

CORRESPONDENCE

Carus.

CARUS, Oct. 22.—The beautiful Indian summer weather has passed and we may expect rain and mud in plenty.

A. Kleinholder has lately disposed of his live stock and farming tools. He has rented a farm near Walla Walla and will remove thither as soon as he is able to travel. Louis and the younger members of the family left Carus last Friday.

Mr. Kleinholder has been confined to his bed with inflammatory rheumatism. He has rented the farm here to a relative.

The Welsh friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lewis recently made them a pleasant surprise party as a welcome home from Alaska.

A farewell party was given last week to Thomas Lewis, at the home of Miss Lula Hayward. About twenty young people were present. Dancing was the amusement of the evening. Tommy goes to Caribonda or Burnett to work in the mines this winter.

John E. Jones left Carus last week for Seattle where he has found work for the winter. Mr. Jones stated to friends, before he left that he expected to soon purchase an 80-acre farm in this vicinity.

Carus was well represented in the October meeting of Central grange. Since the burning of the hall at Beaver Creek, grange meetings are held at the home of Wm. Griseenthwaite.

Mulino.

MULINO, Oct. 22.—The Mulino Literary society re-organized with M. Hibbard as president, Bain Howard, vice-president; Maggie Mulvey, secretary; Aggie Wallace, treasurer. Meetings will be held every Tuesday evening. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Dr. Goucher has moved to the Cooper place next to Mr. Pain's.

Oscar Daniels and wife have moved on Dr. Goucher's place.

Bruce Darnell and his father will move back on the old Wiley May place soon and the Pratt Bros. will move to the sawmill.

Mr. Fish now occupies the Edwards' place and J. O. Bounds the Wells' place, so there is but one vacant house in town, the old store of C. T. Howard.

Adkins Bros. have moved back to their old camp on Buckner Creek. They have 2000 logs in the creek at Abe Larkin's place waiting for high water to run them down to their mill.

Our school is progressing nicely with Mr. Hibbard as teacher.

Frank Irish is on the sick list. Dr. Goucher is in attendance.

Johnny Mulvaney has gone to Washington to work this winter in a logging camp.

Redland.

REDLAND, Oct. 23.—Well, we guess the ground is wet enough to plow now. Some fall sown grain is up and looks to be in good condition.

Will Harris, who lives at the west end of town has his new sawmill well under way. It will be a modern mill in every respect when completed.

Abe Kammscher is hauling his apples to Viola for F. Walker to dry.

Mr. Gray has some relatives from near Willhoit visiting him at present.

The persons who were talking about the Redland correspondent, at the party Saturday at Viola are badly mistaken. It is some one else.

L. Mosher, of Portland, spent Sunday, with his folks here.

John Richardson had his fine short-horn bull shot by some one last week. The shot was evidently from a small rifle. The perpetrator of such an act should be caught and punished. It is a serious offense to go on a man's premises and shoot his stock. Jas. Follam also had a cow shot (not killed) with a shotgun. Those sports should be careful where they shoot.

Miss Hattie Wilcox has purchased a new buggy. Now boys, who can look the sweetest?

Henry Mosher was over at Sandy on business the first of the week, returning by Zion, where he attended quarterly of the M. E. church.

Next Monday Miss Mabel Stone will begin a term of school at Dover. This is her second term there.

Highland.

HIGHLAND, Oct. 22.—Potato-digging and apple-picking are the topics of the day.

O. Fellows and John Scott returned from their mountain hunt, reporting plenty of game.

Frank Halaway has gone to Salem to visit his sister, who is residing there.

Augusta Jones, of Parkplace, is visiting her father, Thomas Jones.

Miss Elizabeth Wallace who has been visiting her parents for the past three weeks returned to her home in Portland today.

N. Scribner and wife are here visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Scribner is in the logging business near Scappoose.

Mrs. Fowler, of Portland, is here for a few days visiting her parents.

Livery rigs were plentiful in Highland Sunday, the event being the wedding of Amos Harrington and Miss Katie VanDodge.

