Local Events

The Hub saloon front has been treated to a new coat of paint. The little steamer Valley Queen has been laid off the Portland-Newberg run. The Koy Kandy Kitchen has been overhauled and a new outfit of shelving put in place. A decision in the damage suit of Cotnam vs. Oregon City is expected from Judge Belinger any day now. County Commissioner R. Scott went up to Salem Sunday where he will exhibit a band of cotswold sheep at the state fair.

Next Sunday is Rally Day at the Presbyterian Sunday school. Besides the regular services a splendid program will be presented.

Bo. Clark has abandoned his cigar and bootblack stand and took his departure Sunday for parts unknown. His stock was collared by his creditors.

The firm of Smyth, Howard and Stevenson have secured a $9,953.37 sewer contract at Corvallis, which is pleasing news to the friends of Sidney Smyth, one of the firm members.

Where are the woodchuckers who use the Highland road going to be as soon as it rains? About the first wet spell the man who hauls a quarter of a load over that spot will perform a miracle.

On account of so many members of Co. F being away Capt. Metzner succeeded in having the inspection postponed until October 5th., when he will be able to turn out a full complement of well-drilled men.

Mrs. Mary Ann Lacey died at her home at Springwater Saturday evening. She was stricken with paralysis at about 6 o'clock and died about 12. She was about 80 years old and had been a resident of Clackamas county since 1852.

The Clackamas county delinquent tax list appears in this week's issue of the Courier-Herald. The list this year is not as large as previous lists in amount delinquent but is greater in descriptions by reason of a larger number of small delinquencies.

About forty timber claim locations were filed in the land office Wednesday. The locators were all from Tillamook county, where a recent order has thrown a large number of acres on Wilson river open to location. The locators mostly came overland via the Wilson river road.

At the Congregational church for next Sunday morning the pastor's theme will be "The Red Horse among the Myrtle Trees". Evening, topic, "Lessons from our paper makers." The choir is again fully organized and under E. E. Ouspston's direction and will add greatly to the interests of the services of the church. All are most sincerely invited.

Mrs. Louisa Lee died September 10th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. A. Porter, after a short illness. Mrs. Lee was among the first to settle in Canby and will be sadly missed by her relatives and many friends. The funeral services were held in the Christian church and the remains laid away in the Zion cemetery.

A representative of the Northern Pacific railroad spent several days here this week looking up statistics concerning government lands in this section of the country. The N. P. is most liberal in offering inducements to western settlers and the visit of their agent here was to procure information for prospective immigrants.

Rev. Rockwood, died at his home in Willsburg of heart disease Monday evening. The funeral was held Wednesday and the remains laid away in Mountain View cemetery. Rev. Rockwood was for several years pastor of the Congregational church here and was a man of unusual power. Many of our citizens testified their appreciation of his great worth and character by attending the funeral.

Falls View comes into prominence with another justice court case. Mrs. James Law is a hard working woman, who keeps a number of chickens from which she realizes a few cents in time of need. Gus Seol is her neighbor and has a habit of catching the hens, and wringing their necks after which he throws them back into Mrs. Law's yard. Justice Schuebel has issued a warrant for Seol and will adjudge the dispute.

Wednesday Chief of Police Burns received a message from Gervais announcing the theft of $217.00 from a hop grower of Fairview, and asking him to watch the boats for a couple of men who were suspected of having done the job. Burns haunted the locks all afternoon and finally spotted his men on the Altona. They were arrested and a search revealed that their united capital was less than $30, so they were released. They were the men asked for in the dispatch and Burns says it is not his fault if they didn't have the money.

The most ardent friends of the Chautauqua movement recognize that Oregon City should have one of the largest circles in the state to pursue the course of the Literary and Scientific Circle. The reading for the year includes Prof. Sparks' Expansion of the American people, a topic most timely at this particular period. The cost of the books for the year is reduced more than one-third. All who desire to get full information are invited to attend a meeting for the organization of a local circle at the home of C. H. Caulfield on Monday evening, Sept. 25. Mrs. E. E. Charman and Mrs. Caulfield have kindly consented to open their home for the regular meetings of the circle during the winter.

On MONDAY, TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY. Sept. 25, 26, 27, 1899. Miss Celia Goldsmith.

Little Louise Walker, who played the part of "Trixy" in the "Clever Fool" the closing play of the Shirley engagement, carried off the part with a vim and spirit that was delightful in one of her years.

While the Second Oregon was in the Philippines the members of Co. I were thrown into the company of the 14th., infantry to a great extent and found the regulars very agreeable and pleasant fellows, always ready and willing by suggestion or act to make life easier and more comfortable for the boys of Co. I. Now that the boys are at home their thoughts go back to the members of 14th in the far-away islands and they feel a desire to show their appreciation of the many courtesies extended them. They have secured Capt. Wells to deliver his illustrated lecture on "The Oregon Regiment in the Philippines" at Shively's hall on Saturday evening, Sept. 23, and with the proceeds of the lecture the boys will send many a needed article to their friends in the 14th regiment. Turn out and help the boys remember their friends.

The East Side railroad bridge over the Clackamas has gone out of business. Tuesday evening's freight car carried an unusually heavy load and had a car of lumber attached also and the weight proved too much for the bridge timbers, and they gave way under the strain. The motorman succeeded in getting his train safely across, since which time no cars have been allowed to pass over the bridge. There is one passenger car on this end of the line and it manages to do the Gladstone and Portland work, passengers walking across the bridge and connecting with the other cars on the other side. The company's freight business is handled by wagons between here and Gladstone station. The company had experts examine the bridge Wednesday and it was deemed advisable to build a new bridge, as the timbers are badly rotted, and it is expected to have it ready for use in about ten days.

Sam Simpson's Poems. Admirers of the poetry of the late Sam L. Simpson are now for the first time given the opportunity of subscribing for a book of his writings. The work of compiling and arranging for the publication of Simpson's poems is now in progress at Portland, and the book will be ready for delivery by December. To the people of Oregon especially, Sam Simpson's poetry needs no recommendation. The poet was raised and educated in this state, and has written verse on the romantic beauties of its mountains, rivers and valleys that will go down to the ages. "Beautiful Willamette" alone is pronounced by critical judges not to have its equal on a similar topic anywhere in the English language, and has immortalized the name of this Oregon river. The book will contain 400 pages printed on fine paper, attractively bound, and artistically printed. Two styles of binding will be presented, one for $2.00, and one for $2.50, payable on delivery by Simpson Publishing company. Mrs. J. R. Seavers has taken the Oregon City agency of these poems.

Card of Thanks. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Porter desire to express their heartfelt thanks to the neighbors who so kindly assisted them during their recent great affliction.

Distinguished Testimony

No secret society in the world stands higher in noble aims and charitable accomplishments than the Knights of Pythias. That order is doing great good,

CALLIE I. LE FEVRE, Matron Ohio Pythian Home.

The friend to whom Mrs. LeFevre refers as having suggested Acker's English Remedy is Mrs. W. B. Chilton, wife of the president of the Troy Transfer Co., of Troy, Ohio, where this remedy has accomplished many other cures in Throat and Lung Troubles. In conversation with an acquaintance Mrs. LeFevre also said: "If you will call on Mr. W. H. Schauss, a prominent china and art merchant of Springfield, Ohio, you will find that he, too, has had any amount of experience with Acker's English Remedy in his family, and thinks they cannot keep house without it."

Acker's English Remedy is sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee that your money will be refunded in case of failure. 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle in United States and Canada. In England, 1s. 3d., 2s. 3d., and 4s. 6d. We authorize the above guarantee. W. H. HOOKER & Co., Proprietors, New York.
