THE LOCAL NEWS.

HEAD GUILTY AND FINED.—Chas. Hester, who, on Wednesday night last assaulted James Miller with a knife and inflicted a slight wound on his arm, was taken before Justice Schuebel Friday on a charge of assault and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was fined $50 and considering the circumstances Justice Schuebel permitted him to go upon payment of $20 the balance of the fine being remitted pending good behavior.

CARTS IN COLLISION.

Last Friday evening at W. F. Scripture was driving down Main street in his cart, Clarence Willey came around the Seventh street corner, also in a cart, and before anyone knew what was up each cart had a wheel taken off and the occupants were spilled out on the ground and Scripture's horse was striking a 222½ clip up Seventh street and along the railroad. Beyond the loss of the two wheels no damage was done and the occurrence was so sudden and ludicrous that the onlookers could not help but roar with laughter.

RESTORED TO CITIZENSHIP.

Gov. T. T. Geer Saturday restored to citizenship a man who served one year in the Oregon penitentiary, but who has been a free man for six years, this act of the executive being prompted by a petition numerously signed by the neighbors of the ex-prisoner who urged the granting of the pardon. The man thus favored by Governor Geer was John Wesley Baker, who was committed to the penitentiary from Clackamas county in December, 1892, having been convicted of assault with a dangerous weapon. Having served his term, Baker was discharged and returned to his home at Wilsonville, where he has since resided, and has made a most exemplary citizen, according to the testimony of his neighbors, who signed the petition.—Salem Statesman.

ATTACKED BY A DEER.—Mrs. D. P. Thompson, a former resident of this city, but now of Portland, had an experience with a deer that came near proving serious. Mr. Thompson has a 15-acre park on his place near Vancouver and where he kept the deer captive. Mrs. Thompson was walking through the park accompanied by her son, Ralph, when they noticed the deer had escaped and was in an adjoining field with some cows and goats. As Ralph went to close the gate the deer attacked Mrs. Thompson, knocking her down and striking her with his feet and severely bruising her. Ralph went to her rescue and caught the animal's horns when it attempted to gore him. He got both arms around its neck and held on, the brute striking him with its hoofs and cutting him badly. Mrs. Thompson got away and secured a man with a gun and an end was made of the ferocious buck. It is said that deer frequently turn savage after months of perfect gentleness.

TRIED ON TWO CHARGES.—H. J. Martin, who was arrested by Constable McCown last Wednesday at Portland, was on Monday taken before Judge Schuebel on a charge of assault and battery committed upon Valentine Bolander, of Beaver Creek, on February 12th last. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was assessed $17.50 which amount was promptly paid and he was released. He was immediately re-arrested upon a charge of larceny in having stolen some dishes and other property valued at about $25.00 from John Draper, of Beaver Creek. He was tried before Judge Schuebel and a jury Monday afternoon and found not guilty. An attempt was made to arrest Martin shortly after the charges were filed last spring but he evaded the officers and kept out of their reach successfully until he was captured in Portland.

KICKED ON THE HARBURY.—For some time past the S. P. railroad company has had a large number of men at work on the grade near Milwaukie. A few days ago the company issued an order that all men employed on the job should board at the company's eating house, paying therefor $4.00 per week. A large number of the men are married men living near Milwaukie and the order came as a surprise to them as they considered they had the privilege of boarding at home. Others had secured boarding places with farmers living near the scene of the work and they also rebelled, resulting in a general strike Monday morning when over thirty-five men went on a strike. Among other things the men claim that the company boarding shanty refused to furnish the common necessities—no wash basins—no towels—no candles even for light.

BRIDGE IN DANGER.—For the past week passengers to Portland on the electric line have been compelled to alight from the cars on the East Side and hoof it across the river by reason of the Madison bridge being unsafe for traffic. The high water in the Willamette has carried down a large quantity of drift and it has lodged at the Madison bridge, forming one of the worst jams known for several years and the bridge was not considered strong enough to stand the strain. A large force of men were kept at work for several days, assisted by a motor on the bridge and a steamer on the river, trying to loosen the drift, but with no success. If the water continues to fall it may be cleared without any great damage, but in case of a continued rain fears are felt that the old ramsackle bridge may go out. Patrons of the electric line would be benefited by the destruction of the present structure and the building of a new bridge on modern principles that would bear the constant pressure put upon it by the old Willamette.

