THE LOCAL NEWS.

EXCURSION ABANDONED.—The Fourth July excursion to the Cascades, proposed by the young people of the Baptist church, has been abandoned for the reason that the committee could not make satisfactory arrangements with the managers of the boat.

BOAT TAKEN.—H. E. Jones, an employee of the Willamette Paper mill, while boating logs below the locks today, was struck in the foot with a log pole in the hands of another logger. The accident will cause a few days' lay-up, but is not of a serious nature.

THE NEW HATCHERY.—Ford Parker, John Ely, Pete Wells and Ernest Jackson left by private conveyance on Monday last, for the site of the new hatchery which is under construction for the state, opposite the old hatchery on upper Clackamas river. They will assist with their muscle and brain in its erection.

THE RUTH DAMAGED.—On her down trip last Monday the steamer Ruth struck a point of rock a few miles above Grand spring her bottom seams so damaged that considerable water was shipped. On her arrival here a ship carpenter was employed for from Portland. Her engines were kept running until the leak was stopped, when she proceeded on to Portland.

A PLEASANT EVENING.—On Friday night the Willamette Rebecca Lodge, No. 2, of this city, entertained a delegation of Columbia Rebecca Lodge, of Portland, who were paying a social visit to this lodge. Ice cream and cake was served in abundance and a general good time was enjoyed. The visiting members returned on the 10:30 car, after which two new members were initiated into the Willamette Lodge.

BIKE PATH FUND.—The sum of $157, bicycle tax, has been collected to date for the building of the Clackamas county bicycle path. This amount does not include the collector's fees, which are 25 cents for each tag issued. The cost of making the tags and printing the receipts will be deducted from the amount mentioned, which is less than $100, leaving over $1100 to be expended on the path.

HAD QUARTERLY INSPECTION.—The regular quarterly inspection of Separate No. 1, F. O. N. G. was held at the Armory Monday night. Capt. F. A. Metzner was the inspecting officer. There were seven men and three officers present and they were able to "right, shoulder and march" and keep as good a line as the regular volunteers when they fall in with them next month in Portland. A number of citizens were present to watch the inspection.

NEW LODGE INSTITUTED.—In the A. O. U. W. hall last Saturday night there was instituted a lodge in the Arabian Degree No. 1. The charter list contained 36 members, of whom 21 were present for initiation. Officers were elected as follows: H. P. C. H. Dye; G. W., John McTearie; G. M., W. B. Wiggins; P. K.,

C. H. Schuebel; O. G. W. Maw; F. R., Wm. Albehan; S. R., A. C. Beaulieu; G. J. H. J. Harding; G. B., G. E. Hayes; I. L. Joe Fromong; O. L., Sam Hoake. The order is of a social nature and the ritualistic work is very impressive. A large number of applications are being received and a prosperous lodge is assured.

ATTEMPTED RAPE.—John Johnson, a native of Sweden, aged 47 years, was arrested at Milwaukie last Saturday night by Constable M. F. McCown, on the charge of attempted rape on the person of a 15-year child, Phila Farnsworth. The case was called for a preliminary hearing in Justice Schuebel's court at 10 o'clock a. m. Wednesday. The state was represented by Deputy District Attorney G. B. Dimick, and Geo. C. Brownell represented the defense. The purpose of the evidence presented by the state was, that on the evening of June 24th about 6 o'clock loud cries were heard near the home of George A. Robinson to Milwaukie. Mr. Robinson ran toward the place from where he heard the cries and was guided by the child calling her Mamma. When he reached the spot he saw Johnson in a compromising position. Robinson struck Johnson in the back of the head with his fist as he rose from the ground. Johnson then ran for some timber near by with Robinson in pursuit, but being unable to catch him, returned and carried the child home. The defense waived examination and Johnson was bound over to await trial in the circuit court. His bond was fixed at $1000, and not being able to furnish the amount, he was committed to the county jail.

