Manager Hechtman, of the Star Clothing Company, will close his store Tuesday and Wednesday in order to fittingly celebrate the Jewish New Year.

"The Hawaii of Yesterday" is the title of an article in the Argonaut for September 4, 1899, which reviews at length Professor Blackman's "The Making of Hawaii," and Lieutenant Lucien Young's "The Real Hawaii," two recently published books. Numerous extracts are given, describing ancient customs and ceremonies, and some of the striking views of scenery in the islands.

Wednesday afternoon as DuBois was driving a wagon loaded with baled hay up the incline driveway leading into the livery stable on upper Seventh street, he was caught between the top of the door and the load and badly crushed. He was unable to stop the team and they pulled until they could not move the wagon further, and DuBois was crushed into unconsciousness. He was badly bruised but as far as learned no bones were broken.

Some very funny cases turn up in the transaction of business by people who have but little experience in legal forms. For instance, this week there was filed in the county clerk's office a certificate of marriage by the minister who presided, in which he certifies that the couple in question were married "by authority of a license issued by the Methodist Episcopal church"; Deputy Cooper decided that the authority quoted did not have jurisdiction in this particular case and referred the certificate back for correction.

Mr. John Kendrick Bangs has never written anything more thoroughly amusing than the first chapters of "The Enchanted Typewriter," which is now appearing in Harper's Weekly. In it Mr. Bangs again ventures across the Styx for his material, and a number of the famous "shades" whom we met in the "Houseboat" are introduced. Mr. Bang's story will be followed by a romance entitled "With Sword and Crucifix," by E. S. Van Zile. The first instalment of Mr. Van Zile's story will appear early in September. It will run through the winter months.

President Clark, of the Wheelmen's Association and supervisor of the construction of the bicycle path between here and Portland, is rushing work on the path with all possible speed. With the funds on hand and available they hope to finish the two mile stretch at this end across the flat, and finish the path into Milwaukie. There is about $500 on hand and there is two miles of the most expensive part of the path to be built. The stretch from Oregon City to the Clackamas will follow the county road and as the road is narrow it will necessitate the grading of a path for the entire distance. Considerable trouble was experienced in getting a right of way into Milwaukie, and the path there will have to leave the electric line above the curve and go over the hill into the town. What to be done with the stretch between Milwaukie and Sellwood will depend largely upon circumstances.

Met a Sudden Death. A fatal accident occurred near Park-place last Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock in which George F. Mitchell lost his life. The deceased was riding on the fast freight, and according to the story of Frank Galloway, who witnessed the accident, he was trying to swing out from the trucks when he lost his hold and pitched forward, his head striking on a tie and crushing his skull. He lived but a few minutes after the accident. Coroner Strickland was notified and held an inquest at which it developed that deceased's name was George F. Mitchell, and his parents lived at Gervais. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death and exonerated the railroad company from any blame.

W. E. Mitchell, his father arrived from Gervais Sunday morning and took the remains to Salem for burial. He stated his son was on his way home from Walla Walla and knew of no reason why he should get off at Parkplace, which looks as though he had accidentally fallen.

The Salem Statesmen of Tuesday contains the following further information: "The remains of George F. Mitchell the young Salemite who was killed by falling from a fast freight train near Oregon City, on Saturday afternoon, were brought to this city on Sunday morning and prepared for burial. Funeral services will be held at the family home on North Front street at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. P. S. Knight, of this city assisted by Rev. Brouillette, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Gervais, will officiate and burial will take place in the City View cemetery. At the conclusion of the services at the residence, the remains will be taken in charge by the members of Fraternity Lodge No. 9, A. O. U. W., of Gervais, under whose auspices the interment will be had.

The deceased became a member of the Gervais A. O. U. W. lodge, on June 28th last, in which order he carried an insurance policy, for $2,000, in which his mother, Mrs. W. E. Mitchell is the sole beneficiary. A circumstance which makes the young man's death especially sad was the fact that he was engaged to wed Miss Helen Southwick, of Polk county, about the latter part of next month.

Read This, Consumptives

"From the way my wife coughed for six months, I knew she had consumption. She showed it in her face, too, and her body wasted away to a mere skeleton. After she got down in bed the doctors couldn't do any good. I called in both Dr. T. A. Shannon and Dr. N. L. Hawsen, each of whom is a first-class physician, but they had nothing that would reach the trouble in her lungs. My wife's father came to see her one day, when she got very low. He lives in Cedar Lake, Wis., while we live in Rice Lake, Wis. He said he knew what was needed, and made me get a bottle of Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. I went to Schmidt's, our local druggist, and got a bottle, and it helped her right away. She took eight 50c. bottles, and they put her back on her feet and made her as sound and well as any woman in town. She has taken on flesh again, she doesn't cough, and if any one who doesn't know the facts was to be told she was so near death with consumption, he wouldn't believe it. My wife does all her housework, and at night sleeps as soundly as you please. Her stomach no longer gives her any trouble at all. Maybe you doubt what I am telling. If so, I advise you to see J. N. Schmidt, the druggist who sold me Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. He'll tell you the same thing. He says Acker's English Remedy is wonderful in all throat and lung troubles; that it is sold on a guarantee to cure, or money returned, and he never yet had a bottle come back to his store, although he has sold hundreds of them. My name is Luther Bedell, Rice Lake, Wis."

Acker's English Remedy is sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee that your money will be refunded in case of failure, 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle in United States and Canada.
