THE LOCAL NEWS.

INFANT DIED.—In this city, Monday afternoon, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart died. The funeral occurred Tuesday.

HOTEL REMODELED.—J. D. Renner has the contract for remodeling the old Cliff House and will begin work this week. The Cliff House is considered one of the oldest hotels in Oregon.

NEW SCHOOLHOUSE.—Bolton has just completed a new 4500 schoolhouse and the first term taught in the new building will begin Monday, September 17. Deputy School Superintendent Mrs. Gertrude Strange will be in charge.

PROFIT IN SHEEP.—E. E. Judd, a prosperous farmer of Molalla, is thoroughly convinced that there is more profit in sheep-raising than in regular farming. As evidence, he cites the fact that last year he bought 11 head of ewes, and this spring he has, in addition to those purchased, 19 head of lambs. He has been offered $3.50 per head for the latter, but has concluded there is money in sheep-raising and will keep them.

TAXES DUE.—The sheriff's books show the total amount of assessable property in Clackamas county to be valued at $4,366,160. The taxes upon this property amount to $144,922.55, of which $125,000 has been collected this year. The taxroll will close today. On this basis this year's delinquent taxes would amount to about $20,000. The sheriff's deputies began writing the delinquent list yesterday. Sheriff Cooke has been very lenient with the taxpayers, having extended the date of closing the taxroll three times in order to give everyone a chance to pay up.

GETS A VACATION.—Rev. J. H. Beaven, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, has been granted a two weeks' leave of absence and, accompanied by his wife and sister, will spend his vacation at Vashon, Wash. Chattanooga is in session at this place and Rev. Beaven is on the program to deliver a lecture Thursday, August 16, entitled, "Development of Doctrine." His pulpit will be occupied by Rev. H. L. Boardman, president of McMinnville college, and Rev. Willard H. Latourette, of Oakland Cal, during his absence.

WILL CELEBRATE.—The citizens of Logan and Springwater are not to be outdone by a few disappointments. Last Fourth of July they planned for a big day, but the steady downpour of rain thwarted their hopes and the exercises were postponed until the 25th day of this month. On account of harvest season the date has again been changed and a grand picnic will be held Saturday, September 1, at Union Park, between Logan and Springwater. Governor Geer and Hon. George C. Brownell have signed their willingness to be present and deliver addresses.

FEES ARE LESS.—The county clerk's fees for the month of July amount to $292.15. This is somewhat short of what the monthly fees were prior to last November. At that time Judge McBride made an order that knocks Clackamas county out of a considerable amount for divorce fees. Prior to that time there were a large number of divorce cases brought from Portland to this county for settlement, but Judge McBride's ruling, to the effect that one of the parties to the suit must be a bona fide resident of this county, has shut off this source of revenue. The filing fee for divorce is $2 and the trial fees $5.

BIG TRANSFER.—County Recorder Randall was given an instrument to place on record Monday that involves the transfer of tracts of land on the north and east side of the Tualatin river, aggregating 404.31 acres. The grantor is the Oswego Iron & Steel Company and the grantee is the Willamette Falls Company. The consideration named is $38,672.13. The deed contains a special stipulation wherein the grantor reserves to itself and its successors water rights and dams in the Tualatin river, riparian rights, etc., except that already held by N. O. Walden, or the Willamette Falls Company.

CHINESE POW WOV.—The Chinese of this city held a pow-wow at the tailoring establishment of Him Kee Monday afternoon. About a dozen celebrities from the Flowery Kingdom were here in the interest of what they term the reform party in China. The chief mogul is Lung Ki Ting, a merchant of Portland. They will travel all over the coast wherever there are any Chinamen and organize a party in sympathy with the Emperor of China. They are bitterly opposed to the Empress Dowager and claim she is in collusion with the Boxers. Lung Ki Ting looks forward to an amicable adjustment of the world war in China, and attributes its origin to the lawless element termed the Boxers, who have held sway in different portions of China for years. During their stay in the city they visited the mills and factories and took in the different places of interest. Lung Ki Ting is an intelligent man and claims to be a distant relative of the Emperor.
