The way to build up Oregon City is to give Oregon City People your Patronage.

OREGON again has the unusual and gets rain in August.

INDIA is to adopt the gold standard. This will be the crime of 1899 for the Indian calamity howler.

The delegation in congress from this state did a good turn by recognizing the volunteers in putting Lieut. Teller in as supervisor of the census in the second district.

The democrats of Ky., are very much at sea. All efforts to reconcile the two factions have proven futile. It is another case of the Ky. feud and they will fight it out.

It is said the O. R. N. and N. P. have come to a truce in regard to the Idaho country. If this is so, it is only temporary and trouble is liable at any time.

LAURIER, the Canadian premier is a politician and his talk is for home consumption. He expects by this talk on the boundary question to get the support of the Canadians for a continuance in power.

SECRETARY ROOT is starting out well and as he has long been known as a man of ability and integrity great things are expected of him. He will be secretary of war and the department will be run on business principles and for the betterment of the service.

THE Transvaal question was never more acute. Unless Kruger backs down there will be trouble, and that means war. The foreigners that have settled in that country and have lived there for years demand some voice in the government and will have it. England believes her interest lies in helping them and she will do it even if it means war.

THE shooting of Labori, the leading counsel of Dreyfus shows to the desperate lengths the accusers of Dreyfus are willing to go and the fear they have of the outcome. The world believes Dreyfus innocent and if he is not acquitted France will probably be thrown into a revolution, and on the other hand she may meet the same fate if he is acquitted.

THE Second Oregon is at home. Co. I came home without the loss of a man, an enviable record. The boys are looking well and feeling well. We hope the reception they received here and elsewhere in the state convinces them, if there was a doubt, that they have a spot in the hearts of the people of Oregon. They have done their duty and have done it well and the state is proud of them. Those that have given up their lives are not forgotten. All the patriotism of Oregon honors the regiment.

Now that the boys of the Second Oregon are at home many of the stories that have been floating around can be straightened out. The real character of the Filipino can be ascertained in a way that will carry conviction. We do not believe it will be the verdict of the boys that this government should give up the islands, or that the Filipinos should be left to establish such a government as they see fit for the reason that if they were given a free hand either anarchy or despotism would reign.

THE Dreyfus trial indicates that a conspiracy was entered into by Esterhazy and Henry to sell information to the foreign powers of France. They undertook to make Dreyfus the culprit as he was a Jew and the people prejudiced against the race. It is believed that General Mercier is against Dreyfus in order to gain favor with the army, which is strongly against the Jews. Sensational developments are taking place during the present trial and while the judges are believed to be strongly against Dreyfus it is thought that he can make a case strong enough to insure his acquittal.

FORESTS AND RESERVOIRS.

That the preservation of the forests of the arid region is a duty distinctly belonging to the General Government seems to be a general opinion. Large appropriations have been made for the surveys of proposed forest reservations, thousands of square miles of forest land have been reserved, and ways and means for forest preservation are now being discussed and considered. One of the strongest arguments which is advanced showing the importance of forest preservation is the influence which forests are known to have in conserving moisture, the forest acting like a great sponge which takes up rainfall and then allows it to gradually sweep away, supplying streams, brooks, and springs.

Inasmuch as the commercial value of these forests is comparatively insignificant, except for furnishing fuel and rough timber, the water question is really the important one. Here, then, we have the Government through its administration of forests, practically spending money to store water and conserve the flow of lead streams. Why therefore is it not a proper government function to spend money for building works which shall artificially store water, as the forests do naturally? Undoubtedly the preservation of the forests is a highly important question, and especially in the West, and the government is the proper agency to insure such preservation, but the principal arguments which can be brought forward in support of the policy, apply with increased force to government construction of reservoirs.—Ex.

Women and Windows.

Never let a woman plan a house for you. Take her kindly by the hand and say: "My dear girl, I am going to build a house, and you shall have full swing as regards arranging the closets in it. You women always love to have convenient places in which to store things, and you shall therefore have closets to burn, but after this—hands off."

A mansion built after the suggestions of a bloomer is a fearful and wonderful thing. It generally looks well on the outside, but the interior gives you the headache.

"What woman built this house?" said a scornful friend as he went over a newly purchased residence with the owner.

"What woman?" said the latter. "None that I know of—it was built ten years ago, and I bought it from the last tenant."

"All the same," reiterated the friend, "I can swear a woman planned it, for I never saw such a lot of useless windows and doors. If that woman ever dies, and her heirs want to break the will, alleging insanity, they would only have to bring the jury to this house to get a verdict in their favor." It afterward developed that a woman did plan the residence and was quite proud of the job.—Louisville Times.

The Parist.

"It looks like rain."

"I beg your pardon."

"I say it looks like rain."

"What does?"

"The—the weather."

