

Personal Mention

Miss Paulina Roth, of Portland, visited friends in this city Sunday.

E. E. Wilson, of Corvallis, was in Oregon City on business Thursday.

J. Q. Gage was a prominent Staffordshire who was attending to business in the city Tuesday.

Geo. Young left Monday afternoon for Sumpter where he goes to try his luck in the gold mines.

J. Tallman, one of the prominent young farmers of the county was doing business in the city Monday.

F. H. Heiser one of the shining lights of the Damascus neighborhood was doing business in the city Thursday.

Mrs. C. Roland and son, Spencer, departed Thursday morning for Wardner, Idaho, where she will reside in the future.

Mr. Clifford spent several days visiting in the city this week. He returned to Albany Wednesday evening to assume his duties in the woolen mills.

Fred E. Owen, a prominent capitalist of Detroit, Minn., was looking over Oregon City on Tuesday and recalling old times with the local man of the Enterprise.

Mrs. Robt. A. Miller, grand president of the Native Daughters, presided at the public installation of the officers of Eliza S. Warren Cabin at Portland Saturday evening.

Mrs. Chas. Lynch left Tuesday to join her husband who is in a paper mill in Minn. Mr. Lynch is well pleased with his new situation and finds the climate very beneficial.

John Worms formerly of this city but who has been working in Wallace, Idaho for the past three months is visiting friends and relatives in this city and Portland for a few weeks.

Ira Hoffman is spending a few days in the city on business matters. Mr. Hoffman is now located in the Baker City mining country and reports things as being lively all through that section.

C. U. Wilson is around bidding his friends good bye this week. He will leave Saturday evening for an extended trip through Eastern Oregon and Washington where if he finds a desirable opening he will locate and engage in the practice of law.

F. T. Rogers returned Monday from a week's trip through Eastern Oregon with the state board of barber examiners of which body he is secretary. While away Mr. Rogers visited the mining region around Sumpter and found many Oregon City people there, all of whom seem to be doing well and accumulating a fair share of this world's riches.

E. J. McKittrick, the shoe man, has been confined to his room for the past week with a case of blood poisoning, which for sometime looked serious. He received a slight scratch on one knee while around the store but did not consider it of sufficient importance to pay any attention to and inside of two days it had swelled so as to lay him up for repairs. He will soon be able to be up and around again.

Local Events

The "Jolly Fellows" hold the third party of their series at the Armory tonight.

Chaplain Gilbert, late of the Second Oregon Vols., will lecture in this city on February 6th on "Experiences in the Philippines."

It is reported that the Milwaukie Dramatic club will attend the play tomorrow evening in a body. They presented the same play a year ago.

Columbia Hook and Ladder Company are making big preparations for their annual ball on February 22d. Everett's orchestra has been secured for the occasion.

Eli Maddock has disposed of his interest in the Elk restaurant to J. W. Marshall, recently from Creswell, Oregon. Mr. Marshall is an experienced caterer and will put the Elk in the front rank.

A special meeting of Multnomah Lodge A. F. & A. M. is called for this (Friday) morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of taking part in the funeral services of the late John Myers.

The pastor of the Congregational church will conduct the usual services at church. On Sunday evening he will present the first series of sermons on "Essentials and Non-Essentials in Belief." The first will be "About God."

William Hogref, a German 67 years of age who has been working in Clackamas county for sometime past was before Judge Ryan Wednesday and found to be a fit subject for the insane asylum. He came here from California.

The recent decision of the supreme court in the overlap land case means the addition of several thousand dollars to the funds of Clackamas county in taxes that had been withheld pending the decision of the court. The railroad company has announced its willingness to pay the amounts due as soon as the amounts can be ascertained.

Christian Science services are held in Willamette hall every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Subject for Sunday, January 21, "Love". Sunday school at 12:10 Wednesday evening meeting at 8 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all who desire to attend these services.

Mr. Page died very suddenly at his home in Gladstone Wednesday evening. He seemed to be in good health at supper time and ate quite heartily. Shortly after he was taken with severe pains in the region of the heart and expired in twenty minutes. Mr. Page who was 78 years of age, was well known and well liked by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. G. M. Strange has plans under way for the organization of a first class kindergarten school in this city. Present prospects are that the school will open with a class of about forty pupils who will be instructed by two thoroughly experienced kindergarten teachers under the supervision of Mrs. Strange. Much interest is taken in the project and it seems assured of success.

Indications are that the production of the O. E. S. play "Above the Clouds" tomorrow evening will be the most successful and enjoyable event of the season. The advance sale of seats has been remarkably large but there are plenty of them left. The rumor that has been in circulation to the effect that all the seats had been sold is untrue, but if the present supply should be sold out the management will furnish more.

