A WHOLESALE BUNCO.

Pakers With a Gall That Would Make a Cas iron Monkey Blush.

A gang of piratical cruisers hit this city Tuesday morning and buncoed the people to a standstill.

The town was flooded with posters advertising a variety concert, with artists "Only One Daisy Left" and responded who stand with one toot pointing to 6 a, m. and the other foot pointing to high neon, clad in Nature's garb and a few extras. In conjunction with this, the great South African salesman was to dispose of hundreds of watches, rings and jewelry, and admission was as free as salvation.

Shiyely's hall was packed until there wasn't enough room to chew gum.

When the curtain rose, a man, a trunk and a table were the only objects visible on the stage. The man had a bald head, a hide like a rhinoceros and no conscience at all; the trunk contained a lot of "cheap John" jewelry, and upon the table was a box suitable for depositing the filthy lucre that was soon to flow in like grain into a Chicago elevator.

The faker started the ball to rolling like a three-ring circus, while one of his assistants beat rag-time music on the piano until his fingers were bloodshot. Oh, it was a cold blooded skin game.

The man who gulls the people like this "knight of the smooth tongues" did has to be no fool. He made a "good fellow" of himself by selling various articles and returning the price paid with the article to the purchaser. He kept this up until he had distributed about twenty or thirty of these 11-cent-counter articles in the crowd and refunded the money paid for them. He was as sleek as a It is one that all artists aspire to play handled his audience like the Pied Piper. If this man's gall had burst at this stage of the game, it would have drowned him, us who is prepared to render such comfor he boldly asked "Wno will give me five dollars for nothing?" A dozen hands shot up from all parts af the house and his flunkies scampered like a parcel of rats through the audience, bearing the gold "V's" to the skinner like a steamer from Dawson. Still they rolled in until be collec e i about 25 half eagles, stipulating in each case that he wanted their money for nothing. Then, under the same conditions, he secured all the two and one-dollar sams he could, until in Only 25 cents. Sold by Geo. A. Harding. the aggregate he had about $250. He again asked each person individually what they gave him their money for, and each one replied "For nothing." He then stated that he was going to be better than they had trusted him to bethat they had given him their money for nothing and he was going to make them all a present. Evary person who had added to his coffers was made the recipient of some article of jewelry composed of metal like is used in boilers, brass kettles, etc. He was no respecter of persons, and men, women and children patronized this gewgaw diamond king alike.

After telling the audience that the performance had concluded, he bid them one and ail good night.

The ire within those who had parted company with their money had been fermenting all this time, and now it had reached the boiling point. Several young wram water to soften it, then pare it fellows made a rush to the stage for the skinner, who whipped out a gun and told them to keep their distance. The Balm twice daily; rubbing vigorously for doors and windows were guarded and his escape was made impossible.

There were any number ready to swear to a complaint, but what charge to prefer was what perplexed them. Several outsiders suggested that he be arrested for "fishing out of season."

Finally the officers closed in on the swindlers, and amid the threats of an angry populace succeeded in landing them in jail. About half the legal fraternity of the city were summoned, and all of them advised the fakers to refund the money. Quite a number of claims were placed in the hands of G. B Dimcick., who succeeded in collecting them. The confidence men remitted about $80, Next morning they were released, and they soon swapped time for distance towards other lands where the people are "easy." They gave their names as R. Burnet, R. P. Whittaker, J. Craneyiew and A. Shank.

LADIES' MATINEE.

Saturday was a gala day for the ladies of Oregon City who were fortunate A. Harding. enough to attend the matinee given by the Daughters of the King, for the benefit of St. Paul's Episcopal church, when "The Best Laid Plans" was played for the first time in this city. Long before the appointed time the seating capacity of Shively's opera-house expired term of G. W. Grace, resigned. was over toxed.

The first on the program was a guitar ary 1, 1901. duett by Miss Vera Caufield as Signor Snevellicei, and Miss Clara Warner as Don Giovanni Saracinesca, which was rendered in a very artistic style and they were given a hearty applicase and responded to an encore.

Mrs. R. A. Miller rendered the Court Scene from the "Merchant of Venice" in a very able manner and was given bearty applicase. Oregon City is proud to claim Mrs. Miller as their own and she is always a pleasing feature on a program. Following this the curtain rose upon DAVIS, GANTENBEIN & VEAZIE, the drawing-room scene in "Best Laid Plane." Mrs. J. P. Kesting, as Mrs.

Helen Wycherly, Miss Hattie Bray as Rose Newcomb, Miss Ethel Canfield as Stephen Harold, Miss Clara Warner as Record, Baltimore, Md." Dannis Grant, Miss Mary Conyers as George Harold, all surpassed the expectalions of their friends. The young ladies/looked especially pretty in their beantiful gowns. Miss Conyers sang to an encore.

Mrs. Theo. Clark, who is always a general favorite, appeared in the second West D. Walter, defendant, act as Lord Farrol. Her conception of the role left nothing to be desired. In ant: her song, "In Old I ondon" brought her unbonded applause.

The afternoon's pleasure was the outcome of a plan suggested and carried out by Mrs. J. P. Keating, and a great deal of credit is due to her able management, also to all those who so kindly Miss Veda Williams presided at the piano and played several selections which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Derthick Club.

Monday evening a carefully prepared including December 14, 1900. programme from Schumann was given by the Derthick club at the home of Mrs. Chas. Caufield.

"Characterization of Schumann," Mrs.

"End of the Song," Mrs. L. L. Porter. "Slumber Song" Mrs. E. E. Williams, "Hat of Green" Mesdames Presser, Williams, Porter, Miller, Caufield, Hays, "Traumerei," violin, Mr. Carl Denton "Carnival" op. 9 Mr. Denton.

The last number was greatly enjoyed by member and visitors. The Carnival is one of the master pieces for the piano, greased pole on the 4th of July, and soon It requires great technical ability and taxes the physical endurance. Our club is to be congratulated that one is with positions with artistic skill.

A Weber programme is being studied.
