

Personal Mention

Walter Toose and wife were visiting here Wednesday. John H. and W. J. Miley were in the city Monday from Wilsonville. Miss Mitchell, of The Dalles is attending the Chautauqua assembly. John Walda and family are visiting friends in the vicinity of Sherwood. Sam J. Oglesby, one of Beaver Creek's prominent farmers, was in the city Saturday. Mr. Fenton was in from Carus Monday and reports crops in fine condition in that vicinity. Judge Wolverton and wife, of Salem, are the guests of the family of R. D. Wilson this week. The Misses Bradley were Oregon City visitors Monday having made the trip on their bicycles from Woodburn. J. B. Bell, a prominent worker in national Sunday school circles, was registered at the Electric hotel on Sunday. C. V. Barlow departed Sunday evening for San Francisco, where he will extend a hearty welcome to Oregon soldiers boys. Wm. Troup is here from Seattle on a visit. Mr. Troup is a nephew of City Recorder Curry with whose family he is visiting. S. W. Dowling the new inspector of hatcheries for this district has arrived from Alpena, Mich., and is in charge of the work here. C. B. Winn, newly appointed census supervisor of the first congressional district, was in town Thursday and paid the Enterprise a pleasant call. Ed. Sheehan, C. H. Dye and Joe Froumang are in attendance this week at the grand lodge meeting of the A. O. U. W. at The Dalles. They left for there on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Campbell, of New Rockford, N. D., are visiting this week with the family of W. Maw. Mr. Campbell is a railroad man and is on his annual vacation tour. George Randall, one of New Era's prominent farmers was in the city Wednesday. Mr. Randall says that a good rain would have a most beneficial effect on crops, in fact, it is almost a necessity. W. F. Pruden was in the city from North Yamhill Sunday. Mr. Pruden is a physician in search of a location and is very favorably impressed with the outlook at Eagle Creek and may locate there. The Misses Mary and Bessie Hay of Portland, spent a few days visiting Miss Minerva and Ida Barrett; also Mr. C. Mattson and L. Hay made a flying trip out on their wheels, which resulted in a jolly time. Rev. A. J. Montgomery and family will leave Monday for Mount Hood where they will spend a month or so in camp life. Mr. Montgomery will be in Oregon City every Sunday to conduct services as usual. Geo. A. Harding left Sunday evening for San Francisco to visit for several days with his son, Lee Harding, who is a member of the Second Oregon. Mr. Harding will endeavor to have the boys of Co. I make arrangements to arrive here in a body, so that our citizens can give them a worthy welcome. Fielding Kelly surprised his many Oregon City friends by returning home Wednesday evening when not expected until yesterday. Mr. Kelly served with honor in the Second Oregon during the Manila campaign and returns home in excellent health not having a days sickness during his term of service, and is very favorably impressed with the future of the Philippines after Uncle Sam has "licked" the rebels into submission. Mr. Kelly was commissioned as adjutant of the 1st Battalion and served in that capacity until after the fall of Manila when he was assigned first lieutenant of Co. A. and in the absence of the captain commanded the company up to the time of the start for home when upon his request he was mustered out. He has visited at Hong Kong and other cities in Japan and China in the interest of the Portland Flouring Mills, and took passage for home on the Empress of India, via Vancouver, B. C. His friends are delighted to see him again.

Local Events.

Everything else seems lost this week in the interest taken in the Chautauqua. Prof. L. W. McAdam returned Thursday from an extended trip through Eastern Oregon. Robert Gardner was before Recorder Curry Tuesday on a charge of drunk and disorderly. He plead guilty and is doing a seven days sentence on the streets. Our Oregon City readers who have wood to saw or who wish to purchase first class wood will find it to their interest to call on T. B. Hankins. Last Friday afternoon at his residence A. J. Montgomery performed the marriage service for Mena Peterson and Alfred Alm. Both parties were from Portland.

