REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET

- For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, of Ohio.
For Vice-President, THEODORE ROOSEVELT, of New York.

THE political silence of Grover Cleveland is at least so noisy, that both parties claim they can hear it shouting for them.

KENTUCKY'S democratic legislature has slightly modified the Goebel law, but not so that the democrats will be obliged to take any chances on the election.

ANYONE can see why W. Bourke Cockran's throat would become sore, and his voice balk, if he undertook to make free-silver speeches for Bryan—He's a gold standard Cockran.

THANKS to the professional humorists, the asperities of the campaign are occasionally relieved by a jest or two, some of which seem almost to good to be true.

"Well, Governor," said Mr. Bryan, "how is your voice?"
"It's as rough as the populist platform," replied the Governor.

ORDINARILY non-residents have little or no concern about the domestic affairs of a state. But Kentucky's notorious Goebel law is an exception.

Not only is it a menace to the peace of Kentucky, but it may disturb the entire country. If the result of Nov. 6 should hinge on the electoral vote of Kentucky and the result in that state should have aspects similar to those which recently brought Kentucky to the verge of civil war the situation would be grave indeed.

The death of ex-Postmaster-General Wilson removes a man who attained his prominent position before the country in much the same way as did William McKinley.

won his fame through his work in the preparation of a tariff bill, the measure which was finally enacted becoming in its way representative of the tariff-reform policy, as McKinley's bill was representative of the policy of protection.

CONSULT your own memory and see whether or not the condition of the country, when Wm. McKinley was made president, tally with the state of affairs that now exist. Right here in our own state of Oregon, let us refresh our memories and see if the following events were prevalent in 1893: Over 1000 head of horses and mules have been bought by government agents in Eastern Oregon for service in the Philippines.

"HALL OF FAME." MISS HELEN GOULD bequeathed to the New York University $100,000 to be applied in building what is known as the "Hall of Fame."

These are the thirty-one names that received the fifty-one votes required to insure their acceptance, with the total received by each: George Washington, 97 (full vote); Abraham Lincoln, 96; Daniel Webster, 96; Benjamin Franklin, 94; U. S. Grant, 92; John Marshall 91; Thomas Jefferson, 90; Ralph Waldo Emerson, 86; Henry W. Longfellow, 84; Robert Fulton, 81; Washington Irving, 82; Jonathan Edwards, 82; David G. Farragut, 79; Samuel F. B. Morse, 79; Henry Clay, 74; George Peabody, 72; Nathaniel Hawthorne, 72; Robert E. Lee, 69; Peter Cooper, 68; Horace Mann, 67; Henry Ward Beecher, 66; Eli Whitney, 66; James Kent, 65; Joseph Morey, 64; John Adams, 61; William Ellery Channing 58; John James Audubon, 57; Elias Howe, 53; William Morris Hunt, 52; Gilbert Stuart, 52, Asa Gray, 51.

AMERICAN CAPITAL IN EUROPE. The present healthy condition of American finances is a fact that attracts more attention and causes more comment abroad than in this country. That British, German, Russian, and Swedish treasury bonds have been negotiated in New York during the past year is well known in the money markets of the world, but little public discussion of the matter has been noted on this side.

deal is regarded with interest by the London press, and the satisfaction with which the introduction of improved methods is welcomed is tempered only by the concern that the invasion of foreign capital has aroused.

Recognition of New York as a financial centre whose importance is no less than that of London and Berlin is no longer denied. In all great loans of the future, the American metropolis will be considered. At this time the supply of capital there is sufficient to make interest rates lower than in any city of Europe.

PRESIDENTIAL VOTE IN OREGON

How the Vote Stood in the Several Counties in 1896.

In view of the approaching presidential election, the vote for president in 1896 will be interesting, both to refresh the memory as to how it stood and for reference to said in making estimates of the result this year.

Following is the vote by counties in 1896:

Table with columns: COUNTIES, Bryan Votes, McKinley Vote, Bryan Plurality, McKinley Plurality. Rows include Baker, Benton, Clackamas, Clatsop, Columbia, Coos, Crook, Curry, Douglas, Gilliam, Grant, Harney, Jackson, Josephine, Klamath, Lake, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Malheur, Marion, Morrow, Multnomah, Polk, Sherman, Tillamook, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wasco, Washington, Yamhill.

FROM THE BATTLE-FIELD

An Oregon City Boy Returns From the Land of Rebels.

