Filipinos Completely Routed.
LONDON, March 15.—The Evening News this afternoon published the following from Manila:
General Wheaton has completely routed the Filipinos, and has occupied Pasig, Taguig and Pateros. Several hundred of the enemy were killed and as many were captured. General Otis says this is the greatest victory since Feb. 5. The Americans will now press towards Aguinaldo's headquarters.

City Council Meets.
A special meeting of the city council was held Wednesday evening, the mayor C. D. Latourette, and all the members of the common council, being present.
The committee on sewerage reported favorably to the council, recommending a system more extensive than the one proposed by the council committee at the previous meeting.

G. E. Hayes admitted a minority report, opposing the system at this time, for the reason that the poor people are unable to pay for the same.

A remonstrance from the people was read, having 80 signers. After a general discussion in which property holders participated pro and con the matter was continued until the next meeting; the committee and city engineer to make an estimate of costs of proposed plan, and prepare an ordinance for putting it into effect.

The Portland General Electric Co., made a proposition to reduce the cost of lighting, 12 1/2 per cent, the city to advance $609 for poles as agreed, and deduct monthly installments from the bill for lights until refunded.

The company agreed to furnish three additional arc lights free, which amounted to a 12 1/2 per cent reduction, but on the basis of a three year contract. The offer was not accepted, and the recorder was ordered to notify the company the council asked a reduction of 25 per cent.

Some matters of roads and lumber for street work, was continued until next meeting, April 5.

Who is Who.

The matter of who shall be the successor as county school superintendent to H. S. Strange, deceased, has at last been settled. Two appointees, one made by the board of commissioners, and one by County Judge Ryan Thomas E. Ryan, were striving for the office. N. W. Bowland was named by the former, and J. C. Zinser, by the latter. An opinion on the situation, favorable to N. W. Bowland, and endorsing the action of the board has been obtained from the attorney general, of the state, which is agreed to by the state superintendent of public instruction.

It is understood that J. C. Zinser has withdrawn from the contest, since the above opinion of the case was rendered.

New Appointments.

The governor has named J. D. Lee, of Portland, superintendent of the penitentiary. H. B. Miller, of Grants Pass has been chosen president of the board of horticulture.

The state board of education has appointed H. E. Bickers, of Pendleton, superintendent of the reform school and J. Churchill, Baker City, E. B. Conklin, Union, Frank Rieger and R. F. Robinson, Portland, Thomas Newland, Newberg, T. M. Gatch, Corvallis, L. H. Baker, Lebanon, N. L. Narrepan, Medford and C. A. Hitchcock, Ashland to the board of teachers' examiners, and the governor has named A. W. Reed, of Gardiner, A. J. Johnson, Scio, J. H. Seltmeier, Woodburn, W. H. Werrung, Hillsboro and George Chandler Wingville, Baker county, the new board of agriculture.

A Chapter on Good Roads.

HIGHLAND, March 13.—[To the Editor]—We do not discuss the road question until the roads get so bad that we cannot get to town. We do not talk politics very much until a short time before election, consequently our roads and our politics are liable to be badly in need of repairs for a long time to come. We noticed an account of a meeting held by the business men of Oregon City for the purpose of building a road near Union Mills. At that meeting the opinion expressed by some was that they should give the farmers good roads. We appreciate the good intentions of those men, but we would like to know if the people of Oregon City can give the farmers good roads, why is it that the farmers are powerless to make good roads for themselves. Now gentlemen! if you want good roads, which you undoubtedly do, you have only to adopt the New England township system of local government which gives us a road system similar to that in Wisconsin and many other states and the farmers will make their own roads and have good ones inside of seven years. But let us keep on with the present system or any other that Clackamas county has had and it matters not who the county court may be, we will never have good roads. STEPHEN HUTCHENSON.

Murray.—At the home of his stepson, Geo. A. Harding, March 14, 1899, Charles E. Murray, aged 85 years and 12 days.

Charles E. Murray, an old and respected pioneer of Oregon City, died at the home of his stepson, George A. Harding, at 10:30 a. m., Tuesday, Mr. Murray had been declining for the past three weeks, having contracted la grippe his debilitated physical powers were unable to carry him through.

The deceased came to Oregon in 1837, arriving at Portland, and soon after moved to Oregon City, where he has been almost continuously since. He leaves two sons, one at Tacoma, Wash., and one in St. Louis, Mo. George A. Harding and Henry Harding are his stepsons, and Mrs. Vieselich, of Stockton, Cal., a stepdaughter. His wife died in 1897. The funeral was held at the residence of George Harding Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m., Rev. P. K. Hammond officiating, and the remains interred at Mountain View cemetery.

"March King" Coming.

"Sousa is Coming" is the glad tidings that will interest every lover of music in this vicinity, for the annual appearance of the "March King" and his men in this city has already assumed the proportion of an event of supreme importance both socially and musically. Nothing succeeds like success, and Sousa has succeeded in reaching the public heart, not only by the character of his inspiring music, but by his magnetic personality as director—a man so attuned to the spirit of his work that his every motion breathes through it and makes his very presence as leader of that insimitable band an inspiration. It is particularly pleasant to find now and then a man who likes his work for the work's sake, the cheers of the multitude in approval of his efforts being more to him than the "jingling of the guinea."