TROUBLE BREWING.—The county officials have challenged the city council for a game of baseball on the Gladstone Diamond Monday, July 3rd, at 2 p. m., for a purse of $25 and gate receipts. The challenge has been accepted, and the raid has commenced on the drug stores, buying up supplies of crutches, bandages, court plaster and ointments. The teams have been formed, and the batteries selected and umpire chosen. We give the list as it is arranged to date. County officials' team: J. J. Cooke, catcher; T. P. Randall, pitcher; Thos. F. Ryan, short stop; Peter Nelson, first base; N. W. Bowland, second base; J. D. Jack, third base; Elmer Dixon, left field; M. C. Strickland, center field; E. H. Cooper, right field; E. P. Deadman, Ely Williams, John G. Porter, substitutes; G. L. Hedges, umpire. City council team: F. Metzner, catcher; C. H. Schuebel, pitcher; F. Bosch, short stop; C. G. Huntley, first base; C. D. Latourette, second base; A. Millin, third base; J. W. Powell, right field; R. Koenner, center field; B. C. Curry, left field; E. Barnes, J. C. Bradley and A. S. Dresser, substitutes. It is stated that the umpire will be put out in the first round. It may be a good plan to take out a supply of aspirin so as not to delay the game. Spectators will not be allowed to enter the ground with brick bats or fire arms in their possession. The purse and gate receipts will be donated to the fund for the reception of the returning soldiers by the winners. A cordial invitation is extended to every man, woman and child in the state. Bring your horns.

WASHINGTON IRVING. He Was an Utter Failure as an After Dinner Speaker. Washington Irving was not a ready after dinner speaker. The author of "American Bookmen" says that he shunned public appearances. Yet when Dickens came to New York, in 1843, Irving could not escape presiding at the great dinner in his honor. They had already become friends through correspondence, for Irving's delight in Little Nell had to be expressed in a letter to the author, and Dickens, in his enthusiastic response, had said: "Diedrich Knickerbocker! I have worn to death in my pocket, and yet I should show you his mutilated carcass with a joy beyond expression." The night of the public dinner came, and Irving's dread of the introductory speech kept him murmuring throughout the repast. "I shall certainly break down." At the proper time he rose to his feet, began bravely, but could only utter a few sentences, and ended by taking refuge in the announcement of the toast.

Charles Dickens, the guest of the nation. The applause was generous, and Irving took his seat. "There!" he said. "I told you I should break down, and I have done it!" Later, while on his way to Madrid, he found himself called upon at the dinner of the Literary fund in London to respond to the toast, "Washington Irving and American literature." All he could say in acknowledgment of an enthusiastic reception was: "I beg to return you my very sincere thanks."

One Englishman at the table was heard to make the laconic comment, "Dried!" "Yes," said another beside him, "but you can tell the gentleman in the very tone of his voice."

Would Not Suffer so Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so bad in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCord's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Haverlyman, Burgin, Pa. This remedy is for sale by G. A. Harding, Druggist.

The Latest Yarn.

A Pittsburg drummer tells this new yarn: I always carry a bottle of Kemp's Balm in my grip. I take cold easily and a few doses of the Balm always makes me a well man. Everywhere I go I speak a good word for Kemp. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them confidentially what I do when I take cold. At druggists, 25c and 50c.

Stockholders' Meeting.

Notice is hereby given, that the annual meeting of the Oregon City Manufacturing company will be held at the office of the company in Oregon City on Saturday, July 8, 1899, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, for the purpose of electing directors of the corporation to serve for the ensuing year, and transacting such other business as may come before the stockholders' meeting. C. G. JACOBS, Secretary. Oregon City, June 1, 1899.

A Minister's Mistake.

A city minister was recently handed a notice to be read from his pulpit. Accompanying it was a clipping from a newspaper bearing upon the matter. The clergyman started to read the extract and found that it began: "Take Kemp's Balm, the best Cough Cure." This was hardly what he had expected and, after a moment's hesitation, he turned it over, and found on the other side the matter intended for the reading.

A Remarkable Piano.

One Bonchet, who compiled a history of Aquitaine, describes a remarkable pianoforte built for Louis XI by the Abbe de Baigue. The king one day hearing a drove of hogs tuning up preparatory to a general rush for and promiscuous scramble at the slop pail, laughingly ordered the priest to contrive means by which these seemingly discordant sounds might produce harmony.

