

CORRESPONDENCE

Last week visiting his mother at this place, and his sister, Miss Newkirk, at Logan. He returned Monday to La Camus, Wash., where they have a small dam to build, after which Uncle Sam will do no more work on our rivers for the next year.

Services at both churches Sunday. Oswald Behymer has gone to Oregon City to look for work.

Sheep shearing is under way with a good clip.

The wheat crop is looking very poor now. It is turning yellow. Spring grain is looking good, though.

Just a word to the legal voters of road district No. 3 of Clackamas county, Oregon. I would like to recommend to you, our worthy candidate, Cook, who has served us as road boss for a number of years and during which time he has proven himself to be a man of thorough business principles and one who treats all alike, republican, populist or democrat. Mr. Cook is a man who has worked for the benefit of the people in general and not for what money there was in it for him. His work speaks for itself in regard to quality, for he works by principles and good judgment and not to experiment. He works very systematically and keeps everyone at work. Surely all will unite to support a man that has the reputation that Mr. Cook possesses, regardless of political views.

Why David B. Hill Wears a Silk Hat.

There are probably no two men in Albany so nearly alike and so much unlike as ex-Governor David B. Hill and Governor Theodore Roosevelt. Both men are fighters, although their methods differ. Both are brave and eloquent, and each received his office from a political party with which he in many respects differed. The two governors often meet, and there is usually a little quiet fun between them when they come together. Both men have the gift of saying sharp things. Not long ago the New York State newspaper men gave a banquet at Stauwix Hall in Albany, and among the guests of honor were the two governors. Colonel Roosevelt came first. He wore an evening suit and his famous brown sombrero, made famous by the Rough Riders. It was a combination costume at once original and picturesque. Among the last of the guests to arrive was Mr. Hill, who was conventionally attired, even to his silk hat.

"Ah!" exclaimed Colonel Roosevelt in his peculiar staccato manner, as he grasped Mr. Hill's hand, "now we have with us a real Albany swell. Governor Hill is the only man here tonight with a silk hat."

"I've got a slouch hat myself," returned Mr. Hill softly, "but I left it at home. I've given up wearing it since I went out of the advertising business."

Then dinner was announced and the remainder of the evening passed pleasantly.—Saturday Evening Post.

Presbyterians Tell What They Think of Rev. G. Wm. Gibney.

At the annual meeting of the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, Our pastor, the Rev. G. Wm. Gibney, has been acting as such for a period of over five years; and

WHEREAS, Since he came to minister unto us our church has grown phenomenally in its active membership, has grown many times over in the amount of its financial support given to the church organizations, and, what is more important, the peace, harmony and good will of the membership of our church has been fostered, increased and held fast without a jar since his coming, so that this church has assumed its true position, that of the first prominence

CHAUTAQUA CHARACTERS.

Kings of the Platform and Pulpit Coming to Oregon City.

Princes of American oratory and entertainment are billed for the Chautauqua exercises, to be given in this city during the month of July. The highest executive on land and sea—President McKinley and Admiral Dewey—have signed for a date with the committee, in the event that they make their Western tour.

It is the desire of those in charge to make 1900 outside all previous years in brilliant orators, entertainment, field sports and general satisfaction to the public. Besides a galaxy of local talent, the following eminent personages have been secured, to participate:

Metropolis Jubilee Singers, of Chicago; for two days; Alton Packard; cartoonist, Philadelphia; Dr. Thomas Mc-

Violinist's Revenge on Flood.

The incident of Honor de Reszke refusing a check insultingly offered him by Baron Rothschild after De Reszke had sung by request in the baron's drawing room recalls an incident that happened a good many years ago in the house that Bonanza King Flood occupied on Eddy street, San Francisco, before he built that gloomy pile on Nob hill. He had invited a celebrated visiting violinist to dinner, and there were a great many other guests. After dinner the violinist, much to his surprise, was asked if he would "play something." He said he had not brought his violin with him. But Flood would not take that bit and insisted on sending to the maestro's hotel for the violin and did send, and the owner played on it and responded to two or three encores. When he had done, he laid aside the violin, put his hand into his pocket, drew forth a 25 cent piece, threw it on the piano and said: "Now, Mr. Flood, every man to his trade. Mix me a cocktail."—Stockton (Cal.) Mail.

Suspicious of the Water.

"Some years ago a certain bishop of one of the states south of Mason and Dixon's line," said a southern gentleman, "was visiting some friends of mine in Alabama whom, for convenience sake, I will call the Smiths. The bishop, returning from a walk, found the family cat swimming around in and vainly trying to get out of the barrel from which the drinking water was drawn.