Having played with hardly an inter-ruption for more than six years under the discipline and guidance of the "March King" the Sousa band is probably as near perfection as it is possible to reach with a wind orchestra. It is an organization of the most gifted performers on their respective instruments, as well as the best played in the country. Their faultless phrasing and their characteristic verve and swing in playing has insured their popularity and fame. Mr. Sousa is a veritable clairvoyant at guessing the musical preferences of his patrons and his programs are models of good taste invariably. The Sousa band will give Portland three concerts at the National Guard Armory on Monday and Tuesday, March 20 and 21, assisted by Miss Maud Reese Davies, soprano, and Miss Dorothy Holmiste.

The Star Concert of the Season.

A rare treat is promised to the people of Oregon City on the evening of Tuesday, March 21 in the appearance at the Methodist church of the talented soprano of New York, Mollie Adelia Brown. She has with her two artists, who have become favorites with both press and public, Russell H. Ballard, cellist, of London, and G. Tagel Crist, pianist of San Francisco.

The combination of voice, cello and piano promises a delightful enjoyment. Admission 35 cents, reserved seats 50 cents at Huntley's.

Sterner's Destitution.
Laurence Sterne, the writer, was the victim of the intensest poverty. A little time before his death, being in a state of destitution, he went one evening to borrow £5 from his friend Garrick. Upon arriving, he heard music and knew that a party was going on. He heard the merry laughter, and, gently replacing the uplifted knocker, retraced his steps.

We never feel our miseries so keenly as when contrasted with the joys of others, and it is only then that we realize Wordsworth's picture:

And homeless near a thousand homes I stood,
And near a thousand tables pined for food.
Another story of this writer does not evoke so much sympathy. It was known that Sterne used his wife very ill, and in talking with Garrick one day in fine sentimental style of conjugal love and fidelity he said, "The husband who behaves unkindly to his wife deserves to have his house burn down over his head."

A Malay Sultan's Letter.

In the cover there were three inclosures—a formal letter of extreme politeness, written by a scribe; secondly, a letter written in my friend's own hand; and thirdly, another paper, headed, "Hidden Secrets," written also in the sultan's own hand. At the top of the first page of the second letter is written, "Our friendship is sealed in the innocent recesses of my heart." Then this, "I send this letter to my honored and renowned friend" (here follow my name, designation and some conventional compliments). The letter then continues: "You, my dear friend, are never out of my thoughts, and they are always wishing you well. I hear that you are coming to see me, and for that reason my heart is exceedingly glad, as though the moon had fallen into my lap or I had been given a cluster of flowers grown in the garden called Benjerana Sri, wide opening under the influence of the sun's warm rays."

An Antepuptical Understanding.

"There is one question I want to ask you, dearest," said the beautiful girl as she toyed with the diamond ring on her third finger. "When we are married, will you expect me to bake my own bread?"

Unhappy Hindoo Women.

The Hindoo holy books forbid a woman to see dancing, bear music, wear jewels, blacken her eyebrows, eat dainty food, sit at a window or view herself in a mirror during the absence of her husband and allow him to divorce her if she has no sons, injures his property, scolds him, quarrels with another woman or presumes to eat before he has finished his meal.

A Newcastle (England) man writes this to the editor on a postal card:

"What do, Mr. Editor, what price this? If the month is the window of the intellect, toothache must be a sort of window pain."

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work."

SCARED TO LIFE.

Mrs. Fannie Smith, of Terre Haute, had been for more than ten years confined to her bed, absolutely unable to move hand or foot. Her case was utterly hopeless, according to physicians. She was alone one day, when suddenly the cry of fire was raised. The fire proved to be in an adjoining house, and attracted, for the time being, the attention of the family, so that they did not think of the sick woman upstairs. As the cries grew louder with the increasing crowd and the engines rumbled along the streets, and the woman realized that the fire was close at hand, her agony became almost unendurable. Suddenly, as the noises swelled into a great cry, and as she thought she heard the hissing of the flames she leaped with a bound from the bed and ran down stairs. She had been shocked into life.

This is not a solitary case. The story of this event in the newspapers called out from various sources accounts of similar events in which cure had been wrought by strong excitement. These facts are important because they prove that there is a great reserve force in nature upon which the sick can draw if they can once be brought into contact with that reserve force by the use of proper means.

In a large majority of cases, these people if they could be acted upon by the required force could be restored to a condition of healthy, happy living. There is for these, as there is for everyone, a great reserve force in nature, a great reserve of recuperation, when the proper means can be brought into use, to cause this reserved force to flow and to start up the machinery of recuperation. The great need of the despairing and helpless sick is HOPE. But suppose your case is consumption. Is it an idle thing to discuss the question of the curability of consumption. When doctors disagree who shall decide? Let us waive that question entirely and look at the facts as they are. Here are hundreds of cases of persons who have been desperately ill. They had the scarlet color in the face, the drenching night sweats, the evening waking of cough, shortness of breath, the spitting of blood, the daily weakening, which betokens consumption. They believed they had consumption and said so. The doctors said they had consumption and could give.

