REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, of Ohio.
For Vice-President, THEODORE ROOSEVELT, of New York.

For Presidential Electors, TILMAN FOLEY, Marion County; J. C. FULLERTON, Douglas County; W. J. FURNISH, Umatilla County; O. F. PAXTON, Multnomah County

BRYAN has now got up from the "plain people" to Emperor Dick.

SOMEHOW the Boxers keep on boxing, regardless of the fact that the war is over.

The vice of Greater New York has paid Tammany's assessments for Bryan's campaign fund.

It is all right to have a yacht that is to defend the cup built by a syndicate, just so long as it is not owned by a trust.

Mr. BRYAN stopped only a few hours in Pennsylvania. After mature deliberation, he decided not to capture the electoral vote of that state.

CARL SCHURZ's name may not grace a tablet in the Temple of Fame, but it is certainly entitled to a conspicuous place on the political merry-go-round.

AGUIBALDO is doing his very best to make a showing on the eve of the election. He firmly believes that he is making votes for Bryan by shooting American soldiers.

BRYAN's patriotism is of that peculiar kind that would lead him to wreck every industrial institution in the country in order to make a practical experiment of his theories.

WESTERN farmers endorse the expansion policy. They love their country and take pride in its growing greatness and influence. They sent their sons to the Philippines to fight for the establishment of American authority, and they are not willing that the flag should be pulled down in disgrace.

EVERY republican voter should get out and vote. The bigger the majority, the better for the state. The county will probably be rated in county and congressional conventions on the vote polled at this election and it behooves the republicans to get out and vote if the delegation from this county is to hold the prominent place it now has in convention.

GEN. JACOB S. COXEY, who six years ago marched at the head of an army of several hundred unemployed workmen into the national capital, Washington, D. C. and camped on the lawn surrounding the White House, is today advertising for men to work on a steel casting plant which he is erecting in Mount Vernon, O. Mr. Coxeey expects to spend $250,000 on these buildings.

He is personally superintending the construction of the plant.

Just now there is a great demand for labor, thanks to the general feeling of confidence among the business community. Enterprise is alive and men with money are going into all kinds of industrial ventures. Labor, therefore, is independent at present, and so we have an epidemic of strikes. We rarely have strikes in hard times; they are the products of prosperity. The steadily employed workman thinks he should share with his employer the profits of profits of the business. This theory is all right as long as there are profits. In the business. The theory is all right as long as there are profits. The time comes, however, in nearly all lines of business when the profits dwindle and perhaps, disappear. Business conditions are always changing. They are as restless as the ocean tides. The ebb or flow is always in motion.

THANKSGIVING.

By the President of the United States of America—A Proclamation. It has pleased Almighty God to bring our nation in safety and honor through another year. The works of religion and charity have everywhere been manifest. Our country, through all its extent, has been blessed with abundant harvests. Labor and the great industries of the people have prospered beyond all precedent. Our commerce has spread over the world. Our power and influence in the cause of freedom and enlightenment have extended over distant seas and lands. The lives of our official representatives and many of our people in China have been marvelously preserved. We have been generally exempt from pestilence and other great calamities, and even the tragic visitation which overwhelmed the city of Galveston made evident the sentiments of sympathy and Christian charity by virtue of which we are one united people.

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 29th of November next, to be observed by all the people of the United States, at home or abroad, as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Him who holds the nations in the hollow of His hand. I recommend that they gather in their several places of worship and devoutly give Him thanks for the prosperity wherewith He has endowed us, for seed time and harvest, for the valor, devotion and humanity of our armies and navies and for all His benefits to us as individuals and as a nation; and that they humbly pray for the continuance of His divine favor, for concord and amity with other nations and for righteousness and peace in all our ways.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.
Dated Oct. 29, 1900.

THE UNITED STATES ARMY.

The Army and Navy Register has compiled from official sources a table showing the strength of the army of the United States from 1780 up to 1890. The following figures show the strength of the army every tenth year from 1800, as compared with the population of the United States, in each decennial year:

Table with 3 columns: Year, Army, Population. Rows from 1800-1810 to 1890-1900.

It must be apparent to any one who will devote a little study to these figures that the army, even estimating it at 100,000 men, which includes 35,000 volunteers for temporary service, has not increased in proportion to the increase of the nation's population, wealth and territory.

PROHIBITION VOTES HELP BRYAN.

PAYN, Oct. 29, 1900.

