MEAT FOR RUSSIA

The Czar's Soldiers Will Eat American Meats.

A BIG CONTRACT FINALLY CLOSED

American Meats, Packed by a New Process, Will be Shipped to Russia. Opening of a New Market.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The Tribune says: Signatures were affixed in this city yesterday to a great international contract and a Chicago packing firm will supply the Russian government this year with 1500 barrels of a specially prepared meat to feed the soldiers of the czar's army.

The terms of the contract will exceed $100,000. The vast field for supplies in Russia and Siberia has been opened to Americans only lately, and it is believed that the contract completed yesterday is merely the predecessor of others which will amount to millions of dollars and result in the introduction and consumption of American packed meats in every part of the vast Northern Empire.

A new process of packing and pickling meats was an important factor in the awarding of the contract. By this process it is said that the problem of transporting the packed meat any distance and through any climate without affecting the quality of the supplies has been solved.

LOED ROBERTS AT HOME

British Field Marshal Receives a Great Ovation.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Jan. 2.—The steamer Canada, having Field Marshal Lord Roberts on board, anchored off Osborne at 11:45 a. m. today. The ships in the roads were gaily decorated, the sea front was elaborately decorated with bunting and Venetian masts with festoons adorned the route to Osborne house at the entrance of which was erected a unique tribute to the Queen's appreciation of the field marshal's work, in the shape of an arch of laurel. This was the first time such an arch had ever appeared there in honor of any subject of Her Majesty.

After Lord Roberts' audience with the Queen, he will join the Canada at Southampton and remain on board until morning.

A large crowd of people awaited Lord Roberts' arrival at Trinity pier landing. The field marshal landed from the launch at 3:30 p. m., which was the signal for deafening shouts of welcome. Princess Beatrice, in the capacity of Governor of the Isle of Wight, and the Duke of Connaught, representing the Queen, awaited Lord Roberts, whose arm was still in a sling as the result of being thrown from his horse in South Africa. He was warmly greeted, and the party started in royal carriages for Osborne house. The route was lined with troops and thronged with cheering sightseers.

The Queen bestowed an Earldom on Lord Roberts, with a special reminder for his daughters. He was also made a Knight of the Garter.

Another Crowe Arrested.

OMAHA, Jan. 1.—J. J. Crowe, a brother of Pat Crowe, who the police believe to be a principal in the abduction, was taken into custody in Council Bluffs this afternoon by Omaha detectives and brought to this city. The warrant charges Crowe with the abduction of young Cudahy on December 18. Crowe consented to accompany the officers across the river without the formality of requisition papers.

Ignatius Donnelly Dead.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 2.—Ignatius Donnelly, the politician and author, died at 12:03 o'clock this morning, aged 70 years. He was taken suddenly ill last night while visiting at the home of his father-in-law, Barton Hanson, and soon became unconscious. A physician was summoned, who said that the attack was due to heart failure, and that there was little chance of the patient's recovery. Mr. Donnelly passed away surrounded by a number of his relatives, a sorrowful little group that watched by the bedside.

At the last general election Mr. Donnelly was candidate for vice-president on the middle-of-the-road populist ticket. He was active during the campaign, and spoke in Minneapolis and other cities of the state a number of times. Mr. Donnelly married about three years ago Miss Hanson, a daughter of Barton Hanson, of this city, and since then they made their home in Minneapolis, although Mr. Donnelly owned several farms, where they spent considerable time.

SEATTLE LIBRARY BURNED.

Stock of 25,000 Books, Worth $30,000, a Total Loss.

SEATTLE, Jan. 1.—The Public Library of Seattle was burned to the ground tonight. The fire originated in the northeast corner of the basement, probably from the furnaces. The entire stock of books, numbering 25,000 and valued at least $30,000, are a total loss. The firemen responded quickly to the alarm, but after half an hour's work, were entirely unable to cope with the blaze. The fire broke out in several places at once, and they could do nothing with it.

The building was built about 10 years ago by Henry L. Yeiser, Seattle's most famous pioneer, and cost him nearly $50,000.

From opinions gleaned from city officials, it is likely that a new building will be built at once. The house was occupied by Mr. Yeiser for three years before his death, and was then one of the most handsome residences in Seattle.

Colvig, of Jacksonville, to compose the Oregon textbook commission. The announcement has been awaited with intense interest here, and apparently by the entire state. The appointments were much as has been expected by those who have closely followed the discussion concerning the commission, though the men appointed have not been often mentioned by the press in that connection.

Man and Beast.

Nothing can be so terrible to an animal as a human being. There are times when the brute seems to recognize instinctively that man belongs to a higher order of creation and is stricken with a feeling akin to awe in his presence.

In a small African village, some years ago, there was a scare about some leopards which were said to have killed a number of goats. Accordingly two white men, accompanied by several natives, set off to hunt them. Presently they found a place in the long grass where it was evident that one of the brutes had recently lain, for the ground was still warm.

The natives formed a ring round it, and the hunters got their guns ready. After a little while the leopard emerged from the long grass and was fired at and wounded, but not fatally. With a great bound he sprang on one of the white men and brought him to the ground. Holding his victim, he turned and growled savagely at the others.

The natives gave a wild yell of fear, and then like a shot the leopard sprang away. He had not been frightened by the guns, but the yell terrified him—Youth's Companion.

New Year's Eve Party.

Mayor and Mrs. C. D. Latourette entertained a large party of Oregon City's young society people at their home in this city, on New Year's eve, in honor of their son, Morton Latourette. There were about seventy-four people present. Progressive whist, with fourteen tables, was the distinctive feature of the evening.

The whist game was spiritedly contested. The first prize for best lady player was won by Miss Ina Chase. It was a beautiful leather lognette bag. Prize for best gentlemen player, a handsome, hand painted picture, was awarded to Mr. Carl Church.

The house was beautifully decorated. The seasonable and suggestively symbolic Mistletoe, predominated in the decorations. Clusters of it were suspended in convenient places, and when a sweet young maiden, by accident or design, stood beneath one of the dark-green clusters, some gallant knight was sure to avail himself of the old time privilege of the season.

An elegant supper was served. The refreshments were such as would grace a Utopian banquet and prove the realization of an epicure's dream.

Following is a list of the guests of the evening:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pope, Mrs. R. O. Scott, Mrs. J. S. Heller, of Portland, Misses Sale and Ina Chase, Mattie Draper, Miss Lewthwaite, Alice Lewthwaite, Bess Fouts, Hattie Verastig, Imogen Harding, May Wishart, Nettie Walden, Hazel Pillsbury, Laura Pope, Aimee Bollack, May McBride, May Mark, Lizzie Walker, Marjorie and Ethel Caulfield, Elma Albright, Mariah Pratt, Myrtle Buchanan, Nan Cochran, Amy Kelly, Clara Warner, Vera Caulfield, Veda Williams, Miss Spangler, of Corvallis; Messrs.
