Pioneer Oregonian Gone.

William S. Moore, an Oregon pioneer of 1849, died Saturday at his home, 472 Yambill street Portland of senile gangrene and beart trouble, from which he had suffered for a number of years. He was the father of State Treasurer Moore.

William S. Moore was born near Belteville, Ill., April 24, 1829, and he spent the first 18 years of his life with his parents on the farm there. In 1849 he crossed the plains to Oregon, being in the party that included Ahio Watt and the Catlins, and the first winter be spent at Rickreall. In the spring he came to Oregon City, and, after the passage of the donation land act, he took a claim under it in Marion county, near Mount 1 25 Angel, and made his home there for a number of years. In 1854 he married Margaret C. Meldrum. Seven years later they moved to Oregon City, where $26 75 Mr. Moore was called to take charge of The above things were purchased for the construction of the flouring mills the sick who were unable to eat regular that are still in operation here, he being army rations furnished by the United a millwright by trade, and then he went to Salem and built the big mill there.
