

PROSPEROUS SANDY.

A Brief Sketch of a Most Progressive Section of Clackamas County.

As a reader of your valued paper I beg to be allowed sufficient space in which to give a brief description of our great "Sandy Country," which is located twenty-five miles east of Portland and twenty miles northeast of Oregon City, in the foothills of the Cascade mountains.

Sandy is beautifully situated and one of the healthiest spots in Oregon. The site of the town is on a high elevation and commands a fine view overlooking the Sandy river valley and the ever green mountains. Grand old Hood can be seen from our village street.

Ten years ago the Sandy country was mostly a wilderness and from that time till now the transformation has been wonderful. The heavy timber in places gradually disappeared and splendid productive farms appeared; the old homestead log cabins were replaced with handsome and comfortable residences. As the country settled up Sandy, our town, sprung into existence and has become one of the most prosperous little country villages in our county. It has two good stores and a full fledged money order post office. Of the two hotels, Mr. Yonkers, the efficient proprietor of the Sandy Hotel, has made it the most successful place between Portland and Mt. Hood. Bicycle clubs and riders of Portland, have made it headquarters for their summer outings.

R. Jonsrud has just purchased an engine and the necessary machinery to engage in the manufacture of stump pullers, lifting jacks, cable grips, etc. We have also a creamery just started on J. E. Stone's farm which promises to be a success. It has a capacity of 2,500 pounds of milk per day. We have also a flouring mill and chopper.

Meinigs' fruit dryer, a large and well arranged affair, has been a source of benefit to fruit raisers. This promises to be a thriving industry as this vicinity can not be excelled for fruit raising.

Farmers found only one serious obstacle to make farming a success by clearing land on account of the useless heavy timber here, but this has been overcome by the slow but sure onward progress of the numerous saw mills as they push their way up into our forests and slash down timber like a cyclone and convert it into lumber. There are six mills all within six miles of Sandy employed in sawing railroad ties. These mills turn out 2,400 ties per day or 98,500 feet per day, which circulates $3,600 every week among mill men and teamsters. Thousands of dollars have been put in circulation by this industry. People who only a few years ago were utterly in poverty but now shine with hopes of future wealth, as timber readily sells from 20 to 90 cents per thousand on the stump.

The Wisconsin logging camp has been extensively engaged in logging on the Sandy river with a crew of fifty men and a big donkey engine. J. H. Wewer has just completed his big new mill with two boilers and engines. The mill has a capacity of 2500 thousand per day and will saw lumber and ties.

Ties have advanced 2 cents lately, which will cause a big boom in the lumber business. E. S. Bramhall has a contract for sawing 50,000 ties and still millions of feet of the finest kind of timber yet awaits the buzz of the saw mills.

In a few years our old fashion stage line will probably be done away with for our produce and ever increasing population will demand a railroad through this section of one of the finest spots in Oregon. Sandy is now with the exception of one mile connected with the best gravel road in Oregon (from Orient to Portland) with a plank road that has been graded and planked the past two years a distance of 6 miles by the people of Sandy under the wise supervision of J. H. Revenue, road master. It is a masterpiece of road work, which is the greatest blessing this country ever received. Now we can go to Portland in one day in the year with a load of produce, all a wagon can hold. It's a comfort to drive on this road now with both sides of the road lined with fine fields of grain, orchards, and herds of grazing cattle are seen with fine residences lining the highway. Here and there in the timber is heard the familiar cry "timber" then the crash of falling trees and the whirr and burr and buzz of the saw mill machinery turns them into useful lumber. Wagons loaded with from 40 to 100 ties line the road from early morn till dark, and one cannot help but think as they travel over such good roads that every day of volunteer work contributed to this road was done for a noble cause. Let us all turn out in force next year and complete the remaining portion of this road, the pride of our country.

Socially Sandy is not behind the times. It has good public schools and good society. It has one of the most complete Catholic churches in the county, which was built last summer at a cost of $2,000. Many improvements have been made on the property since and soon a 500 pound bell will peal forth its glad tidings. The Protestants will soon build a church. A Woodmen of the World lodge was instituted and is on the broad road to success. E. F. Bruns is C. C. and E. F. Andre clerk. The lodge meets every other Saturday.

Sandy is modestly coming to the front as a rich and prosperous country. It is an ideal place for business enterprises and men and women of means, brain, and energy are welcomed to settle with us in this, "our Sandy country," the land of big red apples and pretty girls. E. F. B.

Married.

McCAUSLAND-MEYER.—On Sunday, Dec. 31, 1899, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyers on Seventh street, Mr. A. E. McCausland to Miss Lula A. Meyer. Rev. A. J. Montgomery officiating.

The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock p. m. and was witnessed by few relatives and intimate friends, who, after the ceremony, enjoyed a dainty wedding dinner during which the newly wedded couple were the recipients of hearty congratulations, in which the Enterprise joins.

RASMUSSEN-SALISBURY.—On Monday, January 1, 1900, at the residence of the bride's parents at Gladstone, Mr. Erick M. Rasmussen to Miss Maude Salisbury, Rev. A. J. Montgomery performing the ceremony.

The wedding was witnessed by a few invited guests and members of the family. An elegant supper followed the ceremony and the evening was passed in merriment. The young couple have many friends who wish them abundant prosperity and happiness as is the wish of the Enterprise.

Wedded at Springfield.

On New Year's evening a party of invited guests assembled at the residence of one of our highly esteemed citizens, A. M. Shibley, to witness the solemnization of the marriage of his youngest daughter, Miss Estella Shibley to Mr. Wm. Bard, one of the esteemed and enterprising young men of this place.

Promptly at 6:30 o'clock appeared the bride conducted by Mr. Chas. Bard followed by the groom and Miss Ora Lewellen. The very beautiful and impressive marriage ceremony was rendered by the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. A. D. Soper. After congratulations and well wishes from all, the party was invited to the dining room where a bountiful supper had been prepared and it was greatly enjoyed by all. A number of valuable and beautiful presents were given and a most pleasant evening was spent, all going away, regretting that "Father" Shibley did not have another daughter to keep him company and invite us to another such occasion.
