DESCRING SAILORS,-These are the airy warm spring day when hobos are as numerons as politicians, and petit larceny is their idle pastime. Last Friday three deserting sailors wended their way into the city, and that evening were attempting to board the overland train, but the trainmen gave them such a battle royal they were compelled to abandon their efforts. Officer Shaw took them in charge for the night, giving them each a room in "Hotel de Shaw." Next morn-his money back, paid for subscription, Oregon, April, 12, 1969, and 15 delegates to
