A list of provisions desired for the banquet will be given later through columns of this paper, as there can be any date set until it is positively known when the boys will arrive.

Reception to Archbishop Christie. Archbishop Christie, recently appointed to the archbishopric of Oregon, made his first visit to Oregon City last Friday evening and was tendered a reception by the members of St. John's parish. The event was an open air one, and was held in the church grounds, which were beautifully decorated and illuminated with tapers and colored lanterns.

Addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Latourette, on behalf of the city; Mr. McKnight and Frank Busch, on behalf of the congregation; Thos. W. Sullivan, on behalf of the Catholic Knights; Mrs. Fannie Porter, on behalf of the ladies' societies; and Miss Emma Falt, on behalf of the children. There were selections by an orchestra and songs sung by the school children.

Ed. Sheehan and Miss Mattie Apper favored the gathering with a beautiful duet. Father Hildebrand, in a happy mood, introduced the distinguished guest who very graciously acknowledged the different welcomes accorded him and in a few minutes' talk advised his auditors that his selection was the high and responsible position he held as superior. Rev. Christie is a man of wonderful power and energy and the bishopric of Oregon will make unparalleled progress during his administration.

THE STORE DETECTIVE.

One Occasion Where He Got Decidedly the Worst of It.

The tables were turned upon a woman detective in one of the large department stores recently when a woman whom she had been following from counter to counter turned on her and not only pulled her hair, but tore her gown. To a policeman who was summoned by the detective the shopper said that she was not a thief, and that the detective's espionage was an insult. No arrest was made.

The female detectives are known to the regular patrons of the stores where they are employed and it is not improbable when the shopper said that it was an insult to be followed by this woman, that she was thinking what opinion the other shoppers might form of her. One store in this town which obtained a lot of free advertising several years ago because of the energy of its female detective has paid heavily for it since. It was a store which by its arrangement offered great temptation to shoplifters, and undoubtedly it suffered from them. The woman detective was engaged, and as she was the pioneer of her class she attracted so much attention that she became unduly ambitious in her line of work. If a shopper happened to pick up an article and walk to another counter with it, a habit of many women, the detective was right beside her, and she felt that in the eye of the sleuth she was a probable thief, even if no arrest was attempted.

The annoyance of this woman's actions became so great and the numbers of arrests made by her was so large that the old patrons of the store fell away. They felt that the risk of being mistaken for a shoplifter outweighed the advantage of the bargains offered.—Chicago Chronicle

Some of the machines for making matches which are used in these days make 200 revolutions in a minute and turn out about 2,500,000 matches daily, or about 900,000,000 annually.

Consumption and Fresh Air.

It is a matter of common knowledge, says an English exchange, that the late Sir Andrew Clarke cured himself of consumption by living as much as possible in the open air. The principle involved has since been generally recognized by the medical profession, with the result that the old bad practice of keeping consumptives in warm, stuffy rooms has been almost entirely abandoned. It is fresh air which is mainly responsible for the cures worked at such places as Davos, where the patients spend 14 hours a day out of doors, breathing cold, bracing mountain air, while they are exhilarated by bright sunshine. The result is that each diseased spot in the lungs is cut off from the healthy tissue by a ring of stretched cells, across which disease germs cannot pass, and so the malady is arrested until the strengthened body can overcome it.

Worse Than Not Stopping.

An Englishman traveling in Maryland had occasion to investigate the running time of the trains that passed through the small place where he was stopping. Carefully searching a time table he found apparently that there would be an express train due at 4 o'clock that afternoon. The Englishman was on time with his grip, etc., and so was the express train. The intending passenger watched it approach and thunder by the station at top speed. The traveler was annoyed, and turning to a colored man who stood near, remarked:

"That train didn't stop!" "No, sir," replied the colored citizen cheerfully. "didn't ev'n hes'tate."

Sweet.

"I had my picture taken today," said little Christine. "I crossed my arms and leaned on a chair, and the picture man put my head in some tongue." "Why, you must have looked like a lump of sugar in sugar tongs," laughed papa. "Why, so I must have," said Christine delightedly. "cause the man kept saying, 'What a sweet little girl!'" "Want to Eat."
