The Enterprise hangs tenaciously to its advocacy of celebrating the approaching Fourth of July. Here is a chance to place many business concerns on a better financial footing, and it will serve as a day of all-profits to people so engaged. The mayor is decidedly in favor of observing the Nation's red, white and blue day, and says "ring the bells 'till they rock the steeple.

It is almost an assured fact that Portland will not celebrate this year, and now is our chance. Vancouver has just declared her intention of celebrating, and surely Oregon City will not let a place ike Vancouver outdo her. We'll celebrate.

Amanda Talbert Dead.

After many years a resident of Clackamas, Mrs. Amanda Talbert died at her family home Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The deceased was in her ninetieth year, and leaves two daughters, and a son, John Talbert, republican nominee for state representative. Mrs. Talbert was a native of Missouri, coming to this county many years ago.

Her death, though expected for several days, is a severe blow to her numerous friends and relatives. She was grandma to everyone, and during a circle of friends whose pleas-
