REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET

- For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, of Ohio.
For Vice President, THEODORE ROOSEVELT, of New York.
For Presidential Electors, TILMAN FERRIS, Marion County

It is quite possible that the democratic party will lose the election, but it can't lose Bryan.

ABOUT the only educational institution that does not report an increased attendance this year is Coan's Financial school.

D. B. HILL is receiving no votes in the selections for the Hall of Fame, perhaps on account of the uncertainty as to whether or not he is really dead.

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has no notion of following Mr. Olney's course in the present campaign. Mr. Cleveland's sympathies are well known to be in the direction of the success of the republican presidential ticket.

Mr. Bryan says: "Whether the senate, now hostile to bimetallicism, can be changed during the present campaign or the campaign of 1902, can only be determined after the votes are counted."

In reviewing the various considerations which will influence voters in this campaign, there is one which many may overlook. That is the silent, quiet influence of President McKinley's remarkable fidelity and self-sacrifice in the administration of his great office during the last four years.

WHAT is Mr. Bryan's plan for the disposition of the Philippines? The only inference from his speeches is that he would let loose fair promises and honeyed words, and on the strength of these would withdraw the American troops from the Philippines.

Be glad of life, because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars; to be satisfied with your possessions, but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world, except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice; to be governed by your admirations rather than by your disgusts; to covet nothing that is your neighbor's except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manners; to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends, and every day of Christ; and to spend as much time as you can, with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors—these are little guide posts on the footpath to peace.

This "full dinner pail" is an argument for the farmer, as well as for the city laborer. Who supplies what is put into the pail? The farmer. If the city laborer has his wages cut in two by free silver, or is put out of a job by the closing of the mills, the farmer suffers equally, for the farmer may give away, but he cannot sell, the products of his farm which the city laborer cannot afford to buy.

type, such as we find in Egypt and Assyria. But the back was not suited to its burden. Too many fell off.

After a short lapse of intervening years and with hard experience he reappeared. This time he comes with two humps, a full Bactrian double-turreted camel of the desert. The old hump of 16 to 1 is there it is true, but he has grown another and a larger hump, labeled 'imperialism,' which he assures us is paramount, and between these inviting eminences or pair of mounts we are told that there still remains a short section of genuine old Democratic backbone, to which those unable to ride on either mount may slide, safe in the gentle depression between the two, from the danger of falling off the back of reconstructed Democracy.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

Everybody takes more or less pleasure in speculating on the result of the election. This handy table gives the vote of 1896 and supplies a basis upon which to found your opinion in the present struggle for the majority of the electoral votes:

Table with columns: STATES, With Number of Electoral Votes, MCKINLEY (Electoral Vote, Popular Vote), BRYAN (Electoral Vote, Popular Vote). Lists states from Alabama to Wyoming with corresponding electoral and popular vote counts.

As will be noticed, while McKinley carried California and Kentucky, it was so close that one Bryan elector was elected in each of these states.

BRYAN THE CAMEL.

Americans delight to bestow zoological and ornithological titles upon their great men. We have our lions, elephants, tigers, our eagles, our game-cocks, and falcons. It is time that Bryan should be given some fitting appellation, such as is bestowed on other great men of his class.

when the Republicans were restored to power.

Mr. Bryan is quoted on the subject of trusts as saying that any man who speaks of good trusts and bad trusts is like one who speaks of good kings and bad kings, and he caps the climax by exclaiming: "I hate kings of all kinds!"

tell him that friendly association with all is possible and right.—The Argonaut.

with her own physical health and cheerful disposition. Many a wife who had dreaded motherhood because of past experiences of prenatal misery of mind and body has found a new era open to her with the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

There is no alcohol in Favorite Prescription and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. J. W. G. Stephens, Mills, Northumberland Co., Virginia. "Before my third little boy was born I took six bottles. He is the finest child and has been from birth, and I suffered very much less than I did before in confinement. I unhesitatingly advise expectant mothers to use the Favorite Prescription."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a pleasant and effective laxative medicine.