Editor Enterprise: The prohibition party is again active in certain parts of the United States which would be perhaps, well enough, if there were any prospect of their winning the day. As to the practicability of prohibition, each one of us may differ, one thing is certain, it cannot be realized at present, and the republicans who may be led to vote for it will simply lessen the chances of Mr. McKinley's re-election, with no hope of carrying their own, besides supporting Mr. Bryan and his pet scheme. Let it be repeated, that republicans cannot vote for prohibition without voting for Mr. Bryan, whose views concerning the liquor question are not materially different from those of Mr. McKinley as far as that is concerned.

In 1896 a number of the brewers of Nebraska endorsed Mr. Bryan (New York voice.) Why desert the ship that can be saved, for one that cannot be saved, and thus lose both ships? Then, since prohibition cannot be carried now, let us not be carried now, let us not fool away our votes with it, but give every vote possible for the support of sound money, expansion and national prosperity, and save the country from Bryanism.

WILLIAM H. KARR.

WHO "WE" IS

They say we are prosperous. Who's "we"? There is no doubt that the republican administration is good for some, but who's "we"?—William Jennings Bryan in his Albany speech October 17, 1900.

"WE" is the 54,366 more persons employed on the railroads of the country than were employed two years ago; and the railroad men who are receiving the $77,450,635 annual increase in aggregate wages over the wages of two years ago.

"WE" is the 481,039 more persons in the nation who are depositing money in the savings banks.

"WE" is the Nebraska farmers who in 1898 released mortgages to the amount of $27,498,070 more than the total amount of the mortgages released in 1895.

"WE" is the farmers of the whole country whose home market has doubled, whose foreign market has increased over $260,000,000, and whose live stock has increased 33 1-3 per cent in value.

"WE" is the entire American people, whose judgment in 1896 rejected YOU and YOUR false prophecies and fallacious doctrines.

DEMOCRACY AND THE TRUSTS

The Democratic Party has never done a thing to control or regulate "trusts." It has never enacted one line of legislation for any such purpose. It has persistently opposed every effort at such legislation that has been made by the Republican Party.

The Republican Party has enacted the only legislation that was ever put upon the national statute books to control and regulate the power of "trusts."

It proposed a remedy—a constitutional amendment—which was voted down unanimously by the Democrats last June.

Democrats should paste this in their hats

SUMMARY OF ASSESSMENT ROLL

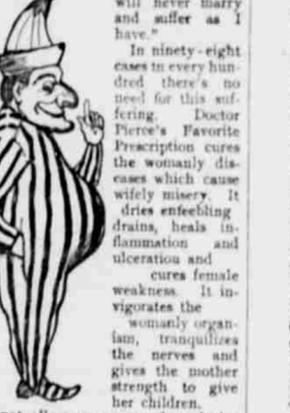

Of Clackamas County for the Year 1900, as Finally Equalized by the County Board of Equalization.

Table with 3 columns: Description, Number, Value. Lists various property types and their assessed values.

Included in this assessment is about 30,000 acres of railroad land not heretofore assessed, which assessment, with this included, is about $100,000 less than last year.

Don't Marry.

Almost everybody remembers the celebrated advice of the London Punch, "To those about to marry, Don't." There is in that advice the expression of the feeling of many a mother who says, "I hope my daughter will never marry and suffer as I have."

In ninety-eight cases in every hundred there's no need for this suffering. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause wifely misery. It dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It invigorates the womanly organism, tranquilizes the nerves and gives the mother strength to give her children.

Do not allow an unscrupulous dealer to sell you something in place of "Favorite Prescription," claimed to be "just as good." There is nothing just as good for women as "Favorite Prescription."

"I am so pleased with your instructions, I hardly know what thanks to give you for your kind favors," writes Mrs. Milo Bryant of Lota, St. Thomas Co., Ga. "You can publish my few statements to the world, hoping all suffering women will know and be healed. I suffered so much with great pains in my back and the lower part of my stomach and palpitation of the heart, that at times I could hardly lie down, and could hardly get up in the morning, but after using three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, I feel like a new woman."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure sick headache.

A Minister's Mistake.

A city minister was recently handed a notice to be read from his pulpit. Accompanying it was a clipping from a newspaper bearing upon the matter. The clergyman started to read the extract and found that it began: "Take Kemp's Balsam, the best Cough Cure."

This was hardly what he had expected and, after a moment's hesitation, he turned it over, and found on the other side the matter intended for the reading.