The United Artisans of this city have been awarded a fine silk banner. The banner is the prize offered for the assembly making the greatest gain in membership during the past six months. Not only did the Oregon City assembly make the greatest gain but it also had the least number of suspensions. The banner is a handsome one and the members feel highly gratified over their success.

A letter of recent date received by Mrs. John McDonald, of West Oregon City, states that her husband and his younger brother, who are in Alaska have very rich holdings on Last Chance Creek in the vicinity of Dawson City. In one day they cleaned up $347 one pan yielding $32.20. They report the winter at date of writing as being mild and open with only about six inches of snow. The McDonalds are brothers of Mrs. O. H. Byland one of the teachers in the West Oregon City school.

A Military "Smoker."

On Monday evening next, January 22, Separate Co. F. will, after a short drill, give a Company Smoker to which all honorary and ex-members of the company are cordially invited. All members are requested to make special efforts to attend. The smoker is given not only to promote general good will among the members, but also for the purpose of organizing a company library and reading room. Each member is asked to give one or as many books as he feels he can afford. Only standard works and first class literature will be accepted.

Dr. W. E. Carl will preside over the smoker. Capt. L. L. Pickens will speak upon "Officer's Duty in the National Guard." Lieut. W. A. Huntley is slated for a talk upon the "Non-coms and Privates Duty in the Guard," and Lieut. J. U. Campbell will have for his subject "War, and the Effect of Drill on Men in Action."

The program will be filled out with music and the essentials that contribute to the success of a well arranged smoker.

Circuit Court Callings.

The adjourned term of circuit court for Clackamas county was convened by Judge Thos. A. McBride Monday. There being no jury cases on the docket, the hold-over jurymen, of which there were two, were released from attendance until further notice.

The following cases have been disposed of during the week:

Clara M. Weed vs. E. L. Weed, decree of divorce granted on charge of desertion.

C. B. Moores vs. Clackamas county; motion to strike out portion of plaintiff's answer was overruled.

G. Stehnen vs. G. Swart, sheriff's sale of 20 acres of real property for $684.68 was confirmed; also 80 acres to Henry Holtgrieve for $1543.35 in case of Holtgrieve vs. Mary Dolan et al.

WITH BUT A SINGLE THOUGHT.

Democrats and Populists Combine on an "Anything to get Office" Basis.

The political atmosphere of Oregon City on Saturday was of a deep, rich roseate hue. The day opened up damp and foggy, but shortly after noon when the representatives of the democrats and populists gathered at the appointed places, a marked raise was noticeable in the atmosphere and by evening the thermometer pointed to the fever heat point. The war of the bosses extended to the rank and file of the two parties and great gobs of oratory and argument were flung broadcast. The contest lasted until about five o'clock p. m. when the proposed fusion plans were declared satisfactory to a majority of the perspiring partisans and were adopted, but without any great degree of enthusiasm by either party. The compact was not ratified by any blare of trumpets, or red fire, or lofty flights of oratory. There was no mass meeting, no important speakers, "no nothing" in fact, but a vague uncertainty in the minds of nearly all the delegates as to "where they were going to get off," when the result of the conference became known to the masses of both the parties represented.

The democratic forces, of which representatives of fifteen precincts were in attendance, met at the Electric hotel and were presided over by Robt. A. Miller. The meeting was called to order at 11 a. m. and the question discussed in all its phases until late in the afternoon when the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That it is the sentiment of this meeting that we unite with all the reform forces in putting up an independent or citizen's county ticket; if a feasible plan can be found, conditioned on retaining our organization."

The populist representatives numbering over forty, and presided over by Chairman Thiessen, devoted considerable time discussing the best means of uniting the "reform" forces against the common enemy, the republicans, and finally adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That it is the sentiment of the people's party county central committee that all reform forces unite on an independent ticket; the chairman of the separate parties to constitute a committee to make calls for independent primaries to elect delegates to an independent county convention."

Upon the assembling of the joint committee these resolutions were read and the question of fusion was practically settled, there only remaining the matter of details and methods to be pursued. The plan as finally adopted is to place in nomination an independent county ticket to be selected in this manner: The democrats and populists will call their separate county conventions and select their delegates to the state conventions as two parties. Then after that is done the two conventions will unite in one convention and nominate an "independent" county ticket. The basis of representation to these conventions will be, one delegate at large from each precinct, one delegate for every 25 voters and one for each fraction thereof; the basis of representation to be the vote cast for W. J. Bryan, in the 1896 election. While this plan was adopted, it does not signify that it is satisfactory to either side and in fact a hot fight may yet be put up by the minority that will compel a revision of the scheme. Another phase of the subject yet to be settled is the appointment of offices and on this rock the whole fabric may yet be wrecked.