"If you will believe what I am about to tell you, I can turn any fair-minded American from the fallacies of anti-imperialism to the substantial path of honorable expansion as enunciated by the present administration."

These words fell from the lips of one of our own home boys, whose integrity is unquestioned and whose honest convictions are unimpeachable. Not that alone, this young man was a democrat. You all know him when we make known the subject of this sketch is John T. Poindexter, who has just returned from the Philippine islands, where he was engaged in the quartermaster's department with General Funston at San Isidor, in the interior of Luzon.

Young Poindexter was formerly a resident of this city, and stopped off here last Saturday to visit friends while en route to his home in Prineville, where his parents now reside.

When interviewed Saturday evening, among other statements, he made the following assertions:

"The quickest way to end the rebellion is to end Bryanism. The name of Bryan is emblazoned all over the islands and children are taught to revere him. The Tagals, realizing their only hope lies in the election of the democratic candidate, are making their last dying struggle in order to abet in his election. This is a condition, not a theory, and I honestly believe that not one person returning from the scene of action within recent date will take issue upon this statement. It is the talk of the island. It is Bryan on the street corner, Bryan in the counting-house, Bryan in the rice field and Bryan in the store. The inhabitants are led to believe that the very minute Bryan is elected their independence is forever won and the islands will be turned over to them like a Christmas gift."

"When I set sail for the Philippines I was a democrat, an anti-imperialist, and adverse to McKinley's administration. I will now most heartily support it, as I consider it a wise, conservative and righteous solution of the knotty and perplexing situation that has been thrust upon us. 'I found when I was there a few days that the Tagals were the only ones opposed to American occupation, and that these constitute only one of the 11 tribes in Luzon. I found that all the other tribes feared and hated the Tagals, but were more or less friendly to the Americans. I found that when these treacherous Tagals captured a town they would immediately proceed to butcher and rob the natives who had manifested a friendliness for us. The Tagals dare not hunt a fight with our soldiers, because they know they will be accommodated, and that 12 Americans are equal to 100 of them.

"In all the interior towns, matters are on a peaceful footing and trade is carried on as safely as it is in today Oregon City. 'Once peace is established over the islands, the Filipinos will be the happiest people in the world.

"The American hospitals are full and a great deal of sickness prevails throughout the islands."

What Does it Mean?

Editor Enterprise: Is it an indication that Wm. McKinley will be elected and the republican party continued in power, which will be an assurance of good times when one sees on the coat lapel of three-fourths of all the men, a McKinley button, and many are from the country districts, farmers that can realize who is the right party to keep them on the sure road to prosperity.

The writer has traveled over the principal parts of Washington, Idaho and Oregon and everywhere one sees the pictures of President McKinley and Gov. Roosevelt in the business establishments and nine-tenths of the photographs displayed in the residences are of Wm. McKinley.

This is a plain indication of the way the election in the three states mentioned is going. The republican ticket will be elected by larger majorities than ever.

There is a great contrast with now and four years ago. It takes no adept to know it is better to have employment at living wages than no work at all, as was the case four years ago with large numbers of the wage-earning people.

All hotel-keepers that were in business four years ago will tell you they are doing from 100 to 200 per cent better business than they were in previous years. Is that any indication that the trusts are injuring their business as the fusionists are prone to say? They would have you believe the republican party is responsible for the combining of capital to benefit the individual who is so fortunate to have that capital and see an opportunity to invest his money at a profit.

The followers of the democratic platform have got to howl something to make a showing and past hobbies would not take, and naturally to them, they prate about those terrible trusts the administrations imperilistic tendencies which, as the people are getting to know, is not a word of truth in, as anyone that has kept pace with the events of the past two years knows, and are not taking any stock in the many assertions made by the democrats.

OLD PEOPLE

Have a charm of their own when they are not weak and feeble, but hale and hearty, enjoying the sports and pleasures of youth though they cannot participate in them. The whole secret of a sturdy old age is this: Keep the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in perfect order. The young man who does not think of it as he grows old. It is the "weak" stomach, incapable of supplying the adequate nutrition for the body, which causes the weakness and feebleness of old age.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It makes the "weak" stomach strong, and so enables the body to be fully nourished and strengthened by the food which is eaten.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. G. Popplewell of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me, could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helplessly to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellels' and improved from the start. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since. I am now in good health for one of my age—46 years. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's medicines."
