John and Miss Dena Peters, of Wilsonville, spent Saturday and Sunday in the metropolis and attended the A. O. U. W. parade. Miss Louisa Bookman, is home, but expects to go to Portland for the winter soon. The popcorn social at N. McConnell's last week was quite a success and a good time enjoyed by all. Miss Nellie Murray is progressing very nicely with the Cornell Creek school. F. F. Seely has his potato crop in the dry, while Messrs. Tooze, Young and many others are caught in the rain. Maple Lane. MAPLE LANE, NOV. 4.—J. C. Dixon is at home again after a month's absence in Hood River. James Forbes is working in Oregon City. The new sawmill at this place has started up and is running every day. Miss Elsie Gibbs is teaching school near Clarks. W. O. Dickerson and nephew, Louis Feaster, of Canemah, returned home from the mountains Wednesday. Mrs. Bradford, of Portland, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Swallow. Mrs. Wm. Blood and daughter, left last week for Carlton, their future home. G. E. Hays gave a political talk at the school house Friday evening. Geo. Maulz returned home last week from Floriston, Cal. where he has been employed for the past three months. Miss Kate Preister is at home after a two month's stay at Stafford with her sister. Mr. and Mrs. A. Mautz leave this week for an extended visit with their daughter at Goldengale, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ralstad, of Molalla, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Davies, the latter part of the week. A most enjoyable time was had by the young people of this place on Halloween night, at Dickerson's hall, where they spent the evening dancing. The Misses Myrtle Cross and Lola Hawkins and Messrs. J. P. Fairclough and Malcolm, McDow of Oregon City.

attended the dance at this place Wednesday evening. Road Supervisor, Jos. Myers has been repairing the road in this vicinity the past week. Logan. LOGAN, NOV. 4.—There has been a very small acreage of wheat sown here this fall, on account of rain, but the sun is shining now and everybody is getting out their seeders. Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCubbin were in Oregon City Saturday on business. Prof. W. W. Austin is improving his farm with a new fence. George Swales and his brother, Eli, started for Clatskanie where they expect to work, driving logs. Their mother accompanied them on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Stubbs. Mr. Boss, of Portland, has purchased the Shumway farm and has moved on it. Hugh Gibbens has rented H. L. Patterson's farm and is busy plowing. Redland. REDLAND, NOV. 5.—The few good days we are having, are being made use of by the farmers in good shape, as all are anxious to get their grain in. Apple-drying is going on at a good rate. Potatoes are most all dug. The sportsmen are making the Mongolian race suffer, or rather the ammunition, as most of the birds fly off. Edgar Brock gave a barn-raising, which was well attended. L. H. Hickman's new house is ready to be occupied. Our worthy justice of the peace, Louis Fuak made a trip to Portland last week. L. Mosher also made a business trip to Portland. Chas. and Milt Hicinbothen spent Sunday at Viola. Oswald Behrmer, who is studying art in Portland, spent a few days at home last week. D. M. Mosher left Saturday for Stafford, where he will teach the Frog Pond school. We are so soundly republican that the republicans did not give us a talk and the pope knew it was no use for them to try. Earnest Lunn was in Oregon City Saturday evening to play for the republican rally with the Parkplace band at Shively's. The boys rendered good music. Sunnyside. SUNNYSIDE, NOV. 6.—Hon. Gordon E. Hayes addressed the citizens of Sunnyside on the political issues of the day, last Thursday evening, at the school house. A singing school has been organized here by Mr. Stephens; there are about 13 members. Mrs. Nellie Deardoff is lying quite ill at the home of her brother, Mr. Norris Davis. Halloween passed off very quietly, there being no mischief done. A small dance was given at the residence of Mr. James last Saturday evening. Miss Cretia Lemon and her brother, of Eagle Creek, were visiting here last week. Damascus. DAMASCUS, NOV. 7.—We are having beautiful weather at present, which we hope will continue until the farmers get their potatoes dug and fall grain sown. We hope the sun will continue to shine, as it is more cheerful for all. Miss Nettie Cook is visiting her parents. She will remain one week. A. Newell is having his residence finished. M. W. Gardner is doing the carpenter work. J. W. Hileary bought J. Deardoff's hay bailer, and is now bailing at Eagle Creek. Mrs. A. W. Cook and daughter went to Portland to attend to business last Monday. Miss Etta Farrer from Union is working for Mrs. M. W. Gardner. Mrs. George Deardoff has been very sick lately, but is gaining in health slowly with Dr. Hickman as physician. Miss Lavina Steel has gone back to Portland to resume her work this winter. J. Deardoff and family moved to Sunnyside on their own property some two weeks ago. H. Deardoff will farm the Dave Deardoff claim this coming year. J. N. Tong and wife were visiting at Mr. Pixley's Sunday last. Will Bookman, J. Hileary and Fritz Methias were duck hunting on the Columbia slough last Sunday. G. W. Feathers returned to Portland to resume his work for the mail service. We build the ladder from which we rise from the lowly earth to the vaulted skies. We mount the ladder step by step. Till we gain the position once desired. We wish George grand success. The wedding bells are ringing. Oswego. OSWEGO, NOV. 7.—There were voted in this precinct yesterday whose combined ages aggregate four hundred years: James Ingles, a lively youth of eighty-two, who cast his first presidential vote sixty years ago for W. H. Harrison; Aron Cisco and Oscar Eaton are each eighty years old and Russell DeLashmut