This community was visited with the grim monster, death, taking Mrs. Jas. Parrish, who died Thursday and was buried Friday in the Highland cemetery; also John Shockley died Friday and was buried Sunday in the Ringo cemetery.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Van Donge, of Highland was the scene of a quiet little wedding Sunday, Oct. 21 when Miss Katie became the bride of Amos Harrington. Miss Pearl Harrington acted as bridesmaid and Bardell VanDodge, brother of the bride, as best man. The ceremony was performed at 12 o'clock by Rev. Allen, of Viola, in a very impressive manner, after which all repaired to the dining room, where a delightful wedding dinner was served.

The bride looked charming in a gown of steel gray. The groom wore the conventional black. Both the bride and groom are well-known in this county and have a host of friends who join in wishing them a long and happy life.

Amid a heavy shower of rice they departed for a short wedding journey. On their return they will locate in Highland. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Van Donge, Mr. and Mrs. A. Harrington, Mrs. Bell Fowler, of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Scribner and Sammie, Mr. and Mrs. James Heckart, and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Harrington, Mrs. J. S. Copley, Pearl and Wava Harrington.

Oswego.

OSWEGO, Oct. 21.—Last night about 7 o'clock fire was discovered in the old Portland House, owned by the O. L. S. Co. and situated in what is known as the old town. In a few minutes the flames had spread to every part of the building and in less than half an hour the building was entirely devoured by the flames. The house has not been occupied for several years and no one knows the origin of the fire.

The pipe foundry is again in operation, after a few days stop for want of iron.

There has been three or four families moved into Oswego in the last two weeks. The vehicle tax drove them out of Portland.

Mrs. E. B. Worthington has added a stock of groceries to her cigar and candy store in the bank building.

The Artisans will have a social meeting next Saturday evening.

R. L. Pollock is in California on business.

James Coon, sr. is at Stella, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Pettinger rejoice in the possession of a brand new baby girl, last Sunday.

Politically, we will wager dollars to doughnuts that Oswego is the quietest town in Oregon, fact is, there is danger that some fellows will forget when election day comes, but the major will get there all the same.

THE Y. M. C. A.

E. J. Bloom, of Portland, Elected Physical Director.

The Young Men's Christian Association has made a remarkable growth in the last three years. Where so much remains to be done present accomplishments are likely to be overlooked; yet the remembrance of the Association's quarters three years ago and a glance at its present new building will amply sustain the foregoing statement.

Even two years ago the Young Men's Christian Association designated three small rooms in rented quarters with no gymnasium only

TIME IS LIFE

The father? Gone for the doctor. The mother? Alone with her suffering child. Will the doctor never come? When there is croup in the house you can't get the doctor quick enough. It's too dangerous to wait. Don't make such a mistake again; it may cost a life. Always keep on hand a dollar bottle of

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

It cures the croup at once. Then when any one in the family comes down with a hard cold or cough a few doses of the Pectoral will cut short the attack at once. A 25 cent bottle will cure a miserable cold; the 50c. size is better for a cold that has been hanging on.

Keep the dollar size on hand. "About 25 years ago I came near dying with consumption, but was cured with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, since which time I have kept Ayer's medicine in the house and recommended them to all my friends." C. D. MATHEWSON, Bristol, Vt., Jan. 16, 1899.

Write the Doctor. If you have any complaints whatever and desire the best medical advice, write the doctor freely. Address Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

The mockery of a bath, no hall for entertainment and a general air of cramped discomfort. Today the Association owns its building and lot, has a splendid gymnasium, also serviceable as a hall; the same number of baths as the Portland Association; reading rooms and the equipment for an energetic and successful work.

The property and equipment as it now stands has cost some $4,500 and is probably worth considerably more; the total indebtedness of the Association is $2,900 leaving a net gain in two years of $1,600 as the indebtedness as that time approximated $300.

Many cities the size of ours are sustaining a similar work in a way which seems to indicate that the task undertaken here is not too great. Everett, Washington, has recently raised $5000 for a building; Bennington and Battleboro, Vt., of 6000 and 7000 inhabitants respectively each expend $2,100 for current work aside from any building expenditure, while eleven towns in Pennsylvania whose average population is less than 5000 each spend for current expenses, $2,089 per annum. Oregon City's expenditure on this score for the past year does not exceed $1000. Considering the work done, this speaks volumes for the careful management of our local Association during that time. It shows conclusively that we are getting results for the money expended.

