A Pleasant Reception.

Rev. E. S. Bollinger, the new Congregational minister was tendered a welcome reception at the church by the members of his congregation, Tuesday night. The affair was given in the annex, which had been decorated with bowers and wreaths of evergreens, presenting an enlivened appearance. A large number of people were present to give Rev. Bollinger the hand of welcome, and cultivate the pleasure of his social acquaintance. Among the invited guests were Rev. H. Oberg, pastor of the M. E. church, Rev. A. J. Montgomery, Presbyterian, and Rev. W. H. Latourette, Baptist. Addresses were made, and exquisite music rendered by a quartette of ladies of the church. After the rendition of the program, an excellent lunch with coffee was served by young ladies. C. H. Dye acted as master of ceremonies. The following program of music and speech-making was rendered: Song—"My Creole Sue" by quartette composed of Mrs. E. E. Charman, Mrs. W. B. Wiggins, Mrs. Ira Wishart, Miss Wishart.

Address—"The Congregational Church Here and its Work," Mrs. C. H. Dye. Vocal Duets—"Land of the Swallows," Mesdames Charman and Wiggins. Welcome to the Pastor—Rev. H. Oberg, of the M. E. church. Welcome to the "newest" pastor, by the "oldest" pastor—Rev. A. J. Montgomery.

Response—by Rev. E. S. Bollinger, Song—by the quartette "There is a Land Mine Eye Hath Not Seen."

The lunch was then served and the remainder of the evening was passed socially.

Mr. Albright Elected Director.

The election of school director for the Oregon City district, Monday passed off quietly. C. O. Albright was the successful candidate against Dr. W. E. Carl the present incumbent, by a vote of 95 to 90. Mrs. S. M. McCowan, was elected clerk, she having no opposition. The vote by wards for director was as follows:

First Ward—

Albright 30

Carl 35

Second Ward—

Albright 38

Carl 35

Third Ward—

Albright 27

Carl 20

Total—

Albright 95

Carl 90

It was agreed between the candidates for director that neither would hire carriages for the purpose of running in voters and the principal lecturing done was that of friends of the office seekers, who worked the streets and public places to good advantage. The total vote polled was small, comparatively. This was partly because of the new school laws, governing qualifications of voters, which are more exclusive than formerly.

Dr. Carl, in the capacity of school director has served the people well and satisfactorily. Although Mr. Albright is not accustomed to the duties of the office he has a clean record behind him, and assumes the responsibilities with earnestness, and concern for the public welfare.

Officers Elected.

An annual meeting of the members of Willamette club was held in their rooms at the Weinhard building, Monday night and the following officers were elected: C. G. Huntley, president; J. J. Cooke, vice-president, and Hon. C. D. Latourette, treasurer. No secretary was chosen at this meeting.

Board of directors: J. P. Lovett, Dr. W. E. Carl, G. E. Hedges and Judge Thos. F. Ryan.

The members decided to suspend the initiation fee of $20 for one month, and allow new members to come in by paying the regular monthly dues of $1.50.

The Artisans' Social.

The United Artisans gave another one of their regular monthly entertainments at the Redmen's hall Thursday night. An excellent program was rendered and a fine supper partaken of. The house was well filled with members and their friends. Supreme Master Artisan Francis I. McKenna, of Portland, was present and favored the members with an address appropriate to the occasion. He said in particular that he wished to say as editor of the "Artisan" that nothing had ever appeared in that paper intentionally, detrimental to the Ancient order of Woodmen. He stated that statements appearing in the paper had been greatly misconstrued; that he had the highest respect for the Woodmen. He did not intend to try to build up one Fraternal order by endeavoring to tear down another.

A varied musical program was rendered by local talent.
