Cock Shooting in Tall Corn,

Cock shooting in tall corn is as easy to the expert as it is puzzling to the TIME CARD EASTSIDE RAILWAY COMPANY lated only by taking 160 woodchoppers, the rows; not across them, and if you are wise you will shoot at every gilmpse of a bird and very frequently number of cords of wood in these torests after an instant's sight of him, when you can only guess where he is. Sharp work, say ye, my masters. Yes, in a measure, but not so wonderful after all. You certainly must be ever ready and swift and smooth in action, but actual sight of the bird at the instant of pulling trigger is not necessary.

Green corn won't stop even fine shot, and your charge will give a pattern as ing of a leaf, the flick of a vanishing wing, are enough for the master of the art. In an instant his gun is on the spot where a species of lightning calculation tells him the bird should be, novice is to get him to shoot at once instend of waiting in vain for a clear view. Experts kill bird after bird in this way. The novice must dismiss all thoughts of empty shells. No good sportsman worries over misses, fliough he will learn from failures how to hold next time. There is no royal road to success in the field. Nothing but experience really counts. So let the novice crack away, although he may only get one bird in ten. We all know what he'll get if he doesn't shoot at all .-

His Impressive Looks.

Trumbull's cradie was in Connectirut. He came of the old Jonathan Frumbull breed. As a young man be went south to teach school, but he liked it not and dipped into lawbooks, As soon as he was count to his examination he was called to the Georgia bar, but he never paused to practice there. He migrated to Illinois, then the utter west and settled at Belleville, St. Clair county, in that part of the state known as Egypt. There he at once took a leading place at the bar. He was always courtly, always carefully polite, what one might call a bit cold, yet he had great sway with the juries. He was a clear, cogent reasoner and had a trick of admonshing with his forefinger. Sometimes it would seem as if that potent forefinger wove a spell. I doubt not it has prought many a jury in its time to Frumbull's side of the question.

Such were the impressive looks of Trumbull that I recall what Governor Reynolds once said of him as he closed his argument in a law case. Trumbuli was on the other side.

"And now, gentlemen," said Reynolds as he prepared to close: "I've answered his arguments, I've overturned his statement of facts, I've undone the fallacious law he has announced to you; but, gentlemen, the man never lived who can reply to his looks!"-Chirago Tribune.