"The weather, my dear sir, is a condition. Rain is water in the act of falling from the clouds. It is impossible that they should look alike."

"What I meant was that the sky looked like rain."

"Equally impossible. The sky is the blue vault above us—the seeming arch or dome that we mistakenly call the heavens. It does not resemble falling water in the least."

"Well, then, if you are so thunderingly particular, it looks as if it would rain."

"As if what would rain?"

"The weather, of course."

"The weather, as before stated, being a condition, cannot rain."

"The clouds, then, blame you!"

"Ah! Here it comes! And I have taken so much time in talking to you that I shall get wet to the skin before I can reach yonder street car. Good day."

(Calling after him)—"I may not know as much about it as you do, but I've got sense enough to come in out of it, and you haven't."—Chicago Tribune.

A Canine Detective.

There's a dog in Bucharest who has just distinguished himself by identifying his master's murderer.

The murdered man was the proprietor of a wine shop. His shop boy was sleeping in the taproom on the night of the murder, the dog between his feet, when he heard a shot. The murderer a moment later entered the shop, presumably to rob it, but was driven away by the dog, which followed the fugitive, barking. Afterward he came back alone. Several suspects were arrested. The shop boy had never seen the robber's face and could not identify him. Finally the inspector of police arranged the wine shop as it had been on the night of the murder and compelled the suspected men to enter it one by one. Three passed unchallenged and came out again, vastly relieved.

Then a peasant named Dracu entered. At once the dog flew at him, chased him out of doors, precisely as he had done on the night of the murder. Dracu was handcuffed and held for trial.

Letting It Out.

A lady who had a servant somewhat given to curiosity inquired on returning from a visit one afternoon: "Did the postman leave any letters, Mary?"

"Nothing but a postcard, ma'am."

"Who is it from, Mary?"

"And do you think I'd read it, ma'am?" said the girl with an injured air.

"Perhaps not; but any one who sends me messages on postcards is stupid or impertinent."

"You'll excuse me, ma'am," returned the girl loftily, "but I must say that's a nice way to be talking about your own mother."—Sydney Town and Country Journal.

Happiness Is Work.

Recently Mr. Joseph Choate on being asked by Theodore Dreiser, as he tells us in Alms for the Million, if long years of distinction and comfort brought content and happiness he answered: "Not exactly. There is happiness in constant labor or at least the substitute for happiness, for any one who has acquired the habit of laboring constantly will not be at peace unless he is working."

A New Sensation.

If you want to enjoy a new sensation, tell a man you have heard something about him. He will think it is something mean, of course, for a man never hears anything else. Then tell him something pleasant. He will glow like a schoolboy, and both of you will feel better all day. Don't tell people the mean things you hear about them. That is inexcusable.—Atchison Globe.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Arthur Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hammick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at Geo. A. Harding's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Geo. A. Harding.

From the day that a young man starts out to seek his first position to the end of his business life, his health has a world to do with his success. When a young man applies to a business man for a position, his personal appearance has a deal to do with the outcome. "Personal appearance" does not mean dress alone. It does not mean exterior cleanliness alone. A young man may be clean, as far as soap and water will make him, but be disfigured by unsightly pimples, eruptions and ulcerations on the skin. These are due to impurities in the blood. The blood becomes impure because it is improperly nourished. Instead of receiving the life-giving elements of the food, it receives the foul emanations of indigestion, biliousness and constipation.

The reason that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best remedy for disorders of this description is that it goes straight to the cause. It gives a man an appetite for food. It facilitates the flow of digestive juices. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, and makes the assimilation of the life-giving elements of the food perfect. It invigorates the liver. It purifies and enriches the blood. It makes the muscles strong and active. It tones and steadies the nerves. It makes a young man look as he should—strong of body, alert of brain and clean and wholesome of skin. Medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

"I had eczema in its worst form," writes Austin Ramsey, Esq., of Nashville, Hamilton Co., Pa. "I tried three doctors but got no relief. I thought it would set me wild. It itched and burned so badly. The neighbors thought I would never be cured. I took your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and am now well."

For Young Men and Young Women.

There is nothing that will arouse the ire of a young man or woman so quick as to have inferior laundry work put off on them. They may dress ever so well, but if their shirt front or shirt waist is mussed their neat appearance is spoiled. The Troy Laundry makes a specialty of ladies' and gentlemen's fine work. There can be no better work than is done at the Troy. Leave your orders at Johnson's barber shop.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor of Wind Ridge, Greene Co., Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by G. A. Harding, Druggist.

The Latest Yarn.

A Pittsburg drummer tells this new yarn: I always carry a bottle of Kemp's Balsam in my grip. I take cold easily and a few doses of the Balsam always makes me a well man. Everywhere I go I speak a good word for Kemp. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them confidentially what I do when I take cold. At druggists, 25c and 50c.