HIGH WATER.—The old Willamette renewed its youth last week and for several days became quite stormy. The heavy rains had swollen all its tributaries bank full and the carrying capacity of the Willamette was taxed to its utmost to handle the rush of water. Friday and Saturday were particularly bad days although on Wednesday the pulp mill at Station A was forced to shut down on account of high water. The Crown mills were bothered for several days by the back water interfering with their power, so that they could run but one paper machine. Thursday the high water washed out a 20 foot section of the new log canal recently built by the Willamette P. & P. Co., and the rush of water down the flume was so great that the electric plant was forced to shut down for several hours and street car traffic in Portland was seriously interfered with. Saturday the water rose to a point where it was necessary to close the locks to navigation. The water commenced to fall during the night and the locks were in use again Sunday. Station A started up again Monday night and unless another heavy continued rain comes all trouble is now past for some time.

For Young Men and Young Women. There is nothing that will arouse the ire of a young man or woman so quick as to have inferior laundry work put off on them. They may dress ever so well, but if their shirt front or shirt waist is mussed their neat appearance is spoiled. The Troy laundry makes a specialty of ladies' and gentlemen's fine work. There can be no better work than is done at the Troy. Leave your orders at Johnson's barber shop.

A Very Useless Insect.

A writer in the Philadelphia Times who has been looking up the record of the mosquito in natural history has come to the conclusion that it is a very useless insect. Here is the result of his investigation:

"Just why the mosquito bites people is not yet known. It is not to furnish it food, for it is an established fact that a mosquito, after gorging himself with human blood, dies within a few hours, whereas mosquitoes that have never tasted blood have been known to live very comfortably, even through the entire winter and into the next season. The adult mosquito does not need food. During its larval stage it has stored up enough nourishment to last all its life, and it is a normal state for it to go without food for the rest of its existence. All that it needs is moist air, adult mosquitoes being known to pass the winter in damp cellars, living on nothing but the moisture.

"The fact that it is estimated that only one out of 10,000 ever tastes human blood also proves that it is not necessary. Why it persists in torturing mankind, therefore, has not yet been found out, and scientists can only swear softly with the rest of mankind and make the general statement that the mosquito is born with a vitiated appetite for human gore, an appetite that causes the death of the indulger."

Home of the Edam Cheese. While the Edam cheese is a familiar visitor on the table not every one knows whence it comes nor how its cannon ball proportions and gay coloring have been achieved. The northern part of Holland is the seat of the Edam cheese industry, and the consequent cleanliness of the relish is therefore doubly assured.

In making it the fresh cow's milk is carefully strained and the rennet added. As soon as the milk curdles the whey is drawn off, and the curd, thoroughly kneaded, is pressed into molds. This process is repeated until the whey has all been extracted and the curd is comparatively dry. It is then wrapped in a linen cloth and kept for 10 or 12 days until quite solid. Then the cloth is removed and the cheese put into salt lye. Afterward a little more dry salt is sprinkled on the cheese until the maker thinks it is salt enough to insure its keeping.

It is next put into a vessel and washed with whey and scraped to remove the white crust. It is next carried into a cool room and laid on shelves, where it is frequently turned. The ripening process lasts from two to three months, the round balls growing the fine yellow or reddish color peculiar to Edam cheese. The cheeses intended to be exported to this country are rendered still more brilliant by dyeing the rind with a vegetable dye.—New York Tribune.

Saved the Vase.

The little son of an English gentleman, in mischievously playing with a vase, managed, after several attempts to get his hand through the narrow neck, and was then unable to extricate it. For half an hour or more the whole family and one or two friends did their best to withdraw the fist of the young offender, but in vain. It was a very valuable vase, and the father was loath to break it, but the existing state of affairs could not continue forever. At length, after a final attempt to draw forth the hand of the victim, the father gave up his efforts in despair, but tried a last suggestion.

"Open your hand!" he commanded the fearful young captive, "and then draw it forth." "I can't open it, father," declared the boy. "Can't?" demanded his father. "Why?" "I've got my penny in my hand," came the astounding reply. "Why, you young rascal," thundered his father, "drop it at once!" The penny rattled in the bottom of the vase and out came the hand.

Quite a Menagerie.

"Yes," said the excited man, "he tried to act the hog and treat me like a dog, but I soon showed him he was playing horse with the wrong man when he monkeyed with me!"—Indianapolis Journal.
