CRUSHED BY HER CROWN!

The great "Book of Martyra" has never been written. For's famous work deals only with the martyrdom of the body. When the real book of martyrs is written it will deal with the mental martyrdom of the woman who suffered in allence because modesty would not let her put into speech the questions that burned in her heart.

Modesty is the Crown of Maidenhood and Motherhood, and yet there have been literally millions of women crushed to death by that crown,—that shining symbol of woman's sovereignty in the home.

A YOUNG GIRL

"Standing with reluctant feet
Where womanhood and girthood meet."

In the first critical period of her life she begins to experience suffering which she necessarily connects with the organs of sex.
What it is she does not know. Why it is she does not understand. She needs mediwhat it is she does not always whe does not understand. She needs medical advice. But she shrinks from it. Her modesty is up in arms at the thought of questions to be asked, of examinations to be submitted to, both alike repugnant to delicacy. So she suffers in silence. The strain on the delicate machinery of her organism becomes more severe. Painful irregularities become yet more painful. And so, silently, she treads the painful path to confirmed invalidism. Her crown of modesty becomes a crown of thorns. She sees the glowing lamp light of cheerful homes. She hears the cooing of the happy babe, the prattle of joyous children, and she fears that all that life of home and love is not for her.

Or take the other typical case of the woman who has entered on the cares and butters of wiferhood.

DUTIES OF WIFEHOOD. She has always been healthy and happy. But now a change comes. Her eye loses its brightness. Her step loses its spring. The color fades from her cheek. Frequently she is compelled to lie down and rest. She is in constant pain. She looks dreadingly down the calendar toward the hour when the burden of motherhood will be laid upon her. She, too, needs help. But she too suffers affently, because she cannot speak and open the door to such questions or such examinations as her modesty revolts at. And yet all this suffering is as has been said, unnecessary, because to match modesty of speech there is modesty of hearing.

There is one physician who has fully met the needs of modest women by offering absolute confidence in consultation—combined with absolute competence in treatment. His She has always been healthy and happy.