Crouching
In every cough there lurks, like a crouching tiger, the probabilities of consumption. The throat and lungs become rough and inflamed from coughing and the germs of consumption find an easy entrance. Take no chances with the dangerous foe. For 60 years there has been a perfect cure. What a record! Sixty years of cures.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
soothes and heals the wounded throat and lungs. You escape an attack of consumption with all its terrible suffering and uncertain results. There is nothing so bad for the throat and lungs as coughing. A 25c. bottle will cure an ordinary cough; harder coughs will need a 50c. size; the dollar bottle is cheapest in the long run. "One of my sons was splitting blood with a high fever and was very ill. We could hardly see any signs of life in him. The doctors did him no good. But one bottle of your Cherry Pectoral cured him and saved his life." C. G. ANDERSON, Nov. 19, 1898. Pukewas, S. Dak. Write the Doctor. If you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice, write the Doctor freely. Address: Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

Kills Without Hitting.
What is Lyddite? The high explosive thus called from the name of the small Kentish town and gunnery center where the experiments with it were made is nothing less than picric acid brought into a dense state by fusion. Picric acid is a bright yellow substance freely used in peaceful industries for dyeing purposes. It is obtained by the action of nitric acid on phenol or carbolic acid. It burns very violently, and, owing to the tremendous blast produced by the explosion, the destructive effect of a bursting shell filled with it is some 11 times greater than that of a shell filled with powder. All Lyddite shells are equipped with percussion nose fuses only, hence their explosion takes place on impact in the following fashion: The percussion fuse ignites a picric powder exploder, which in turn ignites the bursting charge of Lyddite, the detonation of the fuse and of the two explosives inside the shell being instantaneous. The picric powder exploder, we should add, is inserted in a recess left in the Lyddite for that purpose. Lyddite shell is to some extent less barbarous than shrapnel exploded by powder, for, through widespread, its death dealing effects are due more to air concussion than to the wounding effects of the flying fragments. In other words, in the case of a Lyddite shell bursting in a group of men, the greater number will be killed not by pieces of the shell, but by the blow of the suddenly compressed air.

One of Lamb's Verses.
A pretentious poet got his verses submitted to Charles Lamb by a friend just before the poet was to meet Lamb at dinner. Lamb found the verses to be feeble echoes of other poets, and when the author arrived he was seen to be as empty as his verses. This awakened Lamb's spirit of mischievous wagging. At dinner he said in the course of conversation: "That reminds me of some verses I wrote when I was young," and then he quoted a line or two which he recollected from the poet's book, to the latter's amazement and indignation. Lamb was diverted immensely, but kept perfectly serious and quoted more lines in connection with another remark, begging the company to remember how young he was when he composed them. The author again looked daggers at him. Lamb capped all by introducing the first lines of "Paradise Lost" ("Of man's first disobedience," etc.) as also written by himself, which brought the poet to his feet, bursting with rage. He said he had sat by and allowed his own "little verses" to be appropriated without protest, but when he saw Milton also being pilfered from he could sit silent no longer. Lamb revealed in telling this story.—Rev. David Macrae in "English Humor."

Influenza Caused by Ozone.
On one occasion the writer waited to the edge of Lake Michigan when a strong wind was blowing right from the lake. The bodily condition was as near perfect as could be, and yet in less than five minutes there was every evidence of having caught cold. The severe influenza continued until, on walking away, in less than 500 feet it disappeared as if by magic. It is very certain that the temperature had nothing to do with this, not the wind, but the influenza was directly due to the abundant ozone in the air. By inquiry it was learned that hundreds of residents who had lived upon the immediate edge of the lake had been obliged to move back three or four miles in order to relieve themselves from such experiences. Physicians readily admit that it is not always possible to say when one "catches" cold. It certainly cannot always be because of undue exposure or change in temperature, but probably also to changes in the electric condition of the air. Facts of this kind should lead to the extreme caution in studying any supposed relation between the weather and health.—Popular Science.

How He Got It.
"I," said the gruff old merchant to the young man who wanted to go away for a week, "have worked here for 22 years without a vacation."
"Yes, I know it. That's why I want to get away. But for the horrible example you present I might be willing to work on and on without a vacation."
"Let it suffice to say that he got his vacation."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Impressed.
"Isn't it awe inspiring," said the youth with tendencies toward the sublime, "to think of this earth rushing forward on its track, superior to all human direction and beyond all restraint?"
"Yes," answered the fair girl softly after a long pause. "It makes me think of my new automobile."—Wash.

It's Easy To Take
Thin, pale, anæmic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.
SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia.
SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.
We have known persons to gain a pound a day while taking it.
