on public lands a bill which he had introduced, extending the act of June 16, 1880, to certain settlers. These settlers have paid $2 50 per acre for lands supposed to be within railroad grants, the price outside being $1 25. The bill is intended to allow such settler a rebate of $1 25 per acre, whether the lands have been forfeited or found not to be within a railroad grant.

Congressman Dingley Dead.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Representative Nelson Dingley, of Maine, died at 10:30 tonight.

(Nelson Dingley, jr., of Lewiston, was born at Durham, Androscoggin county, Me., February 15, 1832; graduated at Dartmouth college in the class of 1855; studied law and was admitted to the bar, but left the profession to become proprietor and editor of the Lewiston, Me., Journal, daily and weekly, in 1856 and still maintained that connection until the hour of his death; was a member of the state house of representatives in 1862, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1868, 1873; was speaker of the state house of representatives in 1863 and 1864; was governor of Maine in 1874-76; received the degree of L. L. D. from Bates college in 1874 and from Dartmouth college in 1894; was a delegate to the national republican convention in 1876; was elected to the forty-seventh congress as a republican at a special election on the 12th of September, 1881, to fill the vacancy caused by the election of Hon. William P. Frye to the United States senate; was re-elected a representative at large to the forty-eighth congress, was elected to the forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third, fifty-fourth, fifty-fifth and fifty-sixth congresses. He was the author of the tariff bill which bears his name and one of the ablest men on the republican side of the house of representatives.)