NEITHER HOPE NOR HELP.

These people have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and are living in the activity of their business pursuits or their household duties. It may be that all the symptoms were false, that all the doctors were mistaken, that the patients themselves were wrong, that they did not have consumption at all. But the fact remains that they were sick, shut out from active life and losing with every day their grip upon the present. It may be that they did have consumption and have it yet and are not cured, but if there is any medicine that will do as the "Golden Medical Discovery" has done for such as these, it will destroy every consequence of the disease and sweep away all its symptoms; will relieve from pain and put the life back upon the plane of perfect health, then the name of consumption becomes but a bugbear to scare the weak. As a matter of fact, it is no moment what the doctor shall call the disease that releases me from life, if I have lived my life to the full limit of its years and to the full enjoyment of its pleasures, its labors and its relations.

Three physicians treated David Wartenhaft, Esq., of Shoemaker'sville, Berks Co., Pa., and told him there was no cure for him. That was years ago. "I then used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and was entirely cured."

"As you know, five years ago the doctors had given me up to die with consumption," writes Mr. E. McKinney, of Deepwater, Fayette Co., W. Va. "I took treatment from Dr. R. V. Pierce, and am entirely well now. I have taken steadily, as directed, his 'Golden Medical Discovery'."

The undersigned will apply to the mayor and city council of Oregon City for a continuance of his liquor license in his present place of business, to take place from April 5, '99. JOHN REILLY.

SUMMONS.
In the circuit court of the state of Oregon for the county of Clackamas.
Maggie E. Sasse, plaintiff, vs. Harry Sasse, defendant, summons.

To Harry Sasse, defendant in the above entitled suit:
In the name of the state of Oregon you are hereby required to appear and answer to the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit by Monday, May 1, 1899. Said suit is commenced by the plaintiff against you for a divorce and if you fail to answer between now and said time for said answer the plaintiff will take judgment against you for a divorce and the dissolution of the marriage now existing between you and said plaintiff.

This summons is served by publication in pursuance of the order made by the Honorable Thos. A. McBride, Judge of the circuit court of the state of Oregon, for the county of Clackamas. Dated the 9th day of March 1899, and ordered the first publication to be made on the 17th day of March, 1899. SPENCER & MOTTER, Attorneys for plaintiff.

SUMMONS.
In the circuit court of the state of Oregon for the county of Clackamas.

Mrs. M. J. Boen, plaintiff, vs. James G. O'Connor, Patrick T. O'Connor, William P. O'Connor, Mary J. Brady and James Brady, her husband, E. F. Riley, Thomas Charman and Fred Charman as partners doing business under the firm name of Charman & Son, Thomas Charman, Fred Charman and H. Rees, defendants.

To W. H. Rees and Thomas Charman above named defendants:
In the name of the state of Oregon you and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order for the publication of this summons, namely: Six successive weeks. The first issue of said publication to be dated March 17, 1899, and said publication to end with the issue dated April 13, 1899. And if you fail to answer for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in her said complaint, namely: For a decree against James G. O'Connor, Patrick T. O'Connor, William P. O'Connor, Mary J. Brady and James Brady, her husband, above named defendants for the sum of $500, and interest thereon since July 14, 1895, at 10 per cent per annum, less $44 paid on said interest; for the sum of $97.23 interest thereon since Jan. 11, 1898, at legal rate; for sum of $19.94 taxes paid and interest thereon since March 3, 1890, at legal rate and for the sum of $120 as attorneys fees in said suit and for her costs and disbursements herein.

That the mortgage given by said last named defendants to said plaintiff for $50 on the 16th day of July 1895 on the following described land, namely: The S. E. quarter of the N. E. quarter of sec. 21 in T. 3 S. of R. 2 E. and the S. W. quarter of the N. E. quarter and the S. half of the N. W. quarter of sec. 19 in T. 3 S. of R. 3 E. of the Willamette Meridian, the same being the homestead of William O'Connor. Also the S. W. quarter of sec. 19 of T. 3 S. of R. 3 E. of the Willamette Meridian, the same being part of the D. L. C. of George S. Smith, both tracts containing 325 acres, more or less, may be foreclosed and that said land be sold by the sheriff of Clackamas county, Oregon, according to law, and the proceeds thereon be applied to the payment of the costs of said sale and of this suit and to the satisfaction of the above named sums due the said plaintiff and that said defendants and all persons claiming under or otherwise, including any and all claims by said part of said Thomas Charman and Fred Charman partners as above designated, E. F. Riley, Mary J. Brady, W. H. Rees, Thomas Charman and Fred Charman may be barred and foreclosed of all rights, claim or equity of redemption in and to said plaintiffs may have a deficiency judgment against James G. O'Connor, Patrick T. O'Connor, William P. O'Connor, Mary J. Brady and James Brady, her husband, for any deficiency that might remain after applying all the proceeds of said sale as above alleged to the satisfaction of said decree and for such other and further relief in the premises as to equity may pertain.

Published pursuant to an order of the Hon. Thomas A. McBride, Judge of this above entitled court. Dated March 14, 1899.