The regular gymnasium classes of the Association will begin Saturday next with Mr. E. J. Bloom, of Portland, as physical director.

The following schedule of classes will be carried out:

- Mondays, 4 to 5 p. m. junior class.
" 5 to 6 p. m. business men
" 8 to 9:15 p. m. evening class.
Thursday, 5 to 6 p. m. business men
Saturday, 2:30 to 4 p. m. juniors
" 5 to 6 p. m. business men
" 8 to 9:15 p. m. evening class.
Boys under 15 years of age may enter the evening class if they are of large size, while all men are eligible to either business men's or evening classes. Special exercise will be allowed when classes are not on the floor. Hot and cold baths open daily from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. except Sundays.

FUN IN JUSTICE COURT. Lawyers Throw Boquets of Sarcasm at Each Other.

The scales of justice in J. W. McAnulty's court have been filled to overflowing this week, weighing out legal opinions.

The first sparring for points of law was in the case instituted by Capt. J. T. Apperson against Constable Harry S. Moody for trespass, which was postponed from last week and which his attorneys sought to have still further continued on account of the illness of the defendant's counsel, Geo. C. Brownell, until next Monday. A lively war of words ensued between Deputy District Attorney J. U. Campbell, associate council for defense, and H. E. Cross, who appeared for the plaintiff. Justice McAnulty settled the tilt by setting the trial for Monday, October, 29.

Charles Hester, who was arrested last Saturday on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, to-wit: a knife, upon the person of Charles Walker, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice McAnulty Monday afternoon. At the outset of the trial the prosecuting witness could not be found, and the defense asked that Hester be discharged on the grounds that he had a right to meet and face his accuser in open court. To this Attorney Campbell replied that if such a law held good, every man that was murdered would have to have his skeleton dug up and brought into court. Motion was overruled.

The following evidence was adduced during the trial:

Hester and another person entered the saloon of C. N. Wilson about 8 o'clock Friday evening and became engaged in a quarrel. Wilson ordered them out of the saloon and when they insisted on staying young Walker said "this is a gentleman's house, and you can't fight here." Hester flew in a rage and came at him, and a general scuffle ensued. Walker was cut over the hip with a pocket knife. The wound was very slight but could have been fatal. Officer Burns swore to the best of his knowledge the knife produced in court belonged to Hester and was the one that the defendant had cut James Miller with several months ago. Night Officer Shaw, who made the arrest, saw Walker on his knees and defendant hold of him. Walker told Shaw that Hester had a knife, and then picked it up and gave it to the officer. Shaw could not swear whether the knife belonged to plaintiff or defendant. He did not see it in defendant's hand. He also stated that the point of the blade was nicked and a small fragment of wool, the same color of the underclothing worn by Walker, clung to this indentation. The facts were also brought out that Hester is in the habit of brandishing a knife quite freely when drunk, and that he had chased Paul Hussock out of his saloon with a knife, recently.

Dimick & Eastham appeared for the defendant and J. U. Campbell represented the state. During their argument before the justice, Dimick accused Campbell of pettifoggery to which the latter retorted that counsel for defense and defendant had spirited the prosecuting witness away and are now calling for a face to face trial.

The defendant's attorneys put up a strong defence. Justice McAnulty held Hester to appear before the circuit court under $200 bonds.

Spreading Happiness.

"I have but one rule that I follow absolutely in this life, and that is to make other people as happy as possible." "Well," he replied, "you ought to be gratified then at what I heard a young lady say the other day." "What was that?" "She said that whenever she saw you dancing she had to laugh."—Chicago Times-Herald.

An Embarrassing Situation.

"Dibbs (facetiously)—This is a picture of my wife's first husband." "Dobbs—Great snakes! What a brainless looking idiot! But I didn't know your wife was married before she met you?" "Dibbs—She wasn't. That is a picture of myself at the age of 29.—London Fun.

Letting Well Enough Alone.

"Bobbs—I see that a man has invented a typewriter that you just sit down and talk to and it writes out everything you say." "Dobbs—I guess I'll keep mine. She doesn't write everything I say, and I'm glad of it.—Baltimore American.

Blood.

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain, in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood.

This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its genuine taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists 409-411 Broadway, New York.
