BACKBONE OF REBELLION BROKEN

Aguinaldo is Deserted by his Followers and Forced to Seek Refuge in the Mountains.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—General Otis today reports the situation in the Philippines in the following dispatch to the war department:
"Manila, Nov. 27.—Steamer from San Fabian yesterday brought 115 Spanish prisoners, $75,000 insurgent government money, and other property captured by Lawton's troops near Yand, the 25th.
"Wheaton's troops and Fowler's company of the Thirty-third drove the enemy westward from Mangalaren, a few miles southwest of Dagupan, and captured five 3-inch muzzle-loading guns, 12 rifles, 20,000 rounds of Maxim cartridges, 100 shrapnel, 800 pounds of powder and other property; also 94 Spanish and seven American prisoners.
"Bell, with the Thirty-sixth infantry, is in pursuit, and will march down the western Luzon coast. Indications are that two or three bodies of insurgent troops numbering probably 500 or more men each, in the mountains west of the railroad, can be readily handled by Mc-Arthur. They have the bulk of the insurgent artillery, all of which will be captured, unless burned.
"Young is still in pursuit of Aguinaldo who is heading for Bangued, a few miles east of Vigan; Young, with cavalry and scouts, is followed by a battalion of the Thirty-third and the rest of the battalion of the Thirty-second, and two battalions of the Thirty-third are en route for Vigan by the military postroad.
Young's reception by the inhabitants is enthusiastic, they giving all the assistance possible. Aguinaldo has collected more than 1000 of his troops at the north. Probably most of them will desert him.
"A number of small detachments of insurgent troops throughout the country north of Manila have been captured, and the inhabitants manifest gratitude for their deliverance. Indications are that the insurgent forces south of Manila are disintegrating, and the troops are going to their homes.
"Reports from the southern islands are favorable. Zamboanga insurgents surrendered to our troops, and no trouble is anticipated there."
Oregon Lands Marines at Vigan.
Later in the day the following dispatch was received from General Otis:
'Oregon landed marines at Vigan yesterday. Young's column was at Namacpaspan, 20 miles north of San Fernando, on the 23d, from which point it passed north into the mountains. Troops will relieve the marines at Vigan on the 29th.
The bulk of the Spanish and American prisoners are reported at Bangued, 20 miles east of Vigan.
"Wheaton, at San Fabian, just reports the capture of 73 more rifles, $1100 in money, and also that he has been obliged to take the mother and son of Aguinaldo under guard at San Fabian, to prevent their murder by natives.
They will be sent here at the first opportunity and delivered to friends. Natives in the vicinity of Bayombong, Nueva Vizcaya, are offering their services to drive out the insurgents there.
"Reports from Zamboanga say the insurgents surrendered heavy artillery to the navy, and since have surrendered to Nicholas, commanding the battalion of the Twenty-third infantry, 179 rifles, one Nordenfeldt, and four breech-loading cannon. Order is restored in the town and vicinity. About 80 Tagals are scattered in the mountains."

WHEN AGUINALDO IS CAUGHT.

Authorities Considering What to Do With Him.

New York, Nov. 27.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Though confident that the end of the insurrection is in sight, the president will not with-hold any of the troops now under orders to proceed to Manila.
It is recognized by the administration that while Aguinaldo's army may be disbanded, many of his men will be roaming about the island of Luzon as banditti for months to come, and it is desirable, in the interest of order and law, that there should be strong garrisons of troops stationed at important strategic points to suppress such bands or any latent spark of insurrection which may be discovered. Then, in addition to Luzon, there are the islands to the south, insurgents in which decline to acknowledge the sovereignty of the United States.
Strong bodies of troops will be placed in these islands, and before the close of the dry season it is believed that peace will prevail throughout the entire archipelago. Only three weeks have passed since General Otis inaugurated his active campaign against Aguinaldo, and the results of operations are thus summarized by an official: Aguinaldo's army is dispersed; members of his cabinet and congress, and the president of his congress are prisoners, and Aguinaldo, with a small remnant of followers, is a fugitive. The railroad connecting Manila and Dagupan is in American possession, and municipal governments have been established along the line. The occupation of territory extending from Manila to Lingayen gulf, 146 from Manila, and the garrisoning of the provinces is complete.

It is not meant that these provinces are entirely pacified, for this is not the case, but the insurgent forces therein has been broken, and, except for small bands, has fled, principally to the province of Zambales, to which General MacArthur will now devote attention.
Considerable interest is being taken in official circles as to the disposition of Aguinaldo in case of capture. Some persons say that the best solution would be his death in action, but this is not expected. Should he be captured, General Otis will undoubtedly await instructions from Washington as to the treatment he should accord him. Should Aguinaldo escape to Hong Kong, the United States could not as a matter of right ask for his surrender, and the president would therefore doubtless determine to leave the insurgent leader alone.
In connection with the disposition of Aguinaldo in case of capture, the authorities would have to consider the effect of the policy upon the natives. When the insurrection is finally subdued, a civilian or a commission will be sent to govern the Philippines. The archipelago will be divided into four military departments, the island of Luzon in two, over which Generals Lawton and MacArthur will probably preside.
General Otis needs a rest, and is expected to return to the United States when he is satisfied there is no longer any need of his remaining at Manila.