Tradition does not affirm that the reverend gentleman scratched his head thereat, but owing to the prevalence of the tonure it is safe to assert that he did not. Notwithstanding which, however, he managed to nicely grade the drove, from the thin treble of the shote to the bassoon grunt of the tusked boar and, having arranged them in stalls under a pavilion, announced to his astonished majesty, who had not thought of the matter since, that the piano was in tune.

The king, incredulous, attended, and when the abbe struck the keys there poured forth to the delight of the entire court a burst of music such as Orpheus never conceived. The explanation, when the crafty prelate chose to expose his plan, was most simple. The keys being struck, a prong set in motion by the action was stuck into the pig, grazing or piercing, according to the force and temperament of the player, the resulting squeal, howl or groan producing harmony.

Paste Gelat.

The pleasure of wearing sparkling stones is to a great extent the knowledge that others cannot afford to wear them. But this is a pleasure with which I have no sympathy. Jewels should simply be regarded as an ornament, irrespective of their intrinsic value. But so little is this realized by the wealthy classes that many ladies wear sham diamonds exactly similar to those that they possess, which are kept at their bankers for fear of theft. This is much like a person plastering himself over with certified bankers' checks. It is a mere advertisement to all that the person is so wealthy that he or she can afford to leave a vast amount of capital locked up without interest.—London Truth.

A Backward Boy.

President of the Company—I guess you'd better discharge that boy. Manager—Why? He seems to be a nice, quiet kind of a boy, and I haven't noticed that he has neglected his work. President—That's all very true, but I don't think he has the making of a financial genius in him. He's been around here for more than three weeks now and hasn't given either you or me to understand that he knows more about the business than we do.—New York World.

Religion is intended for both worlds, and right living for this is the best preparation for the next. Character is decisive of destiny.—Tryon Edwards.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Geo. A. Harding's Drug Store as their giving away to their many customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable remedy, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size 50c and $1.00. TALKING DOWN THE TUBE.

Unpleasant Results From Keeping a Harsh Voiced Maid. One of the unpleasant features of life in a flat is that you unconsciously turn friends or indifferent acquaintances into active enemies. Some one rings the bell. Your faithful maid rushes from the kitchen to the speaking tube.

"Who is it?" But no words can describe the forbidding tone in which this natural request is made. You say to yourself, "I must sandpaper Emma's voice."

If you were at the other end of the tube, you would hear a well bred question: "Is Mrs. Smithers in?" "Who is it?" (Emma is uncompromising.) "Is Mrs. Smithers in?" "What's your name?" (Fortissimo.) "I asked if Mrs. Smithers was in."

"Yes, but who are you?" (You rush into the hall to expostulate.) "Will you tell Mrs. Smithers that Mrs. De Lancey Montessor called?" "Come up."

Silence. Ominous silence. You look out of the window. Mrs. Montessor is going away. The back of her head looks angry.

And it was only last Thursday that you invited her to talk with you at your home about getting up a class to study Dante in the original.

Emma is in the kitchen. You dare not reproach her. In the first place, you yourself told her always to ask a caller's name before opening the door. In the second place, she is getting dinner.—Boston Journal.

Cranky Vessels.

Even the best designers never know how their ships will turn out when completed. They may break all records for speed, or they may be so slow as to be entirely useless—a mere waste of money.

Years ago two mud barges were built at San Francisco, exactly alike, constructed from one design. One of them was quite commonplace, but the other raced every barge in the bay and beat them all; raced every yacht on the Pacific coast and beat them. She was so fast that yachts were built on her lines, but turned out mere barges for sloth.

Nobody could see how this craft differed from her crawling sisters or from the yachts. In 1851 the America went to Cowes, England, and raced for a prize cup. She won that trophy, and then an Englishman bought her and improved her hull, stiffening it with knees through out. After that she lost every race.

Thomas Thurman, deputy sheriff of Troy, Mo., says if everyone in the United States should discover the virtue of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for piles, rectal troubles and skin diseases, the demand could not be supplied.
