THERE are persons that constantly find fault with the way a newspaper is run. These persons have an enlargement of the head and think that the paper's province should be to constantly sing their praises. They are people that nothing praiseworthy can be said of, and the paper considerately says nothing, only to be maligned by such parties to ette Tent and Awning Co. and get $200 Send word to C. O. principles or party and try to stand with both parties but will sell out to either or both if their political ends will be secured,

THE editorials appearing in many if not most of the democratic papers are inspired by the national committee of that party and the editorial matter is supplied direct to the smallest fry of papers. The management of the party bas fallen into the disreputable element of the party. The Bryans, Tillmans and Altgelds run the party and the Watterson's Carlisle and Clevelands are practically read out of the party. The brains and integrity of the party have been shoved to one side and ignorance and predjudice put into control of the machine.

These self-constituted bosses of the democratic party believe that the people can be fooled and duped and the elections carried on predjudice and the engendering of class hatred. They systematically set about the fomenting of all he discord possible and realizing that the press was a powerful agent they opened a bureau and regularly send out matter that in any other country would be suppressed as treasonable. There is nothing too high or sacred for these ghosts to attack. The government is called a robber and the chief magistrate a felon.

The poor are told that they are robbed every day by the government in taxes. This is their way of inculcating protection in the young and educating their children to honor, respect, and love their country. They are told that law is only to allow the rich privileges and to give them power to rob the poor. If anyone thinks that this is overdrawn read the columns of the Courier-Herald that weekly prints this boiler plate. With this country seeing prosperity such as it never saw before, the poor are told that they would become rich if they received what they are entitled to but to get it they are also told it is necessary to vote the democratic ticket. Courts are not free from their vile attacks but where they shine is trying to array the poor against the rich.