Judge G. E. Hayes has been suffering the past week with a sore hand. He was threatened with blood poisoning for a time but danger from that source is now past. Oregon City Workmen have been honored by the election of C. H. Dye as grand inside watchman of the grand lodge A. O. U. W. now in session at The Dalles. A warrant of attachment was issued out of Justice Schuebel's court Wednesday against the household goods of N. O. McLoughlin upon complaint of G. H. Young to satisfy a claim of $95.00. Business in the matrimonial line has been unusually dull this week, but one marriage license being issued from the county clerk's office, that of Meni Peterson to Alfred Alm dated July 14. The children of St. Paul's Episcopal Sunday school enjoyed a picnic at Gladstone park last Friday afternoon. The party was in charge of the Misses Imogene Harding and Amy Kelly and the children enjoyed themselves immensely. Supt. Bert Greenman returned from the upper Clackamas hatchery Tuesday evening. He reports one of the new buildings completed and work being pushed on the water flume. Salmon are coming up in large numbers and a most favorable season is looked for. The reception committees will meet in the armory Saturday evening at 8 p. m. to take definite action in regard to the reception and the matter has been allowed to rest pending the uncertainty as to the matter going out and at this meeting will be decided the future action in the matter. Yesterday noon as Mr. Mordunet, of Mt. Pleasant was leading his horse along Seventh street near Shively's Opera house, the animal lay down and deliberately surrendered all claims to life. The loss is a severe one to Mr. Mordunet and the cause of death is a mystery. The Elkins home, in the suburbs of Albany, was the scene of a delightful and unusual gathering Monday afternoon, the occasion being the celebration of the 97th birthday of Grandma Fisher, one of the oldest of Oregon's pioneers. She came to Oregon City in the '40s—Oregonian. Willamette Falls Camp, W. O. W. had a rousing meeting Wednesday evening. Two candidates were introduced to the "buzz saw" the work being done by the members of Multnomah's drill team and the hall was crowded with members of the order eager to see the work of this famous team. Upon complaint made by neighbors, Mrs. Close, living at Falls View, was arrested yesterday charged with assault and battery upon her step-child. She was taken before Justice Schuebel and released upon her own recognizance until Wednesday, July 26, the date set for her trial. Among the interesting athletic events to be pulled off during the Chautauqua is a foot race between attorneys A. S. Dresser and Franklin T. Griffith. R. L. Holman is backing Dresser and Judge Ryan is doing the same for Griffith. The race seems to be a sure go as the money is up and all parties are confident. In view of the almost certainty that the Second Oregon is to come by train in a body to Portland it would seem as though the original plans regarding the reception to Co. I could be fully carried out. The company can be brought by boat from Portland and the affair carried out in every respect as originally intended. The best is none to good for them. Turn out to the committee meeting Saturday night and "holer" for a reception. Dr. W. E. Carl, of this city, enters into the proposed soldier's monument discussion with a suggestion that appears practical and consistent. He says: "My idea is to have a number of bronze tablets made—each suitably inscribed, and having engraved upon it the roll of honor. In every high school throughout the state, one of the tablets to be placed. They would stand as long as the school shall exist, and would ever be before the eyes of the rising generation." Wilber McKee, alias "John McRea" was arrested Wednesday on a charge, of having committed larceny. He was accused of having entered Dr. Seaman's office and taken a revolver from his desk. When arranged before Justice Schuebel he plead guilty to petit larceny and was sentenced to a fine of $50 or thirty days in the county jail, where he now is. Other charges against him is the stealing of $2 worth of postage stamps from Tom Cowing's office, and about the same quantity of stamps from the office of A. S. Dresser, and trying to dispose of them for whiskey. He is a very plausible worker and it rightly directed, talented. Sunday afternoon he delivered an address before the Y. M. C. A. and Monday evening he joined the Salvation Army and gave a rousing "experience talk". Both of these plays were favorably intended as a cloak to cover a "touch" but his appetite for whiskey caused him to get it in the neck before he realized anything in that line.

Doings in the Circuit Court.

Mattie Lee McGuire has filed papers asking for a divorce from A. T. McGuire, alleging as a cause, desertion. They were married in Texas, Jan 1, 1880, and plaintiff was deserted in Fresno, Cal., in 1886, since which time defendant has failed to provide in any way for her support. There are no property rights or children involved. Grace E. Hughes alleges that her husband, Wm. P. Hughes has abused her in a cruel and inhuman manner for two years and now asks the court to dissolve the matrimonial bonds. They were married in Portland in 1896 and are well known in that city. She asks to be allowed to resume her maiden name, Grace E. Potter. In the case of M. J. Scott vs. Wm. Scott, which is for the possession of a minor child, a hearing was had Saturday. An order was issued granting possession to defendant, with permission for plaintiff to see the child two hours each week. In the divorce case of C. F. Skidmore vs. M. Skidmore, on the ground of desertion, the defendant has filed an answer denying each and every charge and asking for costs. An Old Pioneer gone. G. W. Parrish died at Wamic, Wasco county on Friday, July 14, aged 64 years, 5 months and 16 days. He was born in Jefferson county, Illinois, Jan. 28, 1835. He came to Clackamas county in 1864 and made his home at Highland until 18 months ago when he moved to Wamic. He leaves three sons and three daughters, Geo. W. Parrish, of Toledo; C. W. Parrish, of Independence; and R. L. Parrish of Highland, Mrs. Liza Claggert, of Salem; Mrs. S. A. Clarke, of Logan; and Mrs. S. R. Giesy, of Aurora. The remains were buried in Wamic's cemetery on Sunday, July 16, and the funeral was attended by a large number of sorrowing friends.

Reminiscences of the War. On Monday evening at 8 p. m. Rev. Dr. Gue, of Portland, will deliver his lecture on "Reminiscences of the War" at the Silverton M. E. church. Dr. Gue has a splendid record for his lectures on army subjects and as the night will be a bright moonlight one it is expected that many from outside of town will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear him. The occasion will partake of a patriotic nature, the church will be decorated with flags and flowers, and a musical program consisting of patriotic selections will be given. There will be no charge for admission, but a collection will be taken for expenses. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

A Child Enjoys. PUT A KODAK IN YOUR POCKET and double the enjoyment of this summer's vacation. The question is not "Shall I buy a Camera?" but "What Camera shall I buy?" At once your mind turns to Kodak—the Camera that made photography easy for the multitude—the Camera whose name has become such a household word that it has been incorporated into the new dictionaries. The Kodak is the Camera your friends carry—the Camera that you instinctively have confidence in—the Camera that the salesman takes for his highest standard when he is trying to sell some other Camera and says "It's just as good as a Kodak." The Kodak is as easy to handle and operate as your umbrella or your walking stick. If you don't want to carry one in your hand, we have kinds that will slip into your pocket like a small book, but they are just as ready and efficient as the large ones to carry away a picture of the scene that makes you exclaim "Oh! if I only had a Camera." Kodaks require no dark room—no glass plates—no experience; they are the ideal Camera for the amateur. Price $5.00 to $35.00. Catalogue free. THERE IS NO KODAK BUT THE EASTMAN KODAK. Huntley's Book Store, Oregon City, Or.