"After rescuing pussy the bishop entered the house and, finding Mr. and Mrs. Smith in the sitting room, mentioned the circumstance, whereat the head of the house became somewhat excited and went out, so he said, to have the water butt changed. Mrs. Smith, however, merely remarked: 'Dear little kitty, she often does that. I only hope the poor thing hasn't cold.'"

"The bishop during the balance of his stay regarded the water served at table with an eye of grave suspicion."—New York Tribune.

Irish Wit.

Two navvies, ill clad, dirt covered, rain soaked, got possession of a heavenly nook between two high stone walls while an extra heavy sleet shower prevailed. They had "hunkered" low and were watching the smoke wreaths mount from their pipes. "I'm toul," said one of them, breaking a reverie, "I'm toul, Jamie, that the king of Jarmy niver smokes." Both regarded the wreaths again for a minute in silence. "Poor man! I wouldn't like to be him, Larry; would you?"

Betty Haras of Thurmond was a very pious old Methodist. Father Dan often dropped into Betty's for a gossip. "Betty," said Father Dan, "I always find you stuck in your Bible. Now, tell me truly, do you understand it all?" "Of course I do," indignantly. "Well, work I've been studying it all my life, and I don't understand it all yet."

"To the mountains our people in increasing numbers yearly look for those days of relaxation and recreation necessary to maintain the humane machine in fair working condition. The languorous sloth of the seashore proves very seductive while it lasts, but many have decided that the annual outing should provide not only radical change of air and surroundings, but also such stimulation of flagging energies as will provide brawn and vigor for the return to labor. For this they urge the mountain climb and ramble, the balsam of the mountain pines, and the clear, undiluted mountain air.

"In this direction the Shasta Route now affords a wealth of attractions. The entire line of road from Ashland to Redding is studded with charming and accessible hotels and camps, where are cheer and comfort and healing at reasonable cost, and where you can hunt, fish, ride, loaf, or play with equal facility."

"Or if you look for healing waters, none better can be found hot or cold, than the springs of Ashland, Coeatin, Anderson, Bartlett, Byron and Paso Robles."

"Before visiting Europe, the people of the Northwest should see the glories of Yosemite Valley, and the wondrous groves of Mariposa and Calaveras, the Parisians are likely to make inquiries concerning these attractive resorts.

ARMORY COMPANY A, THIRD REGIMENT, O. N. C.

OREGON CITY, OREGON, May 15, 1900.

Company Orders No. 1.

I. Following the usual custom this company will attend Memorial services with Mead Post No. 2, G. A. R., of this city, on Sunday May 27, at 9 a. m. The men will report in fatigue uniform with side arms

II. On Wednesday, May 30, 1900, this company will assemble at the armory at 9:30 a. m. for the purpose of acting as escort to the Grand Army of the Republic on the occasion of the ceremonies in observance of Decoration day. Men will report in fatigue uniforms; wearing campaign hats, web belts and leggings.

III. The commandant has been desirous of setting aside a day for field service before the general encampment takes place, and as the 19th and 20th of this month seems about as opportune a time as will occur arrangements have been made to devote the entire days to military ceremonies. To make this a success and to obtain the results desired every available man must be present if practicable, and it is earnestly requested that the members make a special effort to be with the company on that day. Oswego has been the place selected because the company will have an opportunity for the much needed target practice, as well as a clear field for company maneuvers. Rations will be provided by the commissary which will permit of the carrying out of the above plan without any delay whatever.

IV. M. L. Miller, dropped for continuous neglect of duty; an honorable discharge has been granted to O. McQuade and W. M. Moore on account of removal from state; Corp'l Noble has been reduced to ranks by his own request.

V. The following appointments are hereby made to warrants to date from the insurance of this order; 1st, sergeant L. W. Porter vice M. L. Miller; Corporal George Rall promoted to 3rd sergeant vice Fred Humphrey promoted second lieutenant; Private Harry Kumpkin promoted corporal vice George Rall; Private C. D. Hoffman promoted corporal vice Noble; Private C. C. Burns, jr., promoted corporal, and they will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

BY ORDER OF CAPTAIN P. A. METZNER, Commanding Company.

among the churches of this city and state, therefore be it

Resolved, By this meeting, assembled as the regular annual meeting of the membership of our church, upon this 4th day of April, A. D. 1900, that the church as a body extend to our pastor congratulations upon the result of his past five years and more of work among us; our appreciation of him as a man, a faithful pastor and a Christian minister, and our prayers and hopes for his continued usefulness among us, and health and long life for him and his family.—Spokane Review.

Cold Seat Or Death.

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvelous power of Elocetric Bitters to cure Stomach and Liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at Geo. A. Harding's drug store.
