The story portrays one of the most touching scenes in bible history and is staged in a beautiful manner with special scenery and music.

Mrs. G. W. Grace, who lives on upper Seventh street spent a pleasant afternoon Wednesday with a score of her lady friends at her home. Music, reading, singing and games quickly hurried the afternoon away and towards the close of day a delicious luncheon was served which rendered the day complete.

The entertainment given by the students at the Mt. Pleasant school on Saturday evening was poorly attended on account of the disagreeable weather. However the program was rendered and those who were present gave it their heartiest applause and speak very well of its excellence. Because of the bad weather the same entertainment will be given again soon.

Following the last rate war of 1898 between the Northern overland lines, over the question of differentials, peace was declared on a basis of equal rates all around, but the lines between St. Paul and Chicago were still disturbed by local troubles, and the combination of rates east and west of St. Paul made Chicago $57.75 first class and $47.75 second class. This last difficulty in the way of complete restoration of standard fares has at last been adjusted, and on April 25th, through rates to Chicago and points west were rebuilt to normal figures by all lines, so that it now costs no more to travel by way of the Southern Pacific through California than by the Northern lines, through Vancouver, Helena or Spokane.—Pioneer Press.

City Council Meets.

At the regular monthly meeting of the city council held Wednesday night, Mayor Latourette presided, and all the councilmen were present except C. Schuebel. Mrs. W. C. Johnson's remonstrance against extending the opening of Tenth street was returned to the committee on health and police.

A communication was read from E. Batdorf reciting that the Indian camp on the hill was a nuisance and asked to have it removed. The matter was referred to the committee on health and police.

The recorder's report showed that only one burial permit had been issued during April.

The ordinance relating to the improvement of all cross streets from Third to Tenth street inclusive, failed to reach a final passage, as a majority of the property owners on all of said streets, except a part of Eight remonstrated. Ordinance as to the latter street was laid over.

Ordinance appropriating $500 for the Molalla road was passed by a small majority.

Ordinance to pay Portland General Electric Company $600 for extending the poles and lines was laid over.

A motion was carried that the street committee advertise for sealed bids to furnish lumber and crushed rock.

The ordinance authorizing the purchase of 50,000 feet of lumber and 700 yards of crushed rock was passed.

It was voted to lay the sewer ordinance on the table; the motion to employ Mr. Cunningham, a civil engineer, to draw plans for a sewer system was also lost.

An ordinance was read for the first time requiring all wood wagons and vehicles carrying freight in the city, with over 3 inch skeins, to use wide tires from four to five inches; wagons hauling farm produce are excepted.

An ordinance for the building or the building of a roadway from Third up the bluff was read the first time.

No motion an ordinance was ordered drawn for the building of a new stairway up to Falls View.

The city attorney was authorized to proceed to make the defense on the damage suit of Cottam.

Recorder Curry was allowed $30 for re-adjusting the papers belonging to city and $15 for plate of the cemetery.
